RUNCORN

RUNCORN is a market and union town, a seaport, head of a county court district and petty sessional division, and a large civil parish, in the Northwich division of the county, hundred of Bucklow, rural deanery of Frodsham and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester, with a station on the London and North Western railway, and is 15 miles east-south-east from Liverpool, 9 west-south-west from Warrington, 4½ north from Frodsham and 15 north-east from Chester and 180½ from London, on the south side of the river Mersey and at the western terminus of the Bridgewater and Trent and Mersey canals. The bridge of the London and North Western railway, which here crosses the Mersey, opened 10 October, 1868, and known as "Tueller's Girder," is a structure of wrought iron 1,500 feet long, and 75 feet in height above high water mark, and is supported in mid-stream by two stone piers, 80 feet in depth by 30 feet wide and 300 feet apart, thus forming three openings of 300 feet each, exclusive of the piers and abutments: the bridge has two lines of railway and one footway for passengers, and affords direct communication with Liverpool, Manchester, the manufacturing districts and London. The origin of this place is unknown: it has been called "Runcofan" (A. S. cofa, a cove, the wide cove or inlet), "Rumcoven" and "Ronchestorn." The town was founded by Ethelfleda, daughter of Alfred the Great, and, to defend it from invasion by the Danes, she built a castle and forts: the rock on which this castle was supposed to have been built, called "Castle Rock," was in part removed in 1800 and further when the bridge over the Mersey was built, and it was finally removed in 1891 for the construction of the Manchester Ship canal. The river Mersey is contracted by the out-swelling of both shores, to a width at high water of about 400 yards, and this comparatively narrow passage is known as "Runcorn Gap," the Ship canal now following the course of its southern shore.

Under the provisions of the "Local Government Act, 1894" (56 and 57 Vict. c. 73), the town is governed by an Urban District Council of 18 members, in place of the former Board of Improvement Commissioners. The Urban District is divided into six wards.

The town is lighted with gas by a company from works in Halton road, and supplied with excellent water from works at the Heath, which also supply Halton and Weston. The works belong to the Urban District Council, who purchased them from the company in 1893 for £75,000.

The Duke of Bridgewater's canal, completed and opened in 1773, under the direction of the famous engineer, James Brindley, and now the property of the Manchester Ship Canal Co. has been the chief cause of the rise and increasing prosperity of Runcorn; the canal, which is much above the level of the Mersey, is connected with it, through the Manchester Ship Canal, by a succession of locks.

The Manchester Ship canal approaches Runcorn from the east through the bed of the old Runcorn and Latchford Canal, and, proceeding westward, follows closely the bend of the Cheshire shore to Eastham Locks. The canal, for a short distance near the town, passes through the deepest cutting on the whole route, the depth being 66 feet; but from Runcorn bridge to the Weaver sluices the canal is wholly in the bed of the Mersey, and separated from the river by a massive concrete wall. There are extensive docks here in connection with the Bridgewater Canal, of which Fenton dock was opened in 1875 and Arnold dock in 1876. Opposite the Bridgewater dock a lock has been constructed in the river wall of the Ship Canal to enable vessels to enter or leave the canal by the Mersey at any state of the tide: a similar lock has also been made near the old quay for the use of craft from Widnes, and a third opposite Weston Point for the Weaver trade; the business of the Old Quay Navigation Co. here has also been taken over by the Ship Canal Co.

The Port of Runcorn, now a sub-port of the Port of Manchester, was declared an independent bonding port 5 April, 1847, the limits defined by a Treasury warrant under the Customs' Act, 1846 (9 and 10 Vict. c. 102), but this order was annulled 16 April, 1850, and the limits of the port defined to extend from Ince ferry on the Cheshire side and from a point on the opposite side to Bank quay, Warrington. The Port of Runcorn is about 15 miles higher up the river than Liverpool, has extensive warehouse and shed accommodation, and the most approved appliances are provided for the discharge and reloading of vessels. There is a large traffic in potters' materials, such as china clay, flints, china stones, bone ash &c. as well as a miscellaneous traffic in pig iron, slates, ochre and umber. The exports are mainly coal, salt and pitch. The port is well situated for the transit of traffic, being connected by canal and railway with Lancashire, Yorkshire, Cheshire, Derbyshire and the Staffordshire Potteries, Birmingham, Wolverhampton and the principal towns in the north and centre of England. Vessels laden with cargoes for the docks, book at the Manchester Ship Canal Co.'s office, Duke's dock, on arrival at Liverpool, and are towed up to Runcorn by the Company's steamers free of charge. The port charges are very favourable to the owners of vessels.

The depth of water in the Mersey at Runcorn is about 3 feet 6 inches less than that given in Holden's Tide Table for Liverpool, and vessels lie afloat whilst discharging and reloading.

Runcorn Lay Bye.—This lay bye, within the Port of Manchester, abuts on the Manchester Ship Canal at Runcorn immediately below Runcorn docks; it is 1,500 feet in length, with an average depth of 26 feet of water alongside, and is equipped with coal tip, movable cranes and other appliances for loading and discharging cargo. Sailing vessels whose lower masts, after striking top masts, are too high to enable them to pass under the fixed bridges, are berthed at this lay bye, and their cargoes are discharged overside and lightered to Manchester without extra cost to the importer beyond the canal toll.

The number of British and foreign sailing and steam vessels that entered in the port with cargoes and in ballast in 1909 was 150 of 64,743 tons, and the number cleared was 36 of 21,185 tonnage.

In the general coasting trade in the same year 1,866 sailing and steam vessels entered with cargoes of 150,936 tons, 565 of 67,720 tonnage in ballast, and 1,163 cleared with cargoes of 110,387 tons and 1,232 of 139,572 tonnage in ballast. In the intercourse between Great Britain and Ireland 200 vessels of 22,776 tons entered, and 360 of 33,825 tonnage cleared.

The number of sailing and steam vessels registered as belonging to the port on December 31st, 1909, under Part I. of the "Merchant Shipping Act, 1894," was 92 of 5,479 tons.

At the same date, 18 fishing vessels, requiring 36 men and boys to work them, were registered as belonging to the port. Fishing boats and their implements are distinguished by the letters R. N.

A Transporter Bridge has been erected between Runcorn and Widnes by the Runcorn Bridge Company, and was opened by Sir John T. Brunner bart. M.P. (the chairman of the company) on May 29th, 1905. The bridge has a span of 1,000 feet, and is of the ordinary suspension type. The girders are suspended from four steel towers, two on each side of the river: the towers rise to a height of 190 feet above high water level and are firmly bolted to cast iron cylinders, bolted to the solid rock, which is near the surface on the Widnes side, but is 35 feet below the Ship canal level on the Runcorn side. A frame on rollers runs on lines of rails, fixed on the lower flanges of the stiffening girders, and from this frame is suspended a transporter car, 55 feet long by 24 feet wide, moved by electric power; the car conveys passengers and wheel traffic of every description. There are three such bridges in the world, one over the Seine at Rouen, another across the River Nervion at Portugalité, and the third at Bizerta in Algiers. This bridge brings both Widnes and Liverpool into direct communication by road with Runcorn instead of going round by Warrington, a saving in distance between Runcorn and Widnes of 17½ miles. The bridge has been erected at a cost of £130,000, of which £100,000 has been raised in shares. The towns of Runcorn and Widnes have by special provision in the act subscribed the sums of £10,000 and £25,000 respectively.

The parish church of All Saints, erected in 1849 on the site of the ancient church existing here in the 10th century, is a building of stone in the Early English style, consisting of chancel with aisles, clerestoried nave of five bays, aisles, south and west porches and a tower on the south-west with octagonal spire and containing 8 bells: three lancet windows in the chancel are filled with stained glass, the gift of Sir Richard Brooke bart. of Norton Priory: the reredos, of alabaster, was erected in 1888 by Miss Edith Barclay in memory of her father, the Rev. John Barclay M.A. vicar here, 1845-87: and the altar rails of alabaster were given in 1900 by the same lady: the communion plate is ancient and has been given from time to time by members of the Brooke family: there are 956 sittings. The register dates from 1558. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £466, including 30 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of Christ Church, Oxford, and held since 1887 by the Ven. Alfred Maitland Wood M.A. of Trinity College, Cambridge, archdeacon of Macclesfield, surrogate and examining chaplain to the Bishop of Chester.

The church of St. Michael and All Angels, in Greenway road, erected in 1884-5 as a chapel of ease to the parish church, is a building of red sandstone, in mixed styles, and originally consisted of nave and aisles, and a turret containing one bell; a chancel was added in 1892, and there are 500 sittings.

Holy Trinity is an ecclesiastical parish formed in 1840 from Runcorn All Saints. The church, erected in 1838, is a building of stone in the Lancet style, consisting of chancel, nave, west porch, and an embattled western tower, with pinnacles, containing one bell: the stained east window was given by Sir Richard and Lady Brooke, of Norton Priory, and there is also a memorial window, placed in 1890, to William Wright and John his son: in 1888 the chancel was lengthened and fitted with choir stalls, and the organ renovated: the church affords 500 sittings, of which 250 are free: in 1887 the churchyard was purchased, cleared of rubbish, planted with shrubs and inclosed by a wall and railings. The register dates from the year 1838. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £235, with 40 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of trustees, and held since 1897 by the Rev. Charles Richard Killick M.A. St. John's College, Cambridge, and surrogate.

The Mariners' church, Irwell lane, erected by the Countess of Ellesmere, is in connection with Holy Trinity church.

The Seamen's and Boatmen's Institute, Station road, carried on in connection with the Mersey Mission to Seamen, includes a chapel and recreation rooms, and was dedicated by the Bishop of Chester, 10 Dec. 1891: the vicar of Runcorn is hon. chaplain, and Mr. William Shaw, licensed lay missionary; the chapel will seat 250; the recreation room is open from 9.30 a.m. to 9.30 p.m. daily.

The Church House, Church street, in connection with the parish church, was opened Sept. 28th, 1901.

The Catholic church, dedicated to St. Edward, in Irwell lane, and built in 1888, is an iron structure, and will seat 700.

Bethesda Congregational chapel, High street, erected in the year 1835 by John Tomkinson esq. of Liverpool, is a building of stone in the Gothic style; the interior was destroyed by fire in Sept. 1891, and restored in 1892: the church affords 750 sittings.

St. Luke's (Congregational) Mission chapel and school, Mason street, was built in 1830, and seats 200 persons.

St. Paul's Wesleyan Methodist chapel, in High street, erected in 1865-6, at a cost of £9,600, defrayed by Thomas Hazlehurst esq. on land given by Charles and Thomas Hazlehurst, is a structure of brick with freestone frontage in the Classic style; the chapel will seat 1,482 persons; there is a morning chapel seating 200 and a minister's vestry.

The Wesleyan Methodist chapel in Halton road, a brick structure with stone front, was built in 1871 at the expense of Thomas Hazlehurst esq.; it was altered in 1901, the entire cost being £9,030; it will seat 720 persons; there is also a schoolroom, with twelve class rooms and morning chapel.

The Camden Wesleyan Methodist chapel, in the Lowland road, was built in 1862, and enlarged in 1875, the total cost being £4,000; there are 19 class rooms; the chapel affords 600 sittings.

There is also a Primitive Methodist chapel in Greenway road, a United Methodist chapel in Ellesmere street, a Welsh Calvinistic chapel in Rutland street, built in 1850, and seating 150 persons; a Gospel Mission hall in Ashridge street, built in 1888; and Salvation Army barracks in High street.

The cemetery, in Greenway road, comprising an area of nearly 13 acres, was formed June 19th, 1857, and is under the control of the Urban District Council acting as a Burial Board; there are two chapels and a mortuary.

The Town Hall, in Waterloo road, is a structure of brick, containing offices for the Urban District Council, Education Committee, and overseers.

The Brunner Guildhall, originally built in 1818 as a Presbyterian chapel, was enlarged in 1894, and is used for club meetings, &c.

The Public Hall, in Church street, erected by a limited company, is used for public assemblies, entertainments &c.

The Foresters' Hall, in Bridgewater street, erected in 1836, occupies the upper floor of a building, the lower stage of which consists of shops; the large hall, used for public meetings &c. will hold 550 persons.

The Market Hall in Bridge street, erected in 1856, is an edifice of brick, with stone facings. Market day, Saturday.

The Fire Brigade Station is at Delph bridge, but the keys are kept at the Police Station, Bridge street.

The Custom House is near the docks.

The County Police Station, in Bridge street, built in 1831, and enlarged in 1898 by the County Council, is a plain edifice of red sandstone, and comprises a large room for the petty sessions and magistrates' and public business; a spacious court room and a magistrates' retiring room, and six cells; the superintendent of police for the Runcorn division resides on the premises, and has offices here.

The Technical Institute, in Waterloo road, was erected by subscription in 1894, and is used for educational purposes.

The Free Public Library, in Egerton street, established under the provisions of the Public Libraries Act, was opened 6 July, 1882; there were in 1910, 14,700 volumes. New and enlarged library premises were erected in 1906 at a cost of £3,000, which sum was provided by Andrew Carnegie esq. of Skibo Castle, N.B. The library is managed by a committee.

The soap and alkali trades, tanning and iron founding are largely carried on, and there are also quarries of red and grey sandstone

Two pleasure fairs are held annually, on Whit Monday and on the 1st Monday in November.

The Infectious Diseases Hospital is in Weston road.

The charities for distribution are the Liptroll charity, of £68 yearly value, and a yearly sum of about £10 from the Alcock and Rigby charities.

The area of the civil parish and Urban District is 1,166 acres of land, 109 of inland and 76 of tidal water and 366 foreshore; rateable value, £58,493; the population in 1901 was 16,317; including 211 on British and Foreign and Colonial sea-going vessels and inland barges.

The population of the Urban District wards in 1901 was—Bridgewater, 3,261; Central, 3,440; Halton, 1,989; Heath, 2,309; Mersey, 2,738; Newtown, 2,754. The population of the ecclesiastical parishes in 1901 was —All Saints (parish church), 13,879, and Holy Trinity, 4,444.

By Local Government Board Order No. 15,915 (March 24, 1884) and the Divided Parishes Act (1882), a part of Halton township was transferred to Runcorn, and a part of Runcorn added to Halton.

Apparitor, Mrs. Sarah A. Owen, 2 Bridgewater street.

SALE is a populous parish on the river Mersey and the high road from Altrincham to Manchester; it has a station on the Manchester South Junction and Altrincham railway, and is 5½ miles south from Manchester, 12½ east from Warrington, 30½ north-east from Chester, 3 north-by-east from Altrincham and 194 from London, in the Altrincham division of the county, Bucklow hundred and union, Altrincham petty sessional division and county court district, rural deanery of Bowdon, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester; the Bridgewater Canal, now the property of the Manchester Ship Canal Co. runs through the parish.

"The Local Government Act, 1858" (21 and 22 Vict. c. 98), was adopted by the parish Jan. 1, 1867, but under the provisions of the "Local Government Act, 1894" (56 and 57 Vict. c. 73), the township is now governed by an Urban District Council of 15 members. The streets are well paved and are lighted with gas by a company from works at Stretford, and the place is supplied with water from the works of the North Cheshire Waterworks Co. A scheme for the purification of the Sale sewage was carried out in 1892 on the banks of the Mersey, about one mile north of the town, where the sewage, amounting to 750,000 gallons per day (dry weather flow) is purified by chemical preparations, the purified effluent passing into the Mersey; the sludge is sold to farmers; the works, constructed from plans by A. G. McBeath, of Sale, have cost £18,000.

The ecclesiastical parish was formed in 1856 from Ashton-upon-Mersey civil parish.

St. Anne's church, erected on a site given by the late Samuel Brooks esq. of Manchester, opened 14 July, 1854, and enlarged in 1859, 1864 and 1887, is a building of stone in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, nave of four bays, aisles, north and west porches and a north-western embattled tower, with pinnacles and octagonal spire, containing one bell: the reredos and communion table were the gift of John Kendall esq. to the memory of his wife: there are sittings for 900 people. The register dates from the year 1856. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £405, with residence, in the gift of trustees, and held since 1884 by the Rev. John Patchett Cort M.A. of St. John's College, Cambridge, and surrogate.

