ROYAL NATIONAL COMMERCIAL DIRECTORY
 OF IRELAND,
 WITH
 CLASSIFIED TRADES DIRECTORIES
 OF THE IMPORTANT CITIES OF
LIVERPOOL AND GLASGOW,
 AND A LARGE MAP OF IRELAND, SPECIALLY PREPARED.

PRICE 40s.

IN general arrangement the book comprises the important Cities of BELFAST, CORK and DUBLIN, and every Parish is arranged in Alphabetical Order under each Province, with particulars of much useful statistical information; the names of Residents comprise Gentry and Clergy, Professional men, Tradesmen, and principal Farmers. In addition there is a complete Trade List, likewise a copious Index to all the places throughout Ireland.

From The Irish Times, November 23rd, 1894.—“This bulky volume is not to be estimated by pages, its weight being rolls, and in extent it is one of the most marvellous productions of its kind of the year. It is called ‘The Royal National Directory of Ireland,’ and is accompanied with a new map of the country, artistically executed and specially prepared. . . . Belfast is also largely attended to, and a copious list of traders in every part of Ireland is given. Glasgow and Liverpool have places in the huge book, and a specially valuable banking directory will be found of the greatest possible service in mercantile and commercial concerns. The labour bestowed on its production must have been immense, and no business house can afford to do without it. A strong recommendatory feature of the work is the ease with which any information required can be found. A list of the seats of the nobility and principal gentry is included, and this will be found useful to many.”