St. Paul's is an ecclesiastical district formed in 1884 out of the parish of St. Anne, and embraces that portion of the township lying west of the canal. The church, erected in 1884 at a cost of about £6,000, raised by public subscription, is a building of stone in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave, aisles and a small southern turret containing one bell: there are 778 sittings. The register dates from the year 1884. The living is a perpetual curacy, net yearly value £348, with residence, in the gift of five trustees, and held since 1903 by the Rev. Reginald Walter Tatton Petch M.A. of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge. There is a Mission room in Hyde grove in connection with St. Paul's church. St. Joseph's Catholic church, in Hope road, erected in 1885 at a cost of £2,700, is an edifice of red brick in the French Gothic style, and will seat 450 persons. The Baptist Union chapel, Ashton lane, was built in 1875, and will seat 350 persons. The Congregational chapel, in Montague road, erected in 1852 at a cost of about £2,200, affords 900 sittings. The Presbyterian Church of England, in Northenden road, erected in 1874 at a cost of £9,000, is of stone, and seats 600 persons; there is a detached house for the minister. The Wesleyan chapel, Northenden road, erected in 1875 at a cost of £8,000, will seat 600. The Wesley chapel, School road, built in 1887 at a cost of £10,000, has 850 sittings. The Wesleyan Mission hall, in Egerton street, and attached to the Wesley chapel, was erected in 1890 and is of brick, with sittings for 250. The Primitive Methodist chapel, in Northenden road, was built in 1873 and seats 300. The Unitarian chapel, in Chapel road, is now used only as a Sunday school; the nearest Unitarian chapel is at Ashton. The cemetery, in Marsland road, consisting originally of about 6 acres, but augmented to about 12 acres in 1877, and further extended in 1896, was originally opened in 1862, and contains a small church and a Nonconformist chapel; it is controlled by a committee of the Urban District Council. Sale Public Free Library, in Tatton road, erected in 1891 at a cost of £1,800, raised by public subscription, is a building in the Old Cheshire half-timbered style, and consists of reading room, lending department, lecture room and librarian's room; the library comprises about 10,000 volumes. Adjoining the library is the Technical school, erected at a cost of £1,600, and opened in March, 1897; an addition to this building, made at a cost of £900, was completed in 1903. The Police Station and Petty Sessions Court, Tatton road, erected in 1881, is a structure of brick. A market for butter, eggs, vegetables &c. is held on Thursdays and Saturdays at the Market Hall, School road. Sale Central Conservative Club, Eliza street, opened in 1890, is a neat, well-arranged edifice of brick, and has a membership of about 180. The Liberal Club, in School road, erected in 1890, is an edifice of red brick, consisting of lecture, billiard, smoking and reading rooms. There is also a Working Men's Social Club in Chapel road, and a Savings Bank. The Brooklands hotel, facing Brooklands station, commands extensive views of the surrounding country, and is a well-appointed house. The Sale and Ashton-upon-Mersey Provident Society, formed in order to help the poor in the neighbourhood, meets every Friday at the Sale Institute, at 7.30 p.m. Dr. Joule, the famous Manchester physicist, who discovered the mechanical equivalent of heat, spent the last years of his life at Sale: this circumstance has been recognised by the erection of a Joule memorial in the Sale park and recreation ground: the memorial is a bust (executed by Mr. John Cassidy, of Manchester), placed upon a high pedestal in the centre of the park: the pedestal bears the name "Joule" and the dates "1818-1889;" the cost of the work has been met by public subscription. The Priory, Dane road, now the residence of A. H. Megson esq. a portion of which presents an ancient appearance, underwent alterations in 1850, but it does not appear from Ormerod that any monastic house ever stood here. Sale Old Hall, anciently the seat of the Masseys, and now the residence of Sir William Henry Bailey J.P. belonged in 1817 to the Moores, from whom it was purchased by the late James Worthington esq. J.P. (d, 1887). Sale Lodge, the residence of W. H. Fowler esq. is a plain mansion of stone. There are also a number of handsome villa residences in the neighbourhood, chiefly occupied by Manchester merchants. The principal landowners are the trustees of the late Samuel Brooks esq. of Manchester (who in 1829 purchased 515 acres, or about one-fourth of the township, from the Earl of Stamford and others), Major Robert Clayton Browne-Clayton, of Browne's Hill, Carlow, Henry Hugo Worthington esq. J.P. of Wycombe Court, High Wycombe, and the trustees of the late Edward Walter Joynson esq. J.P. The soil is of a rich sand and peat, very productive, and market gardening is carried on to a great extent. The area of the civil parish and Urban District is 1,986 acres of land and 20 of water; rateable value in 1910, £93,944; population estimated in 1909 to be 15,818. The population in 1901 was 12,088, including 110 in Manchester Branch Industrial school for girls; the population of St. Anne ecclesiastical parish in 1901 was 7,051, and of St. Paul, 4,347.

The population of the Urban District wards in 1901 was, Central, 2,460; East, 1,361; North, 2,439; South, 3,029; West, 2,799.

BROOKLANDS is a district in the township of Sale, but a small portion is in the ecclesiastical parish of St. John the Divine, Baguley, and is a populous suburb of Manchester, from which it is 6 miles south, with a station on the London and North Western railway. The place is lighted with gas from works at Stretford, Manchester.

Cross Street is a hamlet on the Manchester road, and divides Sale from Ashton-on-Mersey.

New Chester forms part of Washway road.

Parish Clerk, John Warrington.

SALTERSFORD and KETTLESHULME form a district chapelry, comprising Saltersford ancient chapelry and Kettleshulme township, which was formed Nov. 4, 1864.

SALTERSFORD (or Jenkin Chapel) is a hamlet, 5½ miles north-east from Macclesfield stations on the London and North Western and North Staffordshire Joint and Great Central railways, and is in Rainow township, parish of Prestbury, Knutsford division of the county, petty sessional division of Prestbury, hundred and union of Macclesfield, county court district of Chapel-en-le-Frith (Derbyshire), in the rural deanery and archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The chapel of St. John the Baptist, erected in 1733, is a small and plain building of stone, consisting of chancel and nave and small western turret, containing one bell: there are 100 sittings. The register dates from the year . The living is a vicarage, with Kettleshulme annexed, net yearly value £120, with residence, in the gift of the vicar of Prestbury, and is at present (1910) vacant. This place gives the title of baron to the Stopford family, earls of Courtown. The Earl of Courtown is the principal landowner. The area is 2,700 acres; the population of the ecclesiastical parish in 1901 was 403.

Letters through Macclesfield. The nearest money order & telegraph office is at Whaley Bridge, 4½ miles distant

KETTLESHULME is a township and village in a hilly district in the parish of Prestbury, but ecclesiastically annexed to Saltersford, and is on the road from Macclesfield to Chapel-en-le-Frith, about 3 miles south-west from Whaley Bridge station on the Buxton and Stockport branch of the London and North Western railway, and 7 north-east from Macclesfield. There is a Wesleyan chapel, built in 1815, and seating 200 persons. The charities for distribution in bread and money are £2 13s. 4d. yearly value. The candle wick manufacture is carried on here. The Earl of Derby P.C., G.C.V.O., C.B. is lord of the manor and chief landowner. The soil is clayey and poor; the subsoil is chiefly rock. The population in 1901 was 321; the acreage is 1,232; rateable value, £1,741.

Post Office.—Mrs. Margaret Hewitt, sub-postmistress. Letters through Stockport arrive at 7.50 a.m. & 6.25 p.m.; dispatched at 8.55 a.m. & 6.25 p.m.; no delivery on sundays. Whaley Bridge is the nearest money order & telegraph office, 3 miles distant

Council School (mixed), built in 1856, for 108 children; average attendance, 75; Miss Emma Pritchard, mist

SANDBACH

SANDBACH is a market town, township and parish, with a station on the London and North Western railway, 1¼ miles west, and in the parish of Elworth, 162 miles from London, 26½ east-south-east from Chester, 7 west from Congleton, 4¾ north-east from Crewe, 49 from Liverpool, 26 from Macclesfield, 26½ from Manchester, 5 east-by-south from Middlewich and 21 from Stockport, in the Crewe division of the county, hundred of Northwich, Sandbach petty sessional division, union and county court district of Congleton, rural deanery of Congleton, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The town is on the Trent and Mersey Canal and the small river Wheelock, which supplies water-power to the largest of the silk mills.

The "Local Government Act, 1858," was adopted by the township April 4, 1862, but under the provisions of the "Local Government Act, 1894" (56 & 57 Vict. c. 73) the town is governed by a District Council of 15 members; it is lighted with gas by a company, from works in Union street erected in 1847, and well supplied with pure water, also from works the property of the Urban District Council, constructed in 1891 by the late Local Board, at a cost of £7,000: the water gravitates from springs at Taxmere, a district about 1½ miles from the works, and after being purified &c. is forced into a water tower, 68 feet high, with reservoirs, holding 65,000 gallons, and from thence descends into the mains which supply the town. Some of the streets in the more ancient part are narrow, but since the increase of manufactures the thoroughfares have been considerably improved; the town is remarkably clean and the houses well built.

The parish church of St. Mary, standing on an eminence, is an embattled edifice of stone in the Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel, with north and south chapels, clerestoried nave, aisles, south porch, and an open arched tower at the west end with pinnacles, containing 8 bells and a clock with chimes and illuminated dials on the north and south, presented in 1890 by Henry Holbrook esq. in memory of his mother, Elizabeth, and other members of his family: the building was recased outside, and extended at the east end 40 feet, and the tower rebuilt from the foundation in the years 1847-8-9, at a cost of £6,000: the font is of Caen stone, and all the fittings of oak: the east window and seventeen others are stained: there is a monument to the Rev. John Armitstead M.A. vicar 1828-65, with a three-quarter length figure habited in a surplice: the monument is of white marble, and was executed in 1876 by G. F. Watts R.A. and George Nelson, sculptors; it was the gift of the late Charles Hilditch Rickards esq. of Manchester: there are other memorials to George William Latham esq. M.P., J.P. of Bradwall Hall, d. 1886, erected by his tenantry; Elizabeth Anne, d. 1839, wife of John Latham esq. of Bradwall, and their 3 children; to the Rev. John Sibson, many years curate here, d. 1796, and to the Twemlow, Day and Salisbury families (1776-1889): the church affords 1,000 sittings, of which 500 are free. The register dates from the year 1562. The living is a vicarage, average net income £790, with 60 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of and held since 1865 by the Rev. John Richard Armitstead M.A. of Christ Church, Oxford, and hon. canon of Chester.

Sandbach Heath is an ecclesiastical parish, formed Nov. 22, 1861, out of St. Mary's. The church of St. John the Evangelist, erected and endowed in 1861 by Miss Sibson as a memorial to her father, the Rev. John Sibson, mentioned above, is a cruciform edifice of stone in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, nave, transepts, south porch and a central tower, with octagonal spire, containing one bell and a clock with two dials. The register dates from the year 1861. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £200, with residence, in the gift of the vicar of Sandbach, and held since 1907 by the Rev. Charles Edward Muckleston B.A. of St. Catharine's College, Cambridge, and chaplain of Congleton union.

The town was formerly celebrated for the goodness of its malt liquor, and worsted yarn and stuffs for country wear were manufactured in large quantities by its inhabitants. Sir John Ratcliff, of Ordsall, in Lancashire, in 1578 obtained the grant of a market, to be held on Thursday, and two fairs to be held on the Tuesday and Wednesday in Easter week, and on Thursday and Friday before the nativity of Our Lady: the market is still held on Thursday, and fairs are held on Easter Tuesday, the first Thursday after the 11th of September and the 28th of December; the latter is a great cattle and pleasure fair, and on the same day is a statute fair for hiring servants.

The market place contains two ancient obelisks or crosses, respectively 16 feet 8 inches and 11 feet 11 inches in height, independently of the platform on which they stand, which increases the height from the level to 22 feet 2 inches: the faces of the obelisks are covered with rude figures and scrolls of foliage; amongst the former may be clearly traced representations of the "Birth" and "Crucifixion" of Our Lord, which seem to give authority to a statement in the "Catholic Magazine" that "They were put up in the year 608, when Penda returned as a Christian convert from Northumbria, attended by four priests deputed to preach the Gospel through his dominions."

Sandbach Old Hall, erected in 1656, is a fine example of the timber-framed buildings common to this county, and is now a well-conducted hostelry, known as "The Old Hall Inn."

The Catholic church, built in 1865, and dedicated to St. Winefride, is served from Middlewich.

There are also Wesleyan Methodist, United Methodist, Primitive Methodist and Congregational chapels.

A piece of land has been added to the churchyard, which was controlled by a Burial Board, but it is now managed by a joint committee of Sandbach Urban District Council and Betchton Parish Council.

The Town and Market Hall, High street (the property of the parish), erected in 1889 at a cost of £5,000, from plans by Mr. T. Bowyer, architect, is of red brick with stone dressings in the Early Gothic style, and contains a spacious market hall, a large hall occasionally used for balls, concerts and public meetings, and holding about 700, and an office for the rate collector; at the south-west angle is a square tower, with octagonal turret, containing a clock with illuminated dials on three sides, presented by Mrs. Jane Court, late of Wheelock House, in memory of her relatives, the Peover family. The retail market is also held here every Thursday and Saturday. The foundation stone was laid 2nd July, 1889, by Lord Crewe, by whom also the site and market tolls were given to the town.

The Old Town Hall, which formerly stood in the square, was demolished in 1891.

The Temperance Hall, in Scotch Commons, a plain red brick building holding 300 persons, is now used as an Infant School in connection with the National School.

The Literary Institution, High town, erected in 1857 at a cost of £2,700, is a structure of brick ornamented with stone in the Perpendicular style, from plans by the late Sir G. Gilbert Scott R.A. and contains on the ground floor a reading room and library of 1,500 volumes, and on the first floor a large room in which the petty sessions, county court and meetings are held.

The County Police Station, Bold street, erected 1857 at a cost of £800, is an edifice of brick and stone, comprising offices, cells and a residence for the chief officer.

The Fire Station, on Scotch Commons, erected in 1873, is a plain structure of red brick, and consists of engine house only.

The G Company, 7th Territorial Force Battalion Cheshire Regiment, about 134 rank and file; head quarters at Congleton. The armoury is in Crewe road.

The Savings Bank, at the west end of High street, a building in the Elizabethan style, was erected in 1854, from funds accumulated in the hands of the actuary of the Bank.

The chief trade is in salt, chemicals and fustian cutting. Boots and shoes are also manufactured, and there are brine springs, extensive salt works, and steam and water corn mills in the parish.

The Consolidated charities, consisting of houses and land, producing about £2,000 yearly, are distributed annually as follows:—£350 yearly for 20 almspeople, £200 for the deserving poor of the parish, £120 for 12 out-pensioners, £100 to the National school, £1 to the chapelwardens of Church Hulme, £2 to the chapelwardens of Goosetry, £3 3s. to the clergyman of Sandbach for Wheelock sermons, 5s. each to the clerk and sexton of Sandbach, and the greater portion of the remainder to the Grammar school. There are also charities in addition to the above, amounting to about £49 yearly, derived from various sources, and distributed every year by the churchwardens of Sandbach as follows, viz.:—£4 in shillings to 80 poor people, £5 in food for poor sick persons, £19 in bread to the poor attending the parish church on Sunday mornings, and 10s. to the churchwardens of Wheelock and Hassall. Boughey's charity of about £100 yearly is distributed monthly by trustees for the benefit of the sick in Sandbach township.

The Almshouses on the Hill were erected in 1865-7 at a total cost of about £2,600, and endowed from the Sandbach Consolidated charities. They are arranged for 20 inmates (either men or women), elected by the governors of the above charities, each having an allowance of 6s. per week.

A tract of 5 acres of land has been acquired for the purposes of a recreation ground, and adjoining it is the Dingle lake of 3 acres, which is used for boating.

A skirmish took place here in 1651 between the inhabitants and the Scotch cavalry commanded by Maj.-Gen. David Leslie, who was then on his retreat after the battle of Worcester, 3 September, 1651. It is thus described in No. 66 of the "Mercurius Politicus": "They so managed the business that, when the Scots offered to fire, they ran into their houses, and as soon as that party was past which had the pistols and powder, they fell upon the remainder of the troops, and continued pealing and billing them during the passage of all their horse."

The Earl of Crewe K.G., P.C. is lord of the manor, and holds annually a court leet and baron for the manor at the Old Hall inn.

The parish comprises the townships of Arclid, Bradwall, Blackden, Cotton, Cranage, Leese, Rudheath, Sandbach, Hassall, Twemlow, Wheelock, Betchton, with the chapelries of Church Hulme and Goostrey-cum-Barnshaw. All except Arclid and Cotton will be found under separate headings.

The area of the civil parish and Urban District is 2,678 acres of land and 16 of water; rateable value, £18,900; the population in 1901 was 5,556. The population of Sandbach ecclesiastical parish in 1901 was 4,114, and of Sandbach Heath, 1,069.

The population of the Urban District wards in 1901 was: East, 2,617; North, 1,921; West, 1,020.

Parish Clerk, William Nock.

Sexton, Arthur Allcock.

Ettiley Heath is a place in Sandbach parish. There is a Primitive Methodist chapel, erected in 1888.

ARCLID is a township of scattered houses, 2 miles east-north-east from Sandbach. The United Methodists have a chapel here, erected 1891. The Congleton Union Workhouse here is a building of red brick, erected in 1845, and will hold 358 inmates. A new infirmary was completed in 1900, from the designs of Mr. Alfred Price, architect, of Elworth. The township contains several good farms, and is pleasantly seated on the Newcastle and Knutsford road. The trustees of Robert Bygott esq. of Sandbach, hold the manor rights. The land is held by small freeholders. The area is 552 acres; rateable value, £1,536; the population in 1901 was 321, which includes 13 officers and 164 inmates in Congleton workhouse.

Letter Box cleared at 7.40 a.m. & 6.30 p.m

COTTON is a township. The area is 375 acres; rateable value, £889; the population in 1901 was 21.

SEACOMBE is an ecclesiastical parish, formed in 1847 from the parish of Wallasey, with a station on the Wirral railway, and is also a steamboat station on the river Mersey, directly opposite to Liverpool, a mile and a half north from Birkenhead railway station and a mile west from Liverpool by ferry across the Mersey, in the Wirral division of the county of Chester, lower division of the hundred of Wirral, union and county court district of Birkenhead, rural deanery of Birkenhead and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. Seacombe forms two wards of the eight comprising the Wallasey Urban District, named respectively North and South Seacombe, and is lighted with gas and supplied with water by that Council from works at Poulton-cum-Seacombe. The church of St. Paul is a building of stone in the Middle Pointed style prevalent about the latter part of the 13th century, and consists of chancel, clerestoried nave of six bays, aisles, south porch and a western tower with pinnacles containing one bell: there are eight stained windows: the church was enlarged in 1862 and a north aisle transept and vestry added in 1891 from designs by Messrs. Grayson and Ould, architects, at a cost of £1,500, principally subscribed by residents in the district: the church affords 900 sittings. The registers date from the year 1847. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £404, without residence, in the gift of trustees, and held since 1878 by the Rev. Robert Johnstone Weatherhead M.A. of Trinity College, Dublin, hon. canon of Chester and surrogate, who resides at Egremont. The Catholic church, dedicated to Our Lady and St. Joseph, and erected in 1889, is a building of stone in the Gothic style: the west front was completed and a baptistery added in 1894: the church will seat 600 persons. The Wesleyan chapel was erected in 1857; the Welsh Calvinistic church, in Liscard road, erected in 1878, is a building of stone in the Gothic style with a lofty spire, and seats 500 persons. The Congregational chapel, in Liscard road, was erected in 1905, and has 385 sittings. The Primitive Methodists have a chapel in Northbrook road and the United Methodists in St. Paul's road. The Salvation Army hall is in Brighton street. The Watch Tower Mission hall is in Toronto street, and the Mersey Mission to Seamen in Dock road. Seacombe Bethel, Wheatland lane, is an institution in connection with the Seamen and Boatmen's Friend Society, established in 1883, and provides a place of worship for seamen; a new Bethel was built in 1892 at a cost of £900. The British Women's Temperance Association Home is in Mainwaring road.

Seacombe is one of the ancient ferries of the Mersey, and the present ferry, opened for traffic in 1879, was constructed at a cost of £150,000, upon a part of the foreshore reclaimed for that purpose; it includes a landing stage with covered connecting bridges for passenger traffic, on a similar scale and design with those at Liverpool and Woodside, and has a lofty clock tower; there is also a special arrangement for the goods and railway cross-river traffic, by means of hydraulic lifts placed at the extremity of a high level pier projecting into the river to the edge of the landing stage; by means of these lifts (which are each equal to a 25 tons load) wagons and carts can be put upon the landing stage at any state of tide, and without loss of time or risk, and are thence dispatched by steamer to Liverpool. There are four good hotels. Several inquisitions of the date of Henry VI. show that part of the manor of Poulton, with that of Seacombe, was then held by the Houghs, of Leighton, under the Pooles. The representatives of the late Rev. Mr. Mainwaring, the trustees of the late Captain Smith and Mr. Charles Mainwaring are the chief landowners. The soil is principally clay; the subsoil, various. The population of the ecclesiastical parish in 1891 was 10,586 and 1901, 15,440.

POULTON-CUM-SEACOMBE is a township on Wallasey Pool, half a mile south from Liscard and Poulton station on the Wirral railway and about 3½ miles north from Birkenhead, in the parish of West Wallasey. Poulton forms a ward of Wallasey Urban District Council, and is lighted with gas and supplied with water by the Council. The ecclesiastical parish of St. Luke was formed in 1907 from the parish of Wallasey. The church is a building of red brick, in the English Decorative style, consisting of shortened chancel, choir, transepts, and a baptismal apse at the west end: there are 702 sittings. The register dates from the year 1907. The living is a vicarage, yearly value £250, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1907 by the Rev. Robert David Hughes M.A. of Durham University, who resides at 129 Breck road, Wallasey. Under the church is a church room to seat 400 persons. There is a small Evangelical Mission Hall in Balfour road. Wallasey Urban District Infectious Diseases Hospital was erected in 1888 at a cost of £32,000, and will hold 90 patients. In Breck road, close to the boundary of Wallasey and Poulton, is a monument of stone, erected to the memory of Mrs. Boode, of Leasowe Castle, who was killed near this spot by a fall from her pony carriage, April 21st, 1826. The area of the township is 761 acres of land, 73 of water, 251 of tidal water and 23 of foreshore; rateable value with Seacombe, £164,001; the population in 1901 was 20,749, and of the ward, 5,931.

SHAVINGTON-CUM-GRESBY, see Wybunbury.

SHOCKLACH is a parish on the east bank of the river Dee, which separates the parish from Flintshire,and comprises the townships of Shocklach Church,ShocklachOviatt and Caldecott, 4 miles west from Malpas station on the Shrewsbury and Chester section of the London and North Western railway, in the Eddisbury division of the county, east division of the hundred of Broxton, petty sessional division of Broxton, union of Tarvin, county court district of Chester, rural deanery of Malpas and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The church of St. Edith is a small but ancient building of red sandstone, consisting of chancel, nave, and a western turret containing 2 bells: the fabric retains a Norman doorway, and there are 100 sittings. The churchyard was enlarged in August, 1905. The register dates from the year 1539. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £130, with half an acre of glebe and residence, in the gift of C. W. Puleston esq. and held since 1901 by the Rev. George Mathias B.A. of St. David's College, Lampeter. Broughton's charity of £2 is for the repairs of the road leading to the church; 10s. from the same benefaction is for distribution between the poor. Shocklach was anciently the seat of a branch of the Brerетons of Brereton, descended from Sir William Brereton kt. temp. Edward III. and Margaret (Done) his 2nd wife, whose son, Randle Brereton, married Alicia, daughter and heir of William de Ipstones, and was the immediate ancestor of this branch. John Howard esq. M.A., J.P. of Broughton Hall, Flintshire, is lord of the manor and principal landowner. The soil is clay; subsoil, marl. The land is chiefly in pasture. The area of Shocklach Church township is 1,172 acres of land and 16 of water; rateable value, £1,892; the population in 1901 was—parish 358, and township 147.

SHOTWICK is a township and parish on the north bank of the river Dee, 3 miles south-west from Ledsham railway station on the London and North Western and Great Western joint railway, and 7 north-west from Chester, in the Wirral division of the county, hundred of Wirral, union and county court district of Chester, petty sessional division of Chester Castle, rural deanery of Wirral and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. Of the original church, dedicated to St. Michael and All Angels, only the Norman doorway remains. The present structure, mainly Decorated Gothic of the 14th century, is of the usual red sandstone, consisting of chancel, with chapel on the north side, nave of four bays, north aisle and an embattled western tower, containing a clock striking the hours and also originally 4 bells, but one is now missing: the oldest memorial is in the sanctuary floor and bears the inscription "J. C. C. 1587," and records the interment of one James Clark, curate: the chalice is a unique specimen by Peter Pemberton of 1685: the pewter stoop is of the same date: the square pews, warden's stall and pulpit of 1690-1710 remain: there are four mural tablets, one of which is a memorial to Thomas Doe esq. d. 1755, Ann, his wife, d. 1778, and other members of this family, 1785-1806: the chancel was restored by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners about 1857; in 1907-9 repairs were carried out and the east wall was panelled in old oak: during the same period an organ was presented in memory of T. Samuel esq.: the church affords 400 sittings. The registers now date only from the latter part of the 17th century, the older registers being missing; but transcripts of these are preserved in the Bishop's Registry. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £216, with 22 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of the Dean and Chapter of Chester, and held since 1902 by the Rev. Frederic Ray Wansbrough M.A., B.D. of Durham University. The list of vicars dates from 1544, the benefice having been appropriated to St. Werburgh's, Chester. The monogram of Thomas Abbot, of St. Werburgh's (1413), appears in the east window of the chapel. The chief landowner is Samuel Nevitt Bennett esq. of Shotwick Cottage, The Dimple, Matlock Bridge, Derbyshire, who is also lord of the manor. The soil is stiff clay; subsoil, rocky; the land is chiefly in pasture. The area of the parish is 2,318 acres, and of the township 566 acres; rateable value of the township, £923; the population in 1901 was—parish, 994; township, 82.

Parish Clerk, Thomas Taylor.

GREAT SAUGHALL is a township and scattered village, with station on the Great Central (late M. S. & L.) railway, 4 miles north-west from Chester, and 2¾ south-west from Mollington station on the London and North Western and Great Western joint railways. The church of All Saints (chapel of ease to Shotwick) is a modern structure of brick, erected at a cost of £2,300, and consecrated by the Bishop of Chester, Oct. 23, 1901; the site was presented by the late Capt. Horace Dormer Trelawny: the church was enlarged in 1910 by the addition of chancel, central tower with spire, vestry and organ aisle, at a cost of about £1,300, the greater part of the cost being defrayed by the lord of the manor: there are 183 sittings. There are Presbyterian, Baptist (Church of Christ) and Ebenezer Primitive Methodist chapels. Powell's Charity produces £12 a year, arising from the rent of a house and land and also from the annual interest on £122 4s. 8d. of consolidated stock, and is distributed in bread at church every Sunday to the poor of the township of Great Saughall. The "Vernon" institute was erected by T. Thornycroft Vernon esq. in 1909, on the site of the Old Home farm. Shotwick Park is the property and residence of William Vernon esq. who is lord of the manor and principal landowner: the mansion is pleasantly situated about 1 mile from the station, and was greatly enlarged in 1907. The area is 1,082 acres; rateable value, £4,146; the population in 1901 was 703.

By Local Government Board Order No. 22,405, a part of Great Saughall township was added to Woodbank and Little Saughall, and a part of Little Saughall annexed to Great Saughall in 1888.

SHOTWICK PARK, formerly extra-parochial, is now a parish, 3½ miles south from Ledsham railway station on the London and North Western and Great Western joint railways, and 5 north-west from Chester, in the Wirral division of the county, hundred of Wirral (southern division), union and county court district of Chester, and petty sessional division of Chester Castle, rural deanery of Wirral, and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. A castle once stood here, in which Henry II. stayed when on his journey to Ireland, and which Edward I. visited in 1278; Leland saw some remains of it in 1622, but all that is now to be seen of it is a large mount, of a crescent form, with entrenchments on the side next Shotwick Park. The mansion of Shotwick Park stands in Great Saughall township, and is the property and residence of William Vernon esq. who is lord of the manor and chief landowner. The soil is clay. The land is principally used for pasturage. The area is 974 acres of land, exempt from the payment of tithes, and 3 of water; rateable value, £1,274; the population in 1901 was 8.

SIDDINGTON is a township at the junction of the roads from Macclesfield to Northwich and Congleton to Cheadle, 5 miles south-west from Macclesfield, and 5½ north from Congleton, in the parish of Prestbury, Knutsford division of the county, petty sessional division of Prestbury, Macclesfield hundred, union and county court district, and in the rural deanery and archdeaconry of Macclesfield, and diocese of Chester. The chapel of All Saints, originally erected about 1474 or earlier, is a small edifice of brick, wood and plaster, consisting of chancel, nave, and a western turret, containing one bell: the chancel is separated from the nave by a very fine Perpendicular screen: the building was restored and reseated in 1853-4 at a cost of £700, and again restored in 1894-5 at a further cost of £200: the east window has been filled with stained glass by Mr. Alfred O. Hemming, a new reredos and organ erected, and the whole interior re-decorated, and affords 260 sittings. The register dates from the year 1722. The living is a perpetual curacy, annexed to Capesthorne, net yearly value £346, with 90 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of Lieut.-Col. William Bromley-Davenport, and held since 1888 by the Rev. John George Elstob M.A. of Durham University, and rural dean of Macclesfield, who resides at Fanshawe. Here is a Wesleyan chapel, built in 1865. The charities amount to £13 6s. yearly, £8 of which goes to the schools and the balance of £5 6s. is distributed in money by the trustees. Thornycroft Hall, the property of Charles Edward Thornycroft esq. M.A., J.P. but now (1910) unoccupied, is a handsome mansion standing in a park of about 200 acres, containing two fine lakes of 12 acres each. Reds Mere is a considerable sheet of water 60 acres in extent, near the north-east verge of the township, and upon it is a floating island of nearly two acres, covered with beech trees and brushwood; in former years this island was frequently driven by the winds to the edge of the water, where it usually remained till the wind set in from the opposite quarter, and carried it to some other point of the mere: it is at present close to the east side of the mere, where it has remained stationary for over 30 years. Lieut.-Col. William Bromley-Davenport, of Capesthorne, is lord of the manor and the principal landowner; Charles Edward Thornycroft esq. of The Courtlands, Lympstone, Devon, and the trustees of the late Mr. James Chapman are also proprietors. The township contains 2,117 acres of land and 42 of water; rateable value, £3,753; the population in 1901 was 392.

SMALLWOOD is a scattered township and a parish, formed in 1846 from that of Astbury, 3 miles north-west from Mow Cop station on the North Staffordshire railway, 4 east-south-east from Sandbach, 5 west-south west from Congleton, in the Crewe division of the county, Northwich hundred, Congleton petty sessional division, union and county court district, in the rural deanery of Congleton, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The church of St. John the Baptist, erected in 1845, from plans of the late Sir Gilbert Scott, is a small building in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, nave, south porch and a turret on the west gable, containing one bell: there are memorial windows to Mrs. F. E. Twemlow, wife of the Rev. Francis C. Twemlow, the first incumbent, d. 1852; Mrs. Gordon, of Smallwood Vicarage, d. 1859; to Mr. Peter Hollinshead, of Day House Green, d. 1861; to John Mellor esq. of Smallwood House, d. 1861; and to the late Rev. Hastings Gordon M.A. also curate in charge here: the organ was erected in 1867 at a cost of £230: choir stalls of Dantzic oak were erected in 1906 in the chancel in memory of Mrs. Williams, widow of a former incumbent, by friends of the family: the parishioners erected a painted oak reredos in memory of her husband: the church affords 300 sittings. The registers date from the year 1845. The living is a perpetual curacy, net yearly value £220, with residence, in the gift of the rector of Astbury, and held since 1908 by the Rev. Herbert Webster Green M.A. of University College, Oxford. The Vicarage House, close to the church, is of brick with stone facings in the Elizabethan style. There are two Wesleyan chapels here, one of which was formerly a Baptist chapel. By deed dated the 1st of September, 1760, William Furnival gave a farmhouse and 36 acres of land, in trust, to divide the annual rents amongst the poor and indigent housekeepers of the township on the 24th June and St. Thomas' day in each year; it now produces £60 a year: the parish is also entitled to a portion (£5 a year) of Holford's charity, paid through the rector of Astbury: the late W. Mellor esq. of Smallwood House, left £100 to be invested in trust for the benefit of the school and choir; and his son, the late John Mellor esq. left £100, in 1902, invested in the Mersey Docks, the interest being applied towards the expense of the choir: Yarwood's gift of 12s. is for distribution. In 1900, Mrs. Williams, widow of the Rev. E. R. Williams, late vicar 1862-96, left £300 to be invested and the interest divided between the churchwardens' and choir funds. Col. Sir Walter Geoffrey Shakerley bart. T.D. of Somerford Park, who is lord of the manor, and Mrs. Moir, of Brereton Hall, William Vickers esq. of Manchester, and the Provost and Fellows of King's College, Cambridge, are the principal landowners. The soil is loam; subsoil, clay, gravel and sand. The chief crops are wheat, oats and potatoes; a great deal of the land is laid out as market gardens. The area is 2,186 acres; rateable value, £4,957; the population in 1901 was 530.

STALYBRIDGE

STALYBRIDGE is a parliamentary and municipal borough and parish on the banks of the river Tame, with a station on the Lancashire and Yorkshire, and joint station on the London and North Western and Great Central railways, and in 1 mile south-east from Ashton-under-Lyne, 7½ miles east from Manchester, 8 north-east from Stockport, 13 north-east from Macclesfield, 7 north-west from Glossop and 191 from London. In 1896 the Local Government Board constituted Stalybridge a distinct parish, wholly in the Hyde division of the county of Chester, in place of being partly in the parish of Ashton-under-Lyne, in Lancashire, partly in the township of Dukinfield, in the parish of Stockport, and partly in the township of Stayley, in the parish of Mottram, and it is in the union and county court district of Ashton-under-Lyne and in the hundred of Macclesfield. For ecclesiastical purposes the portion once in Lancashire still remains in the rural deanery of Ashton, archdeaconry and diocese of Manchester; and that in Cheshire in the rural deanery of Mottram, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The Tame, which divides this portion of Cheshire from Lancashire, flows into the Mersey at Stockport. There is water communication by the London and North Western Canal Company's and the Manchester Ship Canal Company's canals.

Stalybridge was incorporated by royal charter granted 5th March, 1857, and the borough was extended August 11th, 1881, by the incorporation of Millbrook and Heyrod under the "Stalybridge Extension and Improvement Act, 1881;" it is now divided into four wards, and the corporation consists of a mayor, eight aldermen and twenty-four councillors. The borough has a commission of the peace and a police force. By the "Representation of the People Act, 1867," it was made a parliamentary borough, consisting of the municipal boroughs of Stalybridge and Dukinfield, since constituted a municipal borough.

The Gas Works, on the Dukinfield side of the borough, and formerly belonging to a company, were purchased by the Corporation, July 31st, 1885, for £126,000; and are on a very extensive scale.

The Water Works, constructed in 1868 for this borough and Ashton-under-Lyne, comprise four large reservoirs amongst the hills in the neighbourhood of Millbrook, 1½ miles from the town, and another at Greenfield, constructed in 1886 at a cost of £288,000, with a total capacity of 200,000,000 gallons. The water works are now under the management of the Ashton-under-Lyne, Stalybridge and Dukinfield (district) joint committee of 16 members, 4 of whom are elected by the corporation of Stalybridge. Sewerage works for the joint districts of Stalybridge and Dukinfield were constructed in 1897 at Bradley Hurst Farm, under the direction of the Stalybridge and Dukinfield Joint Sewerage Board.

Under the Stalybridge, Hyde, Mossley and Dukinfield Tramways and Electricity Board, formed by six members of each of the Councils of these towns, under an Act of Parliament passed in 1901, a system of electric tramways between these places, consisting at present of about 21 miles, was constructed at a cost of about £500,000, and opened May 21st, 1904.

The ecclesiastical parish of Old St. George was formed April 12, 1864, from that of Ashton-under-Lyne: the church, occupying an elevated site on Cocker hill, and first erected in 1776 as a chapel of ease to Ashton parish church, was entirely re-built in 1887, under the direction of Mr. John Low, architect, of Manchester, at a cost of £4,600, and is an octagonal edifice of stone, consisting of chancel, nave and a western turret containing one bell: the carved oak pulpit was the gift of Mrs. Platt: there are five stained windows, including a memorial window erected by the parishioners to the late Rev. John Bonafons Jelly-Dudley B.A. vicar 1867-1904: the church affords 750 sittings, 250 of which are free. The registers of births and deaths date from 1777, marriages 1864. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £400, in the gift of the trustees of the Earl of Stamford, and held since 1904 by the Rev. Herbert Hampson M.A. of St. John's College, Cambridge, and surrogate.

The parish of St. George, THE HAGUE, was formed July 30, 1840, from that of Ashton-under-Lyne: the church, situated on an eminence called "The Hague," and erected at the same time at a cost of £4,500, is a building of stone in the Later Early English style, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, south porch and a western tower with pinnacles containing one bell: the church was restored in 1885 at a cost of £1,532, and partly reseated in 1889, and a lectern and pulpit erected at a cost of £550: in 1892 the interior was decorated and a new reredos provided at a cost of about £350: the east window is stained, and there are about 1,000 sittings. The register dates from 1840. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £305, with residence, in the gift of the rector of Ashton-under-Lyne, and held since 1898 by the Rev. Thomas Murphy Oldfield M.A., L.Th. of Hatfield Hall, Durham.

STAYLEY ST. PAUL'S is an ecclesiastical parish, formed out of that of Mottram in 1840: the church, erected in 1839 at a cost of £4,000, and enlarged and restored in 1874 under the direction of Mr. W. H. Brakespear, architect, at a cost of £5,000, is a cruciform building of stone in the Transition style between Early and Geometrical Gothic, and consists of chancel, clerestoried nave of five bays, aisles, transepts, organ chamber and a western tower containing a clock and 8 bells: the south transept was added in 1899 at a cost of £1,600: the lower stage of the tower forms a porch: the stained east window was presented by James Buckley esq. in 1857, and there are a number of others, some being memorials: the organ was enlarged and beautified in 1874, and the pulpit was presented by the late William Storrs esq. J.P. in 1877: the church affords 1,100 sittings. The register dates from the year 1842. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £550, derived chiefly from fees and pew rents and an endowment of £700 left by Mrs. Platt in 1889, with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester and three other trustees, and held since 1887 by the Rev. Thomas Holmes Sheriff M.A. of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, rural dean of Mottram, and surrogate.

DUKINFIELD ST. JOHN'S is a parish formed out of that of Stockport, January 10, 1843, but only became an independent parish in 1875. St. John's church, consecrated in 1841, is an edifice of stone in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, nave of six bays, aisles, west porch and a western tower with pinnacles containing one bell: in the chancel is a memorial window to the Rev. William Bell, late vicar, d. January, 1875: there are three in the baptistery to the Rev. Richard George Bulkeley, vicar 1875-96, and two others: the church was thoroughly restored in 1891 at a cost of about £1,200, when a new font was given by Mrs. Bretherton and a reredos erected: there are 1,000 sittings, more than half being free. The register dates from the year 1841. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £320, derived from endowments and pew rents, with residence, in the gift of the rector of Stockport, and held since 1896 by the Rev. Cecil Gordon Calthrop M.A. of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, who resides at St. John's Vicarage, Vicarage street, Dukinfield; the boundary line of the boroughs of Stalybridge and Dukinfield divides the church from the vicarage and schools, which are in the latter borough.

There are two charities belonging to the parish, viz.: Daniel Wyld's of £87, left in the 18th century and recovered in 1880; and Mrs. Hyde's of £100, left in 1867. These are in the hands of the Charity Commissioners, and the interest is distributed yearly in clothing in November.

The parish of Holy Trinity (Castle Hall) was formed in 1846 out of that of Stockport. The church, standing near the Market hall, and erected and endowed in 1852, is a building of stone in the Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel, nave with clerestory, aisles, north and south porches and an embattled western tower containing 8 bells: the east window is stained, and there is a memorial window to the Rev. Fielding Frederick Ould, vicar 1875-80, erected by the congregation in 1882 at a cost of £85: the brass eagle lectern was presented in 1878 by Robert and Margaret Platt, of Dunham Hall, at a cost of upwards of £50: in 1896 an organ chamber and vestry were built at a cost of £1,500, and the organ enlarged at a cost of £400: there are 920 sittings, 280 of which are free. The register dates from the year 1852. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £450, with residence, in the gift of Hyndman's trustees, and held since 1881 by the Rev. Charles Sutcliffe, of Queen's College, Birmingham, and a surrogate.

Christ Church, DUKINFIELD, is an ecclesiastical parish formed in 1880. The church, in Quarry street, erected in 1878 at a cost of about £3,500, is an edifice of brick in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, vestry and organ chamber: the stained east window, erected in 1891, is a memorial to the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Platt: the chancel was extended at the same time at a cost of £60: a west porch was added in 1910: there are 800 sittings. The register dates from the year 1878. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £330, in the gift of trustees, and held since 1880 by the Rev. James Grant Bird.

MILLBROOK was incorporated with the borough of Stalybridge August 11, 1881; the parish of St. James was formed in 1863 from that of St. Paul's, Stayley. The church, erected at a cost of £3,500, and consecrated January 29 the same year, is a building of stone in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel, nave, south aisle, south vestry, north porch and tower at the north side of the nave with spire and containing one bell: there is a memorial window in the chancel to Mary Matilda Harrison, d. June 3, 1871, and a brass to the Rev. William Worth Hoare B.D. 30 years vicar of St. Paul's, Stayley, with other memorials, d. April 13, 1869: there are 400 sittings, 100 being free. The register dates from 1863. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £285, with residence, in the gift of trustees, and held since 1882 by the Rev. Frank Lethbridge Farmer, of St. Aidan's.

The Catholic church, in Spring Bank street, dedicated to St. Peter, was erected in 1838-9, and is an edifice of stone, seating 550: attached is a presbytery and schools.

The Congregational chapel, originally erected in 1830, and rebuilt in 1861, at a cost of £5,000, is a building of stone in the Geometrical Gothic style, and has 1,000 sittings: attached is a Sunday school and institute erected in 1906, at a cost, exclusive of the site, of over £5,000.

The Wesleyan chapel, in Caroline street, erected in 1872, at a cost of £3,500, and restored and enlarged in 1895, at a cost of £816, is of brick with stone dressings, and will seat 900.

There are also General Particular Baptist, United Methodist, Primitive Methodist and Unitarian chapels.

The Town Hall, in Stamford street, erected in 1831, is a spacious edifice of stone of the Doric order, and contains a large public assembly room holding 800 persons, police offices, court room and a committee room; it was considerably enlarged in 1883 at a cost of about £10,000, when a new council chamber and offices for the borough treasurer and surveyor were added, together with apartments for various officers. The Astley Cheetham Free Library, in Trinity street, opened 16th of October, 1901, is a fine building of red brick with stone facings, and contains a lending library of 14,850 volumes, and a reference library; it was the gift of John Frederick Cheetham esq. and is under the control of a committee of 10 members of the corporation and 5 ratepayers or residents of the borough.

The new Post Office adjoins the library and was opened in 1902.

A new Fire Station was erected in Waterloo road in 1903.

Here are branches of the Manchester and Liverpool District Banking Co. Limited, the Manchester and County Bank Limited, Parr's Bank Limited, and the Lancashire and Yorkshire Bank Limited.

The Mechanics' Institute, in High street, erected in 1861-2 at a cost of £4,100, is a structure of red brick with stone facings, and contains an assembly room, seating upwards of 1,000 persons, news rooms, class rooms and a library of 5,107 volumes; science and art classes are held here in the evenings. The laboratory was erected in 1890 at a cost of £600, wholly defrayed by the late Mrs. Platt, of Stalybridge, who also left £1,000 for its maintenance; the interior of the building was redecorated throughout and additional class rooms added at the same time, at a cost of about £500. The Technical school and higher grade school are conducted in the institute, and the Field Naturalist and Microscopical Society holds its meetings here.

The Liberal Club, Grosvenor street, erected in 1880, from designs by Mr. Gregory Gill, architect, at a cost of about £3,000, is a structure of red brick, and comprises billiard room, assembly room, smoking room, reading and card room.

The Odd Fellows' Hall and Social Club, in Albert square, erected in 1877-8 at a cost of over £5,000, is a building of red brick with stone dressings, and comprises billiard room, hall on the first floor, let for concerts, entertainments etc. capable of seating about 700 persons; the number of members in 1910 was over 1,250.

The Drill Hall, in Walmsley street, the property of the Stalybridge detachment of the 6th Territorial Force Battalion Cheshire Regiment, was erected about 1880 at a cost of over £5,000.

Stalybridge is one of the oldest seats of the cotton manufacture and contains many extensive mills, which give employment to the major part of the population; there are machine works, iron foundries, and cut and wrought nail works, and the woollen manufacture is also carried on to a limited extent.

The market is held on Saturday; the fairs take place on the last Monday in each month; annual prize fair first Saturday in September; and the wakes the first Sunday after July 17.

The Market Hall, on the Plantation Grounds and erected in 1866, at a cost of £10,000, is an edifice of red brick with stone dressings in the Renaissance style, from designs by Mr. Amos Lee, the borough surveyor, and has a lofty tower containing an illuminated clock with four dials.

A Fish Market was erected in 1881 at a cost of £1,500.

The Baths, also on the Plantation Grounds, were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Platt, at a cost of £10,000, and opened 7 May, 1870. The building, which is in the Italian style, comprises a swimming bath, 70 feet by 40 feet, with a clear water area of 63 feet by 24 feet; and on each side are dressing boxes, 32 in number, and over these are side galleries. There is also another swimming bath, 80 feet by 40 feet, containing a clear water area of 75 by 28 feet, and of less depth. There are 20 private baths, and a complete set of Turkish baths, and adjoining the entrance hall and office is a residence for the manager. In the rear is a boiler-house and other accessory buildings. The baths are endowed by Mrs. Platt with £2,500, in aid of their maintenance. There are marble busts of Robert Platt esq. and Mrs. Platt in the vestibule, erected by public subscriptions.

The District Infirmary, situate in the borough of Ashton-under-Lyne and standing on an elevated site near the park, is a structure of brick with stone dressings in the Elizabethan style, erected in 1858-9, and endowed with a sum of £10,000 left by Samuel Oldham esq. of Oak View. Since its foundation the endowments have been increased to £65,000, including a sum of £10,000, given in 1900 by the trustees under the will of the late James Holden esq. of Marland, Rochdale. A nurses' home was erected in 1888 and extended in 1907, and in 1893 a children's hospital, with 34 beds, was provided at the sole cost of James Kershaw esq. and in 1896 an operating room was built, and has since been enlarged. Over 100 in-patients can now be received.

Stamford Park, opened July 12th, 1873, by the late Earl of Stamford and Warrington, contains 64 acres, inclusive of two large lakes, one of which is used for boating, and three smaller ones. The original estate was purchased from trustees, and other land was subsequently given by the 7th Earl of Stamford and Warrington. The estimated value of the estate is now about £50,000. The mansion, formerly called Highfield House, is a fine old Elizabethan edifice and until recently was used as a museum; it contains a valuable geological collection, rare pottery, pictures, antique objects, and extensive collection of entomological and botanical specimens: in the grounds is a memorial to the late Mr. Jethro Tinker, of Stalybridge, who died March 10th, 1871, and a granite monument with medallion bust, erected by the factory workers of Lancashire and Cheshire in 1888 to Mr. Joseph Rayner Stephens, who died in 1879. The whole is under the management of the corporations of Ashton-under-Lyne and Stalybridge, to whom it was transferred 3 June, 1891.

The area of the civil parish and municipal borough is 3,058 acres of land and 72 of water; rateable value, £122,880; the population in 1871 was 21,092; 1881, 25,977; 1891, 26,783; and in 1901, 27,674.

The population of the municipal wards in 1901 was—Dukinfield, 7,907; Lancashire, 5,983; Millbrook, 4,039; Stayley, 9,744.

The population of the ecclesiastical parishes in 1901 was—Old St. George, 2,654; New St. George, 3,771; Christ Church, Dukinfield, 4,966 (of which 949 were in Lancs); St. James, Millbrook, 4,229; St. John the Evangelist, Dukinfield, 12,295; St. Paul's, Stayley, 6,824.

The area of the parliamentary borough is 4,537 acres (of which 684 are in Lancs). The population in 1901 was 46,557 (of which 5,402 were in Lancs); the number of electors on the parliamentary register in 1910 was 7,860.

STANLOW, see Ellesmere Port.

STANTHORNE is a township and small village, formerly in the parish of Davenham, but together with Wharton (Winsford) was constituted a separate parish March 10, 1860, and is about 1 mile west from Winsford station on the Crewe and Warrington section of the London and North Western railway, and 1 north-north-west from Middlewich, in the Northwich division of the county, hundred, union and county court district of Northwich and petty sessional division of Middlewich.

Stanthorne Hall, a spacious brick edifice, erected near to the site of the old hall, is the property of Col. C. H. France-Hayhurst, and the residence of the Misses Dutton: the old hall, formerly surrounded by a moat, was taken down about 1810, and the moat, excepting a portion on the north-east of the present house, was filled up. In the 13th and 14th centuries the manor was vested in a family of the name of Rahers; Little Stanthorne, as it is called, being at the same time held by the Duttons: subsequently the Whalleys were seised of the manor, and it was afterwards, by purchase, the property of Sir John Bryne bart. of Timogue, Ireland, from whom it descended to his grandson, Sir John Fleming Leicester bart. 1st baron de Tabley, from whom it was purchased by Richard Jones esq. of Manchester. Col. C. H. France-Hayhurst, of Bostock Hall, is lord of the manor and the principal landowner, but there are other small proprietors. The area is 1,101 acres of land, which are chiefly applied to pasturage, and 12 of water; the rateable value of the township is £2,715; the population in 1901 was 206.

Letters through Middlewich arrive at 6.30 a.m. & 5 p.m. Middlewich is the nearest money order & telegraph office, 1 mile distant

STOCKPORT

WITH HEATON NORRIS AND REDDISH

STOCKPORT, a municipal and parliamentary and county borough, a market and union town in Lancashire and Cheshire, is distant from London 182½ miles, Manchester 5⅝ south-east, Birmingham 77¾, Bolton 16½, Blackpool 57½, Burnley 34¼, Bury 15¾, Chester 46½ north-east, Crewe 25¼ north-east, Derby 63¾, Gainsborough 74½, Huddersfield 26¾, Lancaster 57, Leeds 43¼, Liverpool 37 east, Leicester 85¾, Lincoln 84½, Macclesfield 11¾ north, Preston 37½, Rochdale 14½, St. Helens 25, Sandbach 21½ north-east, Sheffield 41½, Stafford 48½, Stalybridge 7½ south-west, Southport 43½, Warrington 23½ east, Walsall 79¾, Wolverhampton 63¾. It is in the Altrincham division of the county of Chester, Macclesfield hundred, rural deanery of Stockport, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester.

The municipal and parliamentary limits were formerly co-extensive, the latter comprising Edgeley, and Portwood in Brinnington township, part of Cheadle Bulkeley township, part of Cheadle Moseley township, Stockport township, part of Heaton Norris parish in Lancashire, but by the Stockport Extension (1901) Order the municipal borough now includes Reddish and parts of Hazel Grove-cum-Bramhall, Cheadle, Heaton Norris, Brinnington and Bredbury. The places named, except Reddish, were constituted the civil parish of Stockport by an Order (confirmed by the Local Government Board on the 29th October, 1894) of a Joint Committee of the County Councils of Lancashire and Cheshire, and the Council of the County Borough of Stockport. Since the "Reform Act, 1832" (2 and 3 William IV. c. 45), the borough has sent two members to Parliament.

Under the "Local Government Act, 1888" (51 and 52 Vict. c. 41), Stockport has been declared, for certain purposes, a county borough.

Under the "Municipal Corporation Act, 1835" (5 and 6 William IV. c. 76), the borough was originally divided into six wards, but on June 23rd, 1894, it was re-arranged into fourteen wards. By Local Government Order, P. 11,711, confirmed by "Local Government Board Provisional Orders (No. 11) Act, 1901," which came into operation 9th November, 1901, the County Borough was extended to include the Urban District of Reddish, parts of the Urban District of Bredbury and Romiley, Cheadle and Gatley, Hazel Grove and Bramhall and Heaton Norris and part of the Rural District of Stockport, and the borough is now divided into 16 wards, the Corporation consisting of 16 aldermen and 48 councillors.

The borough has a commission of the peace and a police force.

The gas, electricity works and tramways are the property of the Corporation, and water is supplied by the Corporation both to the borough and surrounding districts.

The town stands on the river Mersey, here formed by the junction of the rivers Goyt and Tame, and is most irregularly built, being in some parts precipitous, with an ascent from the north, and around this acclivity on the south bank of the river the houses rise in successive tiers from the base to the summit. Stockport has communication with all parts by the London and North Western and North Staffordshire railways, with stations at Edgeley and Heaton Norris, and by the Cheshire Lines Committee's railways, which have a joint station at Tiviot Dale on the Lancashire side; another line, forming a junction with the preceding railway at Brinnington, passes through Reddish Vale and Gorton, and joins the main line of the Great Central railway at Ashbury junction; and in addition a branch line, about a mile in length, joining the Cheshire Lines Committee's system at Bredbury, affords direct communication from Stockport to London and the South of England.

The magnificent viaduct of the London and North Western railway, which literally passes over the town, has an extreme length of 1,780 feet, comprising 22 semi-circular arches, each 63 feet span, carrying four lines of rails, at a height from the bed of the river of 108 feet, and was erected at a cost of about £75,000. Electric tramways are also laid from the town to Manchester.

The Midland Railway Company, in May, 1900, opened a line from New Mills, in Derbyshire, to Cheadle Heath.

The river is crossed by a fine bridge of eleven arches, which also carries the Wellington road across the valley, nine of the arches being on the Cheshire and two on the Lancashire side; it was opened, with the road, in 1826, the whole being completed at an expense of £40,000.

St. Peter's Bridge, over Little Underbank, built in 1868, at a cost of £8,000, and connecting St. Petersgate with the Market place, is an iron structure 210 feet in length.

St. Thomas's is an ecclesiastical parish, formed April 2, 1839, and embracing the entire township of Bramhall: the church, on the east side of the Wellington road south, erected in 1825, at a cost of £16,000, is of stone in the Classic style, from designs by Mr. George Basevi, architect, and consists of chancel, nave of four bays, aisles, north and south porches and a western tower, surmounted by a cupola, and containing 4 bells: the chancel was built in 1890 at a cost of £1,200, and the organ was repaired and enlarged at a cost of £400: in 1908 the church was redecorated and ventilation and heating systems installed, at a cost of about £800: the church has galleries on three sides and affords 1,800 sittings. The register dates from the year 1825. The living was declared a rectory in 1875, net yearly value £368, with residence, in the gift of the Rev. Canon W. Symonds, and held since 1900 by the Rev. Henry Sewell

M.A. of Queen's College, Oxford, and there are two Mission churches and a Mission room in connection with this church.

St. George's is an ecclesiastical parish, formed 6 Aug. 1897, out of St. Thomas's: the church, erected during the period 1893-7, and consecrated 25 Feb. in the latter year, is an edifice of red sandstone in the Transitional, Decorated and Perpendicular styles, from designs by Mr. H. Austin, architect, and consists of chancel, with north chapel, vestries and organ chamber, clerestoried nave, aisles and a central tower containing 10 bells: the chancel is groined in stone, and the nave and other portions of the church have open roofs of oak: the reredos and font are of alabaster, and the choir stalls of carved oak, and there is a fine organ: the east and west windows are stained: there are sittings for 2,000 persons. The register dates from the year 1897. The living is a vicarage, in the gift of five trustees, net yearly value £540, and held since 1896 by the Rev. John Henry Thorpe M.A., B.D. of Trinity College, Dublin. The church, parish rooms, vicarage house and schools were the gifts of Maj. George Fearn J.P. of Overdale, Wilmslow, and the site was presented by the late Capt. W. Christie-Miller J.P., D.L. of Craigentinny, Midlothian. St. Saviour's, Great Moor, is a chapel of ease to St. George's, and there is a Mission hall in Hempshaw lane, erected and presented to the parish in 1907 by E. G. Christie-Miller esq.

St. Matthew's, EDGELEY, is an ecclesiastical parish, formed June 3, 1844, from the parishes of Stockport and Cheadle: the church, in Grenville street, erected at a cost of £10,000 and consecrated in 1858, is a building of stone in the Early English style, from designs by Mr. J. G. Crowther, architect, and consists of chancel, clerestoried nave of four bays, aisles, south porch and a western tower, with spire, containing one bell and 8 tubular bells: the stained east window was added in 1878: there are 654 sittings. The register dates from the year 1858. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £330, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1898 by the Rev. Edward Percy Alexander M.A. of Clare College, Cambridge, and surrogate.

The church of St. Mary the Virgin, formerly All Saints' and the mother church of Stockport, dates from the 12th century, but was taken down and rebuilt (with the exception of the chancel) in 1813, and is now an edifice of stone in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave of five bays, aisles, oratory, north and south porches and a lofty embattled western tower, with four pinnacles, containing a clock and 10 bells: the east window is a good example of work of the 14th century, and contains stained glass, inserted in 1847, at the cost of Lingard Monk esq. of Fulshaw Hall: the west window and six others are stained, and include a memorial window to the late Louis John Jennings esq. sometime M.P. for Stockport, d. 1893: the chancel, dating from about 1190, is singularly beautiful in design and retains three sedilia and a double piscina: in the chancel is a monument to Richard de Vernon, parson here 1306-34; and there is a black-letter Bible of early date: over the porch is a priest's chamber, now closed: the church was restored and reseated in 1882 at a cost of £4,500, and the chancel in 1891 at a cost of £1,000, both under the direction of Mr. J. S. Crowther, architect: there are about 1,200 sittings. The registers, which have been well preserved, date from the year 1584. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £1,873, with residence, in the gift of and held since 1875 by the Rev. William Symonds M.A. of Caius College, Cambridge, honorary canon of Chester, and surrogate. In connection with this church are two Mission churches.

St. Alban's, Offerton lane, is an ecclesiastical parish, formed July 17th, 1893, out of parts of the parishes of St. Mary's, Stockport, and St. Mark's, Bredbury. The church was erected in 1899 at a cost of about £5,000. The register dates from the year 1877. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £200, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1907 by the Rev. Percy Holland Lester M.A., B.D. of Exeter College, Oxford.

St. Peter's is an ecclesiastical parish, formed April 2, 1839, from that of St. Mary: the church, in St. Peter's square, erected in 1768, at the sole expense of William Wright esq. who endowed it with £120 yearly, is an edifice of brick in the Italian style, consisting of chancel, nave, west porch, and a western tower containing a clock and one bell: a new chancel was erected in 1888 at a cost of £1,500, and has stained windows: the altar-piece, a fine work, representing "The Agony in the Garden," was painted and presented by Mr. J. H. Partington, late of Stockport, in 1890: the church affords 620 sittings. The register dates from the year 1840. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £200, with residence, in the gift of Mrs. Wright, of Mottram Hall, and held since 1908 by the Rev. Arthur Hubert Barnes M.A. of Keble College, Oxford. There is a Mission room belonging to this church in Queen street, which is used also for many parochial purposes.

BRINKSWAY-CUM-CHEADLE HEATH is an ecclesiastical parish on the west, formed out of the parishes of St. Matthew and St. Mary the Virgin, Cheadle. The church of St. Augustine, built in 1893, is a structure of red brick in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, north porch and a turret containing one bell: there are 530 sittings. The register dates from the year 1893. The living is a perpetual curacy, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, net yearly value £290, with residence, and held since 1908 by the Rev. Francis Edward Hicks M.A. of St. Catharine's College, Cambridge. A Sunday school was built in 1904 at a cost of £1,700.

PORTWOOD is an ecclesiastical parish, formed June 3, 1844, from that of St. Mary: the church of St. Paul, in Great Portwood street, erected in 1850, is a building of stone in the Early English style, from designs by Mr. J. G. Crowther, and consists of chancel, nave of five bays, aisles, south porch and a western tower, with lofty spire, containing 8 tubular bells: the church affords sittings, including galleries, for 600 persons. The register dates from the year 1851. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £286, with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1906 by the Rev. George Edward Macaulay Bennett M.A. of Lincoln College, Oxford.

For Christ Church, see Heaton Norris, page 574.

The Catholic church, in Tatton street, dedicated to St. Joseph, and erected in 1862, is a building of stone in the Gothic style, and will seat 700.

The Catholic church of Our Lady and the Apostles, EDGELEY, built at a cost of £12,500, and opened in 1905, is an edifice of Ruabon brick in the Gothic style, from the designs of Mr. Edmund Kirby, of Liverpool, and consists of chancel, nave, aisles, vestry and west porch: the pulpit, of stone and marble, has panels with figures of the four evangelists, and was the gift of Mr. Charles Waterhouse and Miss Waterhouse: there are sittings for 800 persons. The schools connected with the church were rebuilt in 1909, at a cost of £6,000, for 900 children.

The Congregational chapel, in Wellington road, erected in 1866 at a cost of £6,000, is in the Early Decorated style, and consists of chancel, nave, aisles, transepts and a tower with spire 126 feet in height: there are about 700 sittings.

The Congregational chapel, in Buxton road, erected in 1900 at a cost, including schools, of £4,700, is of stone in the Decorated style, and will seat 475 persons.

Trinity Wesleyan Methodist chapel, in Wellington road south, erected in 1885 at a cost of £10,000, is also a stone building, and will seat 1,124.

The Wesleyan Methodist chapel, in Castle street, EDGELEY, erected in 1873, at a cost of £3,300, from plans by Mr. W. Hill, architect, of Leeds, and enlarged in 1893, is of brick and stone, and will seat, including galleries, 1,050 persons.

Mount Tabor United Methodist chapel, in Wellington road south, erected in 1879, at a cost of £8,000, is of brick with a stone front in the Classic style, and affords 950 sittings.

The Unitarian chapel, in St. Petersgate, erected in 1842, at a cost of £3,000, and enlarged in 1886, at a cost of £2,000, is of stone in the Gothic style, and will seat 400.

There are also Baptist and Primitive Methodist chapels, and a meeting house for the Society of Friends.

The Cemetery, at Heaviley, formed in 1838, at a cost of about £10,000, covers an area of about 28 acres, and has three mortuary chapels; it is controlled by the Stockport Borough Cemetery Co. Limited.

The Court House, in Vernon street, comprises two large court rooms, retiring room and police office and cells. The magistrates' sittings and petty sessions are held here.

The Town Hall, in Wellington road south, erected in 1907-8 at a cost of £100,000, and opened 10 July, 1908, by King George IV. and Queen Mary, then Prince and Princess of Wales, is a building of Portland stone in the Renaissance style, from designs by Sir Alfred Brumwell Thomas, architect, of London, and the principal façade, 220 feet long and 45 feet in height, includes a clock tower rising to a height of 130 feet above the street level. The entrance floor contains a fine well-staircase, leading to the principal floor, and around it are placed the offices of the various departments: on the next floor is the Public Hall, 114 feet in length, 62 feet wide and 41 feet high, with a stage and gallery, and seating 1,250 persons: the walls are panelled with oak and the windows filled with stained glass, and attached are cloak rooms. On the same floor is the Council Chamber, arranged with benches in a semi-circle for 66 members, and a dais for the mayor and aldermen, committee rooms, town clerk's and borough surveyor's departments, and the mayor's rooms. The three committee rooms, when thrown into one, form a banqueting room and adjoining is a kitchen and scullery. On a higher floor are the offices of the education and medical departments, and of the surveyor's drawing staff. The whole building is effectively lighted and mechanically warmed.

The municipal insignia comprise a mayor's chain and badge and a corporate seal. The chain, obtained by subscription in 1871, is of gold, and consists of links bearing crowned shields alternating with figures of maces and fasces; in the centre is a shield of arms with supporters, intended to represent the arms of Lord Vernon, whose family held the manor until its purchase by the Corporation; the designer, however, has fallen into a serious error, for the shield, instead of the Vernon coat, bears that of the Warrens, from whom the manor descended to the Vernon family. The badge, which hangs below this, is also of gold, and was presented by John Walthew esq. mayor 1870-1; it displays the borough arms (az. semée of cross crosslets fitchée, 3 lozenges or, 2 and 1), and around are various national and civic emblems. The seal is circular, 2⅛ inches in diameter, with the same arms, and a lion and a figure of Britannia as supporters, and a marginal legend. In the year 1897 eight new sets of links, arranged as festoons, were added to the chain, and in the same year Giles Atherton esq. alderman and then mayor, presented a gold chain and badge to be worn by the mayoresses of Stockport.

The Armoury and Drill Ground, belonging to the 6th Territorial Force Battalion of the Cheshire Regiment, are at the corner of Greek street and Shaw heath; the former, erected in 1862, at a cost of £4,000, contains a regimental institute for the officers, sergeants and privates, band room, sergeant-major's and adjutant's offices, a spacious room for storing arms, and an excellent drill shed, 180 feet long and 60 wide.

The Public Baths, in St. Petersgate, erected in 1886, at a cost of £8,000, are of brick and terra-cotta in the Italian style, from designs by Mr. Prestwich, architect, of Leith; they contain three swimming baths, one of these being for females; there are also 33 first and second class private baths, three vapour baths and a Turkish bath; the management is controlled by the Corporation, who also in 1908 built and equipped public baths at Reddish.

The Central Fire Brigade Station, erected in 1902 at a cost of about £12,000, is situated in Mersey square. The equipment consists of 1 motor fire engine, 3 steam fire engines, 2 horse escapes, horse ambulance, 27 fire alarms and 11 private wires. The district served by the brigade also includes Heaton Norris, Bramhall and the north portion of Bredbury. There is a branch station at Reddish, equipped with hose tender and horse escape.

The Mechanics' Institution, in Wellington road south and St. Petersgate, built in 1862, at a cost of £6,500, is of brick with stone dressings in the Italian style, from designs by Mr. James Stephens, architect, of Macclesfield, and consists of library and reading room.

The Savings Bank, established in 1824, and situated at 43 Lower Hillgate, is managed by a committee, and the deposits, amounting to over £502,690, are under the direction and control of the Government.

In St. Peter's square is a bronze statue of Richard Cobden M.P. for Stockport 1841-7, modelled by Mr. G. C. Adams, sculptor, of London.

The Reform Club, Wellington street, erected in 1889, from designs by Messrs. Beaumont, of Manchester, at a cost of £10,000, is an edifice of red brick, the lower portion of which is let for shops.

The Theatre Royal and Opera House, St. Petersgate, was erected in 1888, and will seat 2,200 persons.

The Empire Theatre of Varieties was opened in September, 1905.

Here are foundries, machine works, breweries and flour mills, but the staple trade of the town is the spinning and manufacture of cotton and the making of hats.

The market day is on Friday, chiefly for agricultural produce, but a more considerable trade is done on Saturday. The fairs are held on January 1, on the first Friday in February, March 4 and 25, May 1, the first Friday in June, August, September and December, and on July 9 and October 23; weekly markets are held in the Castle yard, except when the Friday is a cattle day.

The Market, built in 1861, at a cost of £8,000, is of iron with a glass roof.

A Market Hall of stone and brick was erected in the Market in 1851, and is used on Fridays and Saturdays; the upper part of the building is now occupied by the Public Library, established in the year 1875, under the "Libraries Act;" the reference library contains 10,615 volumes, and the lending library 20,431 volumes; the branch library at Reddish, opened in 1908, contains 6,445 volumes.

The Sunday School Centenary Hall was opened by Lady Sheffield in 1909, and will hold 2,500 persons; the building is used for meetings of the Sunday schools, public meetings and concerts, and contains a large organ, the gift of Mrs. Jane and Miss E. Leigh.

The Infirmary, in Wellington road south, erected in 1832, was enlarged in 1871 and 1882, at a cost of nearly £13,000, and in 1897 a north wing was added at a cost of £14,000; it is a structure of brick, fronted with freestone, and is available for 88 in-patients; during 1909 upwards of 8,900 patients were under treatment, of whom 1,198 were in-patients.

The Infectious Diseases Hospital, built by the Corporation, is about 1½ miles from the Infirmary.

The Institution for the Blind, the Deaf and the Dumb, in St. Petersgate, is a building in the Italian style, erected in 1873, and used only for industrial purposes; there is a library and a piano for the use of blind persons employed here, of whom, in 1910, there were 20, including 3 females; the institution provides spectacles for children of needy parents who are residents in the borough; Thomas Allott, manager.

Warren's Almshouses, Turncroft lane, are for three poor men, each of whom receives a weekly allowance of 6s. together with coals and rates free. In 1886 four new almshouses were built.

Viscountess Bulkeley left the interest of £2,271 for the inmates of Warren's Almshouses and for the poor, and Humphrey Warren also left £100, now in the 2¾ per cents. Thorniley's charity of £6 10s. is for bread.

Vernon Park, laid out in the year 1858, has an extent of 21a. 1r. 38p. with entrances from Newbridge lane and Turncroft lane; the grounds are tastefully laid out, and from the elevated portions some beautiful views of the surrounding district may be obtained: within the park and near to the entrance from Turncroft lane is a Free Museum.

Edgeley Park, presented to the town about 1887 by Messrs. T. H. and A. H. Sykes, and laid out at a cost of about £1,500, is an acre and a quarter in extent, and has an approach from Hardcastle road. The Corporation have since added about two acres; connected with the park are two reservoirs, on which boating can be had.

Alexandra Park, 10 acres in extent, was opened in 1908, and contains bowling greens and tennis courts.

The area of the borough is 5,485 acres; rateable value, £466,136. The population of the municipal borough in 1901 was 78,897, but by the addition of Reddish and parts of Hazel Grove-cum-Bramhall, Cheadle, Heaton Norris, Brinnington and Bredbury, added under the "Stockport Extension Order (1901)," was considerably increased and in 1910 was estimated to be 105,087.

Included in the 1901 population of Stockport are: 47 officials and their families and 700 inmates of the workhouse; 71 officials and 327 patients in the Stepping Hill Hospital; 10 officials and 119 children in the Stockport Union Cottage Homes; 17 officials and 112 boys in Bishop Brown's Catholic Industrial School; 103 in the Infirmary and 70 in the Girls' Industrial School.

The population of the ecclesiastical parishes in 1901 was:—St. Mary (parish church), 12,462; St. Peter, 2,783; St. Thomas, 16,500; St. Matthew, Edgeley, 12,460; St. Paul, Portwood, 7,031; St. George, 8,287; St. Alban, 3,192.

The population of the wards in 1901 was:—Cale Green, 6,590; Edgeley, 6,721; Heaton Lane, 6,184; Heaviley, 6,397; Hempshaw Lane, 4,960; Hollywood, 7,913; Lancashire Hill, 4,998; Old Road, 5,966; Portwood, 6,932; Reddish North, 4,977; Reddish South, 3,691; St. Mary, 3,745; St. Thomas, 5,587; Shaw Heath, 7,353; Spring Bank, 4,997; Vernon, 5,821.

The population of the parliamentary borough in 1891 was 70,263, and in 1901, 78,897, of whom 17,148 are in Lancashire.

The number of electors on the parliamentary register in 1910 was 13,002.

BRINNINGTON, the major part was added to Stockport by the "Stockport Borough Extension Act, 1901," and the rest to Bredbury township.

OFFERTON and TORKINGTON townships, formerly in Stockport civil parish, now form part of the new civil parish and Urban District of Hazel Grove-cum-Bramhall

HEATON NORRIS, a township locally in Lancashire, forming a suburb of Stockport (Cheshire), from which it is separated by the river Mersey, and has stations on the London and North Western and Cheshire Lines railways, 5¾ miles south from Manchester, in the Stretford division of Lancashire, hundred of Salford: the Mersey is here crossed by a fine bridge of eleven arches, opened in 1826, and by the viaduct of the London and North Western railway: the Ashton, Manchester and Oldham canal terminates here at Lancashire Hill. This suburb is paved, lighted with gas and supplied with water, and is intimately connected with Stockport in its trading relations, and now incorporated with that borough and civil parish. Christ Church is an ecclesiastical parish formed by Bishop's instrument, September 14, 1838, and reformed as a new district, June 16, 1854, from the ancient parish of Manchester, and in the rural deanery of Ardwick, archdeaconry and diocese of Manchester. The church, on the east side of Wellington road north, and erected in 1846 at a cost of £6,000, is a building of stone in the Early Pointed style, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, north, south and west porches, and a western tower with spire 160 feet in height and containing 5 bells and an illuminated clock, with three dials; the brass lectern is a memorial to the Rev. Charles Babington Jeaffreson M.A. late rector, d. 4 Sept. 1877: the stained east window is a memorial to Frances Louisa, daughter of the late Alderman William Williamson (1859); and there are various others; the chancel was added in 1882 at a cost of £2,454, and further restorations were effected in 1888 at a cost of about £828; the church has galleries on three sides and affords 1,230 sittings, 650 of which are free. The register of baptisms and burials dates from 1846, and of marriages from 1847. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £324, with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Manchester, and held since 1892 by the Rev. George Caruthers Little M.A. of Balliol College, Oxford, and surrogate. All Saints is an ecclesiastical parish, formed in 1888; the church, in Manchester road, erected in 1888 at a cost of £5,000, is an edifice of brick in the Gothic style, and affords about 600 sittings. The register dates from the year 1888. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £300, in the gift of the Bishop of Manchester, and held since 1891 by the Rev. Richard Masheder M.A. of Keble College, Oxford.

NORRIS BANK is an ecclesiastical parish formed in 1901. The church of St. Martin, erected in 1901, at a cost of £6,000, is an edifice of brick and terra cotta, and will seat 450. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £325, in the gift of the Crown and the Bishop of Manchester alternately, and held since 1909 by the Rev. Edward Radclyffe Ellis M.A. of Trinity College, Cambridge.

The Hope Memorial Schools were built in 1884 from plans by Messrs. Preston and Vaughan, architects, of Manchester, and will seat 300 persons for mission purposes, and hold 223 children. St. Luke's Mission Room, Bridgefield, in connection with Christ Church, was opened June 7, 1891, and will seat 200 persons. The Catholic church in Roman road, opened in 1897 and dedicated to St. Mary the Virgin, is a new edifice of brick with stone dressings, and has about 450 sittings. Sir Ralph Pendlebury's charity for orphans was founded by deed, dated November 1st, 1880, by William Rayner esq. M.D. (chairman), John Stock esq. Edward Carrington Howard esq. and Edward Walmsley esq. and is endowed with the sum of £100,000; the object of the charity is to administer out relief wherever possible, which is partly afforded in clothing and in the maintenance, education, placing out in life or otherwise assisting indigent orphans, who, or whose parents have been resident for not less than two years in the borough, parishes, or townships of Stockport, Heaton Norris, Reddish, Brinnington, Bredbury, Romiley, Offerton, Bosden, Torkington, Norbury, Bramhall, Cheadle, Cheadle Hulme, Cheadle Moseley, Cheadle Bulkeley, Stockport Etchells or Burnage, all in the counties of Chester or Lancaster: the charity is quite undenominational in its character, and there are at present (1910) about 250 orphans of both sexes on the books; the management of the charity is vested in a board of governors composed of the founders and their survivors, the mayor of Stockport for the time being (ex-officio) and there are other elected members, numbering in all fifteen. The Sir Ralph Pendlebury Memorial Hall, on Lancashire hill, opened in April, 1882, by the 6th Lord Vernon, is a structure of red brick in the Elizabethan style, from plans by Messrs. Beaumont, of Manchester. In the parish are extensive factories for the making of cotton and thread, and hats are also manufactured. There are iron-foundries, machine works and saw mills, furnishing employment to a great part of the population. Lord Egerton of Tatton and the Countess of Dundonald, of Gwyrch Castle, Abergele, are the principal landowners.

The population of the ecclesiastical parishes in 1901 was: Christ Church, 7,561; All Saints, 7,568; Norris Bank, 2,736.

REDDISH was formed, under the name of Heaton Reddish, into an ecclesiastical parish, June 30, 1865, from the civil parish of Manchester. It was formerly governed by an Urban District Council, but this was dissolved and Reddish added to Stockport by the "Stockport Borough Extension Act, 1901"; it has stations on the London and North Western and the Great Central and Midland joint railways, and is in the Stretford parliamentary division of Lancashire, Stockport union and county court district, petty sessional division of Heaton Norris, Salford hundred, rural deanery of Ardwick and archdeaconry and diocese of Manchester. The Manchester and Stockport canal passes through the township.

The church of St. Mary, opened in August, 1864, is a building of stone in the Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel, nave, south porch and a turret containing one bell: a new vestry was added in 1895 at a cost of £450: the east window is stained and there are 400 sittings, 154 being free. The register dates from the year 1864. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £300, with residence, in the gift of five trustees, and held since 1891 by the Rev. Frank Harrison M.A. of Queen's College, Oxford.

St. Elisabeth's is an ecclesiastical parish, formed in 1884 from the parishes of St. Mary, Heaton Reddish, and St. Thomas, Heaton Norris: the church, erected in 1883, at a cost of £15,650, entirely defrayed by Sir William Henry Houldsworth bart. J.P. is an edifice of brick and stone, in the Norman style, consisting of chancel with apsidal morning chapel on the south side, clerestoried nave of four bays, aisles, south porch, organ chamber, vestries and a tower on the south side, 113 feet in height, containing 8 bells, hung in 1897: a number of the windows are stained, and represent scenes in Old Testament history: the screen and reredos are of alabaster, the latter being inlaid with gold: the church affords 700 sittings. The register of baptisms dates from 4 Jan. 1874; marriages from 1884. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £300, with residence, in the gift of Sir W. H. Houldsworth bart. and held since 1906 by the Rev. Frederick Rothwell Dean M.A. of Downing College, Cambridge.

St. Agnes' is an ecclesiastical parish, constituted by Order in Council, 11 June, 1902. The church, in Gorton road, erected in 1908, consists of chancel with chapel, nave, aisle, vestries, organ chamber and a tower containing one bell: there are 500 sittings. The register dates from the year 1902. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £350, without residence, in the gift of the Crown and Bishop of Manchester alternately, and held since 1902 by the Rev. Spencer James Gibb.

The Catholic church, dedicated to St. Joseph, built at the sole cost of Joseph Higginson esq. and consecrated December 24th, 1882. is an edifice of brick with stone dressings in the Early Decorated style, from the designs of the late Mr. Herbert E. Tijou, architect, of Manchester, and consists of a chancel, lady chapel on the north side, nave, a sacristy, vestry, south porch and a bell-cote containing one bell: the chancel has a very fine altar with tabernacle and throne, and a sculptured panel of the death of St. Joseph: in the lady chapel is a representation of the mystery of the Annunciation: the carved pulpit and font are of Caen stone, alabaster and marble; the latter stands within a baptistery protected by an iron screen with gates: the church affords 300 sittings.

There are Congregational and Wesleyan chapels in Broadstone road. Prescott's almshouses are for six poor women, each of whom receives a weekly allowance of four shillings. Willow Grove cemetery, south of the township, is private property: it covers 17 acres and contains three mortuary chapels. There are several cotton spinning and doubling mills and calico printing works; also roperies. The township also contains several handsome modern residences belonging to Stockport manufacturers. There is no lord of the manor. The principal landowners are the Earl of Wilton, H. P. Greg esq. and Sir William Henry Houldsworth bart. of 35 Grosvenor place, London S W. The soil is clay; subsoil, border clay, upper and lower, with intermediate sand. The chief crop is hay. The acreage is 1,541, of which 38 are water; rateable value, £68,592; in 1891 the population of Heaton Reddish parish was 2,663, and in 1901 was 8,668.

The population of the ecclesiastical parishes in 1901 was St. Mary, Heaton Reddish, 3,099; St. Elisabeth, 5,391.

HEATON CHAPEL and HEATON MOOR.

The above-named places, in Lancashire, suburbs of Stockport, together form the parish of Heaton Norris, and are governed by the Heaton Norris Urban District Council, established under the "Local Government Act, 1894." They are in the Stretford division of Lancashire, hundred of Salford and Stockport union and county court district.

HEATON CHAPEL is about a mile north from Heaton Norris, with a station on the London and North Western railway, and was formed into an ecclesiastical parish May 29, 1839, from the civil parish of Manchester, and is in the rural deanery of Ardwick, and archdeaconry and diocese of Manchester. The church of St. Thomas, erected in 1765, is a plain structure of brick and plaster, partly in the Gothic style of the 14th century, and consists of chancel, nave, transepts, aisles, north porch and a wooden turret at the west end containing one bell: the east window and some others are stained: the remaining windows contain a complete collection of the arms of all the English and Welsh sees: at the west end is a brass tablet erected to commemorate the seven years' wardenship (1874-81) of J. T. Hope and T. Beaumont, by whose efforts the church was extensively repaired during that period, at a cost of over £2,000. On the south side is a marble monument, erected in 1850 to William Travis, for more than 40 years master of Heaton Norris school, who died 6th Nov. 1843; and on the north side another to the Rev. Dudley Jackson B.C.L. 36 years rector of the parish, d. 27 Dec. 1879: the church affords 906 sittings, of which 250 are free. The register of baptisms dates from 1765, of marriages from 1838, and of burials from 1767; they are in fair condition. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £540, with residence, in the gift of the Dean and Chapter of Manchester, and held since 1907 by the Rev. Shaw Slater Sutcliffe M.A. of Trinity College, Dublin. A lending and reference library of 800 volumes, formerly attached to the church, was transferred in 1875 to the Sunday school and is open on Tuesdays only from 3 to 4 p.m. The area is 666 acres; the population in 1871 was 1,742; in 1881, 3,060; in 1891, 2,269; and in 1901, 3,190.

St. Thomas' Public Elementary School, built in 1867, for 100 children, is now used as an infants' school, & a new mixed school was built in 1891, for 408 children; average attendance, infants 90, mixed 240; Albert Hindley, master; Miss G. E. Briscoe, infants' mistress

Railway Station, Harold Fell Hunter, station master

HEATON MOOR is an ecclesiastical parish formed on May 7, 1878, from the parishes of Heaton Norris and St. John, Heaton Mersey, and is in the rural deanery of Ardwick and archdeaconry and diocese of Manchester. The church of St. Paul, the foundation stone of which was laid 3 April, 1875, was opened 29 Sept. 1876, and consecrated by a former Bishop of Manchester, 25 Jan. 1877: it is a building of stone in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel, nave of four bays with clerestory, aisles, south-west porch, and a tower at the south-east angle containing one bell; it was enlarged in 1894 by the addition of two bays: there are now 630 sittings, one-third being free. The register dates from the year 1877. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £550, in the gift of five trustees, and held since 1889 by the Rev. William Hanbury Smartt B.D. of Trinity College, Dublin, and rural dean of Ardwick. The Wesleyan chapel, Heaton Moor road, erected in 1873, is a building of stone in the Gothic style, with a lofty tower and spire on the south-west, and was enlarged in 1901 so as to seat 600 persons. The Free church, King's drive, erected 1901, is a structure of red brick with terra-cotta facings and will seat 250 persons. The Congregational chapel, Heaton Moor road, erected in 1896, is a stone building of Gothic design: there are sittings for 530. The population of the ecclesiastical parish in 1901 was 2,706.

STOCKPORT ETCHELLS, see Gatley.

STOCKTON HEATH is a large parish and village one mile south from Warrington, created a civil parish from that of Appleton by Local Government Board Order No. 36,382, dated Oct. 1, 1897; it is in the Knutsford division of the county, parish of Great Budworth, hundred of Bucklow, petty sessional division of Daresbury, Runcorn union, county court district of Warrington, rural deanery of Frodsham, and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The Bridgewater canal undertaking of the Manchester Ship Canal Co. forms the southern boundary of the parish. The ecclesiastical parish was formed in 1838 from the parishes of Great Budworth and Runcorn. The church of St. Thomas, erected in 1826 and rebuilt in 1868 at a cost of about £13,000, is a sandstone edifice consisting of chancel, nave of five bays, south aisle, south porch and an embattled tower containing a clock and one bell: in 1877 the interior was decorated, and a handsome reredos erected to the Rev. William Hayes, vicar to 1875: several of the windows are stained, and the church affords 500 sittings. The register dates from the year 1827. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £240, with 2 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of Sir Gilbert Greenall bart. and held since 1905 by the Rev. James Collins M.A. of Merton College, Oxford. There are Independent Methodist and Primitive Methodist chapels. A county police station with lock-up was erected here in 1864; and has stationed here one sergeant and one constable. The manufacture of spades is carried on to a small extent. Piers Egerton-Warburton esq. of Arley Hall, who is lord of the manor, and Thomas Henry Lyon esq. of Appleton Hall, are chief landowners. The soil is clay; and the subsoil sand and rock. The area of the civil parish is 176 acres of land and 13 of water; rateable value, £16,237; the population in 1901 was 2,543 in the civil and 3,795 in the ecclesiastical parish.

Parish Clerk, Christopher Spencer.

Petty Sessions for the Daresbury division are held here the second tuesday in every alternate month. For list of magistrates, see Daresbury WILDERSPOOL, formerly in the parish, is now included in the Latchford ward of the county borough of Warrington.

SUTTON (or Sutton Higher, or Downs), is a parish and extensive district, forming a populous suburb to the town of Macclesfield; it is on the road from Macclesfield to Leek, Staffs, and extends 4 miles south-south-east of Macclesfield, and in 1835 was constituted a parish out of the parish of Prestbury, in the Macclesfield division of the county, petty sessional division of Prestbury, Macclesfield hundred, union and county court district, and in the rural deanery and archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The most populous part of the township is included in the municipal borough of Macclesfield, and the Macclesfield canal passes on the west. The church of St. James, standing on the brow of a hill near Lane Ends, and erected in 1840, is a small building of stone in the Early English style, consisting of chancel (added in 1871), nave, and a western tower with spire, containing an illuminated clock and six bells, hung in 1879: the east window, a memorial to John Smith esq. of Langley, who died 8 Jan. 1870, was erected by his brother Freemasons; there is also a memorial window to the late Joseph Smith, of Langley, his nephew, who died 6 Feb. 1871, besides four other memorial windows, and there is a mural monument to Thomas Parrott esq. of Sutton, d. 29 May, 1879: a handsome mosaic reredos, reproduced from one in St. Mark's, Venice, and executed in Italy, was placed in October, 1872, as a memorial to Samuel Pearson esq. of Buglawton, d. 26 Oct. 1871: the ceiling of the nave is panelled, and that of the chancel has been beautifully painted by Italian artists: in 1880 a new vestry was built and a massive brass eagle lectern and a brass chandelier provided, and the church has a handsome carved marble font: there are 268 sittings. The register dates from the year 1840. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £205, with residence, in the gift of trustees, and held since 1904 by the Rev. Walter Ralph Gough M.A. of St. Edmund Hall, Oxford, and surrogate. The charities are of £1 18s. yearly value, for clothing. Sutton Oaks is the residence of Mrs. Philips. William Whiston esq. J.P. of Langley, is lord of the manor and principal landowner. The township is a portion of the Royal manor and forest of Macclesfield. The area is 5,026 acres of land and 69 of water; rateable value, £10,705; the population in 1901 was 1,294.

By Local Government Board Order No. 31,603, Sept. 30, 1894, that part of Sutton in Macclesfield Municipal borough was added to Macclesfield civil parish.

LANE ENDS, a little west from the church, consists of a number of houses. There is a school room here, in which divine service is held.

LANGLEY is a village and populous hamlet, three-quarters of a mile east from the church. The Wesleyan chapel at Langley, built in 1858, is an edifice in the Gothic style, and will seat 250. There is also a Wesleyan chapel at Hollin lane, erected in 1880, and a United Methodist chapel at Langley. Langley Public Institute, erected in 1883, is a building of stone, comprising reading and recreation rooms, which are open every evening. There is also an Institute at Lane Ends, with reading, billiard and recreation rooms. Langley Hall, a fine old mansion, erected in 1696, and formerly the residence of the Clowes family, is now let in several tenements. Silk printing, dyeing, finishing, silk weaving and the manufacture of small wares are carried on here.

GREAT SUTTON is a parish and village on the road from Chester to Birkenhead, about 1 mile north-east from Little Sutton station on the London and North Western and Great Western joint railway, 6½ miles north-west from Chester and 10 south-by-east from Birkenhead; in 1879 it was formed into a separate parish from the parish of Eastham, and is in the Wirral division of the county of Chester, higher division of the hundred and in the union of Wirral, county court district of Birkenhead and petty sessional division of Wirral, rural deanery of Wirral and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The church of St. John the Evangelist is a plain building of freestone, consisting of nave, south porch and a circular tower containing one bell: in 1909 a carved oak chancel screen and oak altar rails were provided and a memorial window erected to the memory of the late Peter Owen esq. who was one of the founders of the church: the stained east window is a memorial to Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Richard Shallcross esq. J.P. of Great Sutton, d. 20 Jan. 1879: the west window was erected to Eleanor Harrison, wife of the above-mentioned Peter Owen, d. 12 May, 1879: the church will seat 240 persons. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £190, in the gift of the vicar of Eastham, and held since 1900 by the Rev. Percy Douglas, of St. Aidans. Miss Naylor, of Kelmarsh Hall, Northampton and Stanley Owen esq. are the principal landowners. The area is 1,151 acres; rateable value, £3,591; the population in 1901 was 397.

By Local Government Board Order No. 23,294, a part of Great Sutton township was in 1889 added to Overpool.

LITTLE SUTTON, see Ellesmere Port.

SWETTENHAM is a parish and a village, pleasantly seated on the banks of the river Dane, 2½ miles south-east from Goostrey station on the Crewe and Stockport section of the London and North Western railway and 5 north-west from Congleton, in the Knutsford division of the county, Northwich hundred, Congleton petty sessional division, union and county court district, and in the rural deanery of Congleton, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The church, originally founded in the 13th century, is a structure of brick with freestone facings, erected in 1720, and consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave of five bays, aisles, chapel, south porch and a western tower containing a clock and 3 bells: the side chapel was erected in 1846 as a memorial to Edmund Tippings esq. at a cost of £1,000: there are 200 sittings. The register commences in 1550, and in the church is a list of the rectors from 1304. The living is a rectory, net income £258, with 19 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of and held since 1898 by the Rev. Francis Stewart Banner B.A. of Durham University. The Catholic church, erected in 1854, within the park, for the private use of the owner of the Hall, and dedicated to St. Thomas and St. Mary, is a small edifice of brick and stone in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel, nave and a small western tower containing one bell, but is at present disused. The Ancient Order of Foresters has a lodge in this place and holds a court here monthly and an annual dinner in June at the Swettenham Arms; the members of the lodge number 340. Swettenham Hall, which stands in a nicely-wooded park of 70 acres, commanding fine views of the surrounding country, is the property of Captain Thomas R. Warren-Swettenham; here is preserved the watch handed by Lord William Russell to a friend on the scaffold, 21 July, 1683, when he made the observation, "I am now done with time and must henceforward think of eternity." The Hall is occupied by Harold L. Behrens esq. Capt. Thomas R. Warren-Swettenham is lord of the manor and sole landowner. The family of Swettenham have held the manor since some time antecedent to the Conquest. The township of Swettenham contains 1,000 acres of land and 10 of water; rateable value, £1,986; the population of the whole parish in 1901 was 422, and of the township 186.

NETHER TABLEY (or Tabley Inferior) is a township in the parish of Great Budworth, on the road from Northwich to Altrincham and Manchester, and is 2 miles west-by-south from Knutsford station on the Cheshire Lines railway; in the Knutsford division of the county, Bucklow hundred, petty sessional division and union and Northwich county court district. St. Peter's chapel, standing in Tabley Park, and erected in 1675 by Sir Peter Leycester, is an edifice of brick with stone dressings, consisting of chancel, nave, north porch and a western tower containing a clock with dial, and one bell: there are several stained windows and a vestry; this is a private chapel and is used only by the family and household at Tabley House, and by the residents at any of the neighbouring farms on the estate: Rev. John Frederick William Drury M.A. of Christ Church, Oxford, has been chaplain since 1891. There is no register here, entries being made in that of Great Budworth. This place gave the title of baron to the Leycester-Warren family, but it became extinct on the death of the 3rd baron in 1895. The Hon. Lady Leighton-Warren is lady of the manor and owner of the township, and resides at Tabley House, situated about a quarter of a mile from the Old Hall, and erected in 1769; it is a mansion of red brick with stone dressings, and has in front a beautiful terrace opening towards a well-wooded park of 800 acres, with two lakes of 70 acres in extent. The Old Hall, built by John Leycester, an ancestor of the late Lord de Tabley, in the 14th century, stands on an island, a bridge connecting it with the rest of the park. Here lived that staunch loyalist Sir Peter Leycester, whose devotion to the cause of Charles I. exposed him to the fury of the Parliamentary party and inflicted great injury upon his estates; in the house is some oak furniture bearing the date 1659 and prayer books dated 1613. The soil is clay; subsoil, sand. The land is chiefly pasture. The area is 1,131 acres of land and 75 of water; rateable value, £2,314; the population in 1901 was 129.

TABLEY SUPERIOR (or Over) is a considerable township, on the road leading from Altrincham and Manchester to Chester and Northwich, and with part of the township of Mere, taken out of the parish of Rostherne, was formed into a parish, Nov. 6, 1855; it is 2 miles west-by-north from Knutsford station on the Cheshire Lines railway, 6 south-west from Altrincham and 6½ north-east from Northwich, in the Knutsford division of the county, petty sessional division and hundred and union of Bucklow, county court district of Altrincham, rural deanery of Bowdon, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The church of St. Paul was erected in 1855 by subscriptions of residents in the neighbourhood, upon land given by T. J. L. Brooke esq. of Mere Hall, and endowed by him with £1,000, besides £50 yearly in tithe from Christ Church, Oxford; twelve months after its consecration it was destroyed by fire, but was rebuilt and opened for divine service in Oct. 1856: the present church is an edifice of stone, consisting of chancel, nave of three bays, south porch, north aisle and a western turret with cupola containing one bell: the organ, presented by David Reynolds Davis esq. was enlarged in 1887 at a cost of about £80: the stained east window is a memorial to Thomas William Langford Brooke esq. of Mere, d. Sept. 14, 1872, and there are two others given by W. G. Crum esq. and by Mrs. Buxton and Miss Longridge: the church affords 240 sittings. The register dates from the year 1855. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £210, including 1½ acres of glebe, in the gift of Lieut.-Col. Henry Langford Brooke J.P. and the Bishop of Chester alternately, and held since 1900 by the Rev. Arthur Symonds M.A. of Brasenose College, Oxford, proctor in convocation, and surrogate: the vicarage, opposite the church, stands on a site given by T. J. L. Brooke esq. in 1862. There is a cemetery of 6 acres with a chapel on the Tabley Hill, belonging to the Knutsford Urban District Council. Forrest's charity, of £3 yearly, is given in money to the poor. The Hon. Mrs. Catherine M. Keane (late of Mere Hall, Knutsford) left at her death in 1894 a legacy of £1,000, which is invested in the Post Office Savings Bank and managed by trustees; the annual income, amounting to £23 12s. is distributed amongst the thrifty poor (pro rata according to their savings) at Christmas, and is confined to such cottage inhabitants of part of Mere and Over Tabley as have an amount saved from their weekly earnings deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank: trustees, Col. H. Langford Brooke and the churchwardens. The children of this place attend the schools in the adjoining townships of Mere and Nether Tabley. Over Tabley Hall, the original seat of the Danyers, or Daniels, family, now extinct, stands a short distance west of the church, and is occupied as a farmhouse. There are several farmhouses, modern erections, with good outbuildings. Lord Egerton of Tatton and the Hon. Lady Leighton-Warren are respectively lady and lord of the manor and chief landowners. The soil is sandy and clayey, and the subsoil is marl. The chief crops are wheat, oats and turnips and potatoes. The area of the township is 2,667 acres of land and 4 of water; rateable value, £5,281; the population of the parish in 1901, 717; township, 493.

TARPORLEY (formerly spelt Torporley) is a township and parish, in the Eddisbury division of the county, Tarvin union, Nantwich and Crewe county court district, petty sessional division of Eddisbury, first division of the Eddisbury hundred, rural deanery of Middlewich and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester, 2 miles north from Beeston station on the Chester and Crewe section of the London and North Western railway, 10½ east-south-east from Chester, 9½ north-west from Nantwich, 12 west-south-west from Middlewich, 11 south-south-west from Northwich and 172 from London.

Tarporley was anciently a borough; Richard Francis is mentioned as mayor in 1297, and there are records of others of later date. Under the provisions of the "Local Government Act, 1894" (56 and 57 Vict. c. 73), the town is now governed by an Urban District Council of 15 members, formed 1st Jan. 1895, and is divided into four wards. The principal street, of which the town mainly consists, is a winding thoroughfare, extending half a mile, nearly north and south, on the high road between London and Chester: many of the older houses with their gabled fronts have a pleasing and picturesque appearance. The town is lighted with gas from works erected in 1862 by a limited company, with a capital of £1,200, which was increased to £3,000 in 1908, when additional plant and mains were laid down; the water is supplied from the Liverpool Corporation's main at Tilstone. A complete system of sewerage was constructed in 1904 and extended in 1909; the outfall works, near Four Lane Ends, consist largely of sand and gravel mainly used for land filtration, the effluent being a very good one. The church of St. Helen, in the Early English style, is a spacious edifice of stone in mixed styles, consisting of chancel, nave of four bays, aisles, south porch and a tower on the south-west in the Decorated style, containing 8 bells and a chiming clock with dials facing east and west: the nave is in the Early English style: the aisles appear to have been lengthened during the Perpendicular period by the addition of two chapels, that on the north-east being the Egerton or Utkinton chapel and that on the south the Arderne or Flaxyards chapel; each has a priest's door, and the south-east chapel still retains a piscina: in the Egerton or Utkinton chapel are carved altar tombs with recumbent effigies to Sir John Crewe kt. of Utkinton, ob. 19 May, 1711; a tablet to Mary (Wagstaff), his relict, ob. 8 April, 1734, and other memorials to Jane Done, ob. 1662, and Mary Crewe, ob. 1674; in the Arderne or Flaxyards chapel are mural monuments with busts to John Crewe, of Utkinton, ob. 1670. and to Sir John Done kt. of Utkinton, ob. 14 April, 1629, whose ancestors were seated at Utkinton previous to the 12th century, and held the hereditary rangership of Delamere Forest; there are other mural monuments to Rowland Sherrard, 34 years rector of this parish, ob. 1694; Henry Ardern, of Tarporley, ob. 1775, and Catherine his wife, ob. 1777; John Done, of Salters Well, d. 1830, and others, besides several modern brasses: the windows, 12 of which are stained, are chiefly modern: a helmet, breast-plate and morion, of the period of the civil war, dug up in the neighbourhood, are preserved in the church: the chancel is divided from the nave by a wrought iron screen, the gates of which are of Florentine iron work and were the gift of Lady Haddington: the west wall and the western half of the north aisle were rebuilt 1785 in a debased style, but in 1870 were carefully restored: the whole building was restored in 1865 and 1877, from plans by Mr. James Crowther, architect, of Manchester, at a total cost of £10,249: there are 530 sittings: the churchyard was enlarged by the addition of about half an acre in 1892, at a cost of about £1,000. The registers date from 1556, and are in good condition. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £400, with 12 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of trustees and held since 1888 by the Rev. Walter Octavius Marsh Hughes M.A. of Magdalen College, Oxford.

The chapel of ease of St. John and Holy Cross at Cotebrook, erected in 1874, is an edifice of stone in the Lancet style, consisting of chancel, nave and a tower on the north-east containing a clock and 8 bells: there are 160 sittings: in 1888 the chapel was endowed with £110 yearly, and a residence for the curate built and furnished from funds raised by public subscription. A corrugated iron building was opened in Sept. 1905, for use as a men's club and recreation room. There is a Wesleyan chapel, erected in 1867, and seating 300; Primitive Methodist, built in 1846, with 100 sittings, and a Baptist chapel, erected in 1866, and seating 300; the latter has a burial ground attached. The Public Hall, Forest road, erected in 1851, at a cost of £400, raised in £5 shares, is a plain structure of brick, containing a large room, holding 400 persons, and used for concerts, balls and meetings, and a smaller room used for the meetings of the District Council. By a bequest of £19 19s. Joseph Reece, of Tarporley, established a library in 1856 in connection with the National school: the library was re-established in 1888, and is supported by annual subscriptions and funds derived from entertainments, and consists of 1,700 volumes. Tarporley races are held about the middle of April in each year: the course is near Ash Wood, about 1 mile from Tarporley, on the road to Chester. Tarporley is the head quarters of the North Cheshire Hunt, the members of which meet at the Swan hotel in the first week in November, to inaugurate the hunting season; the hounds being kept at Forest kennels, Sandiway, near Northwich. Tarporley and Hartford are convenient places for hunting visitors. The Market Hall, which adjoins the Swan hotel, and is let with that building, was erected in or about the year 1758, with materials brought from Utkinton Hall: the upper apartment, 39 feet long and 26 feet wide, and holding 150 persons, is used principally by the members of the hunt; it is adorned with finely executed full-length portraits of Sir Peter Warburton bart. and Smith Barry esq. of Marbury by Great Budworth, who died in 1784; in 1892 a portrait was added of the late Viscount Combermere, who was the oldest member of the club, and died 1 Dec. 1891; in 1897 of Captain Park-Yates; again in 1903 a three-quarter length portrait of H. Reginald Corbet esq. of Adderley, M.F.H. Cheshire Hounds for eleven years and M.F.H. South Cheshire Hounds, 1877-1901: the whole of the furniture and appurtenances are characteristic of the chase, including lists of the presidents of the Tarporley Hunt Club with the crests of their respective families since 1762: a very finely carved oak chair was presented by the Duke of Westminster K.G. on the centenary of the formation of the club in 1862, upon the back of which is inscribed "Fox preservation: throughout the whole nation: affords recreation: then drink it each man QUÆSITUM MERITIS: Good fun how rare it is: I know not where it is: save at the Swan." Fairs are held in the street on the 1st of May, the first Monday after August 24th and 11th of December, for cattle and pedlery. The Consolidated Charities, amounting to £164 yearly, are derived from land and the interest on money invested in Consols; this sum is in part distributed among the poor of the parish, either in money, bread or clothing, at the discretion of the trustees, and also applied to the apprenticing of poor children of the entire parish as well as of Clotton. The Almshouses, in High street, originally built and endowed in 1704, by Sir John Crewe and Mary his wife, were rebuilt by the trustees under the will of John Arden, in 1826, and are for four poor widows of the parish, each of whom receives 8s. 9d. per quarter. in addition Mrs. W. T. Mann (d. Oct. 1898), of Bowmere, left £900; the interest, producing 10s. monthly, is equally divided. Almshouses, erected by J. B. Rowcliffe, of Alderly Edge, in 1897 for 4 aged people, who pay a nominal rent for repairs &c. to the homes. The Done Recreation room, a structure of brick, standing on the Rectory glebe, was originally erected by Dame Dorothy Done, in 1636, as a school, and endowed in 1662 by Dame Jane Done for that purpose: in 1888 it was thoroughly restored and a reading room added, at a cost of about £150, chiefly defrayed by the Earl and Countess of Haddington: the building now comprises two large rooms, furnished with billiards and other games. The Police Station was erected in 1908-9. On the south, the lofty eminence of Beeston Rock, crowned with the ruins of the Castle; and the thickly wooded and picturesque hills of Peckforton and Broxton, form a bold picture. From the base of these hills, westward, the view embraces the vale of the Dee and the city of Chester, with the Welsh mountains in the background. Portal, the seat of the Hon. Marshall Jones Brooks M.A. stands in a park of about 100 acres. The Earl of Haddington, who is lord of the manor, and the Dean and Chapter of Chester are the chief landowners. The ecclesiastical parish and Urban District comprises the townships of Eaton, Rushton, Tarporley and Utkinton, containing together a population in 1901 of 2,644 and 6,193 acres of land; rateable value, £16,425: the township of Tarporley contains 1,165 acres, and 1,093 inhabitants; rateable value, £5,907.

EATON is a township and small village in the parish of Tarporley, from which place it is a mile and half to the north-east. The church of St. Thomas, chapel of ease to the Parish church, was erected in 1896 of red brick, the cost, amounting to £2,000, being defrayed from funds raised by subscription: in 1900 stained windows were inserted in the chancel to the memory of the late Mrs. Mann. Here is a recreation room. Miss Manley left, in 1837, £2 10s. yearly, and Mr. Thomas Hough, in 1835, £14 yearly for distribution in money. Arderne Hall, the seat of the Earl of Haddington K.T., J.P. and formerly called "Eaton Banks House," is a house in the Gothic style, of red brick with stone facings, standing in a park of 200 acres. In the township stands Flaxyards, a moated house, formerly one of the ancient mansions, now a farmhouse. The manor of Eaton was granted by letters patent of Henry III. to John de Grey; and thence passed to his descendants the Greys, Barons Grey de Wilton, of Wilton Castle, Hereford, and afterwards to the Greys of Ruthin, and the Capell, Dennys and Hynton families. Sir Philip Henry Brian Grey Egerton bart. of Oulton Park, who is now lord of the manor, and the Earl of Haddington are the sole landowners. The township comprises 1,344 acres, chiefly applied to pasture and grain; rateable value, £3,553; the population in 1901 was 394.

Post Office.—Thomas Ackerley, sub-postmaster. Letters arrive from Tarporley at 6.45 a.m. & 4.15 p.m.; sundays, 6.45 a.m.; dispatched 6.15 p.m.; sundays, 11.30 a.m. Tarporley, 1½ miles distant, is the nearest money order & telegraph office

Public Elementary School (mixed), erected here in 1806 by the late Mr. Thomas Hough & supported by him almost entirely at his own cost up to the time of his death in 1838, when he bequeathed £1,000 to be applied to the same purpose; the interest now (1910) amounts to £25 4s. 4d. yearly; the school was restored in 1891 at a cost of £85; it will hold 70 boys & girls; average attendance, 50; Miss Alice Turner, mistress

RUSHTON is a township and village of scattered houses in the parish of Tarporley, distant from that town 2½ miles east-north-east, 12½ from Chester, and 11½ from Northwich. There is a Wesleyan chapel at Eaton, and a Primitive Methodist chapel at Cotebrook. Boothurst, an ancient mansion in the south-east part of the township, was formerly occupied by a branch of the Weld family. Sir Philip Henry Brian Grey Egerton bart. of Oulton Park, and the Earl of Haddington are the chief landowners. The area is 1,772 acres of land and 25 of water; rateable value, £2,915; it contained in 1901 a population of 333.

Post Office, Cotebrook.—John Taylor, sub-postmaster. Letters arrive from Tarporley 7.30 a.m.; dispatched at 8.50 a.m. & 6.40 p.m.; sundays, 8.50 a.m. Tarporley is the nearest money order & telegraph office

UTKINTON is a township, 1½ miles north of Tarporley. St. Paul's School Church, erected on a site given by the Earl of Haddington, and serving as a chapel-of-ease to Tarporley, is a neat building of red brick and stone, in the Early English style, from plans by Mr. John Douglas, architect, of Chester, and consists of apsidal nave with vestry and an open western belfry containing one bell. The total cost amounted to about £1,350, raised by subscription. The building is also used as a day school (mixed and infants) for 120 children; average attendance, 77; John Watson, master. Here is a Primitive Methodist chapel, erected in 1863. Joseph Walker, of Liverpool, left in 1837 £220, the interest, producing £2 19s. a quarter, is for bread and clothing. Utkinton Hall, now a farmhouse, was for some centuries in possession of the Dones, before passing by marriage to the Arderne family in the reign of James I.; the Dones were a wealthy family, who once held very considerable possessions in the county; the mansion was originally much more extensive; some of the materials of the portions taken down were conveyed to Tarporley and used in building the present Market Hall. In the vicinity is the High Billinge, a hill, from the summit of which is afforded a fine view of the surrounding country. The Earl of Haddington is the chief landowner. The acreage is 1,889; rateable value, £4,048; the population in 1901 was 463.

Letters from Tarporley, which is the nearest money order & telegraph office, 1½ miles distant

Wall Letter Box, Quarry Bank, cleared at 8.15 a.m. & 5.55 p.m. except sundays

Public Elementary School, Cotebrook (mixed), supported in part by a sum of £3 yearly from a bequest by the Rev. Thomas Gardner, late of Chester; it will hold 70 boys & girls; average attendance, 63; Mrs. Lily Hassall, mistress

TARVIN is a township, parish and village and a union town, at the junction of the great roads from London, Manchester and Middlewich to Chester, 2¾ miles south from Mouldsworth station on the Cheshire Lines railway, 5 miles north-west from Tarporley, 8 south from Frodsham, 5½ east from Chester, 11½ south-west from Northwich, 15 north-west from Nantwich, in the Eddisbury division of the county, second division of Eddisbury hundred, Chester county court district, petty sessional division of Eddisbury and rural deanery, archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The church of St. Andrew is an ancient edifice of stone in the Late Decorated and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, nave of five bays, aisles, south porch, a chapel at the east end of the south aisle, called the Bruen chancel, and an embattled western tower, containing 6 bells, tuned and rehung in 1891 at a cost of £200; there is also a clock with chimes, erected in 1887; there is an aisle screen of 14th century woodwork: the chancel is enriched with fine oak carving and contains a brass with the Chester city arms and four English verses, to Henry Hardware, alderman and twice mayor of Chester, ob. 5 March, 1584: in the south porch is a memorial to John Thomasen, an eminent Greek scholar and 36 years master of the Grammar school here, and on the chancel floor is a stone inscribed to Thomas Dickenson, 50 years vicar of the parish, d. 12 June, 1796: the church was reseated and partially restored in 1875-6, at a cost of about £1,100; and in 1891 the chancel was restored and the timber-framed roof opened by Mrs. Bryans in memory of her husband, the late Rev. William Bryans M.A. vicar 1853-86, d. 1889: the western tower arch was thrown open, and the gallery removed in 1891-2, when the east window was filled with stained glass by the children of the late Rev. William Bryans as a memorial to their father: a new organ and chamber was inserted in 1903, and the vestry removed from the east to the west end of the church: in 1908 the external stone work of the tower and church, the six windows in the north aisle and the roof of the nave were restored at a total cost of £2,000: in 1909 a stained window was erected in the north aisle to the memory of Mrs. Bryans: there are 500 sittings. The register dates from the year 1563. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £310, with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1904 by the Rev. John Howson Wilcockson M.A. of Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge. There are Wesleyan Methodist and Primitive Methodist chapels. The Public Hall, erected in 1889, at a cost of £600, and in 1901 transferred by the trustees to the Parish Council, is an edifice of brick and stone, and comprises a large room, holding 400, occasionally used for concerts and public meetings &c. The rooms are also used for a reading and recreation club and billiards. The charities for distribution and the general uses of the poor amount to £15 7s. 1d. yearly. Col. Charles Hosken France-Hayhurst, of Bostock Hall, Northwich, and J. R. Bennion esq. of Nursted House, Petersfield, are the chief landowners, and there are several small holdings. The area of the township is 2,044 acres; rateable value, £5,258; the population in 1901 was 1,093, and 2,543 in the ecclesiastical parish.

TATTENHALL is a township, large village and parish, the latter including the townships of Golbourne Bellow and Newton; it is in the Eddisbury division of the county, lower division of Broxton hundred, Tarvin union, Chester county court district, petty sessional division of Broxton, rural deanery of Malpas, and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The village has two stations on the London and North Western railway, one at Tattenhall, close to the village, on the Chester, Whitchurch and Shrewsbury branch, and another at Tattenhall Road, one mile north-east from the village, on the Chester and Crewe branch, and is 8 miles south-south-east from Chester, 172½ miles from London, 14½ from Crewe, 10½ north-west from Nantwich: the Shropshire Union canal passes through the parish: the village is lighted with gas by a limited company. The church of St. Alban, rebuilt, with the exception of the tower, in 1870, is an edifice of red sandstone in the Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel, nave of four bays, aisles, south porch and an embattled western tower containing a clock and 6 bells: there are four stained windows and the church affords 450 sittings. The register dates from the year 1654. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £260, with 8 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester and held since 1903 by the Rev. Robert Welby Colston, of St. Aidan's. There is a Congregational chapel, founded in 1796, with 250 sittings, also Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels. The charities, for distribution in bread, clothing and money, are of £21 10s. yearly value. George Barbour esq. of Bolesworth Castle, who is lord of the manor, and the trustees of the late Robert Oliver Orton esq. are the principal landowners. The soil is clay; subsoil, marl; the land is principally grazing, and cheese is made. The area of the township is 2,925 acres; rateable value, £7,397; the population in 1901 was—parish, 1,202; township, 975.

GOLBOURNE BELLOW is a township, 2 miles north-north-west from the parish church, and consists of a few scattered farmhouses and cottages. George Barbour esq. of Bolesworth Castle, is lord of the manor and principal landowner. The area is 608 acres; rateable value, £1,062; the population in 1901 was 68.

TAXAL is a parish and small village, on the Derbyshire border of the county, 1 mile south from Whaley Bridge station on the Buxton and Stockport section of the London and North Western railway and 8 miles north-east from Macclesfield, in the Knutsford division of the county, petty sessional division of Stockport, Macclesfield hundred and union, county court district of Chapel-en-le-Frith (Derbyshire), rural deanery of Stockport, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The church of St. James, rebuilt, with the exception of the tower, in 1825, is an edifice of stone in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel, nave, transept and an ancient embattled western tower with pinnacles, containing 6 bells, 4 of which were added in 1904: the original church dated from the 13th century, and in the tower entrance is some old wainscot removed from the body of the church and bearing the date 1624 carved in the wood: there are many handsome mural monuments to Michael Heathcote, Gentleman of the Pantry and Yeoman of the Mouth to George II. d. 22 June, 1768; to Francis Jodrell esq. of Henbury Hall, d. 5 Mar. 1829; Samuel Grimshaw esq. of Erwood Hall, d. 27 Jan. 1851 and Anne his wife, d. 21 June, 1850, and others: in the chancel are brasses to the Rev. John Goode Slight M.A. rector, d. 27 Feb. 1878, and to the Rev. Edward Potts A.B. rector, d. 5 July, 1753, and to Thomas Jodrell Phillips-Jodrell, d. 1889: the east window and two others are stained; of these, one in the chancel was erected by the descendants of the Downes family, of Taxal, to William Downes, first rector of this parish in 1287. The church was restored and reseated in 1889, at a cost of £2,500, and affords 300 sittings. A new pulpit was erected in 1904 to the memory of Samuel Dixon, by his wife, and a new organ added to the church in the same year, at a cost of £360. The register dates from the year 1612. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £286, with 35 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of Col. Edward Thomas Davenant Cotton-Jodrell, of Reaseheath Hall, Nantwich, and held since 1886 by the Rev. Samuel Evans M.A. of Trinity College, Dublin. The "Cat and Fiddle," an inn in this township, situated 1,690 feet above the sea level, is said to be the highest inhabited public house in England. The charities for Taxal and Yeardsley-cum-Whaley comprise Ouffe, Gee, Nixon, Dixon, Jodrell, Hibbert, Leigh and Johnson's charities, together amounting to £12 14s. yearly, for distribution in clothing and bread and also in money to the poor of both townships: there is also 10s. for a sermon. Erwood Hall, the seat of Mrs. Gosselin-Grimshaw, is a handsome mansion situated in a park. Col. Edward Thomas Davenant Cotton-Jodrell C.B., T.D. of Reaseheath Hall, Nantwich, who is lord of the manor, Mrs. Gosselin-Grimshaw and the Duke of Devonshire P.C. are the chief landowners. The land is mountainous, but well wooded. The soil is clayey and sandy; the subsoil, rocky. The area is 3,780 acres of land and 19 of water; rateable value, £3,053; the population of the township in 1901 was 342, and in the ecclesiastical parish 1,829.

THELWALL is a township and village, and was formed into a parish Feb. 8, 1870, from the parish of Runcorn; it is on the south bank of the Mersey, which at this point resumes its course towards the mouth, after its interception by the Manchester Ship Canal, and has a station on the Altrincham and Warrington section of the London and North Western railway, 3 miles east from Warrington, in the Altrincham division of the county, Bucklow hundred, Runcorn union, Warrington county court district, petty sessional division of Altrincham, and in the rural deanery of Frodsham and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The Bridgewater canal (now belonging to the Manchester Ship Canal Co.) intersects the township, and the stream of the Laskey brook, which crosses the course of the Ship canal at this point, is carried under it by means of iron pipes. The church of All Saints, erected in 1842, is a building of stone in the Early English styie, consisting of chancel with north aisle, nave, north aisle, north transept, and a turret on the western gable containing one bell: the church affords 256 sittings. The earliest register dates from the year 1782. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £156, with residence, in the gift of the Rev. Wilfrid James Stanton M.A. of Thelwall, and held since 1869 by the Rev. Thomas Pym Williamson B.A. of Jesus College, Cambridge. On the gable end of the "Pickering Arms" is the following inscription, "In the year 920 King Edward the Elder founded a city here and called it Thelwall." Thelwall Hall, a mansion of brick, pleasantly situated in a park, is the seat of Rear-Admiral John Parry Jones-Parry J.P. who is lord of the manor. Rear-Admiral Jones-Parry, Henry Stanton esq. of Snelston Hall, Ashbourne, Derbyshire, and J. St. Vigor Fox esq. of Girsby Manor, Lincoln, are the chief landowners. The soil is clay; the subsoil clay and sand. The chief crops are oats and potatoes. The area is 1,191 acres of land and 66 of water; the rateable value, £6,325; the population in 1901 was 481. By Local Government Board Order No. 14,974, a part of Thelwall known as Old Warps was in 1884 added to Latchford.

THORNTON-le-MOORS is a small village, township and parish, 2 miles north-west from Dunham station on the London and North Western and Great Western joint railway and 6½ north from Chester, in the Eddisbury division of the county, second division of the hundred of Eddisbury, petty sessional division of Chester Castle, and Chester union and county court district and rural deanery, archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The Shropshire Union canal passes near on the west side of the parish. The church of St. Mary is an ancient edifice of local sandstone, consisting of chancel with south aisle, nave of four bays, and an embattled western tower containing a striking clock and 4 bells; on the south side of the aisle is a piscina, and there are marble tablets to the Gerrard and Perryn families, and ancient brasses to the family of Bunbury: the stained east window was presented in 1900 by Mr. Pover, of Elton Hall, and there are several others: the church, with the exception of the chancel, was completely restored in 1878 at a cost of over £1,400, and affords 250 sittings. The register dates from the year 1574. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £336, with 56 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of Hulme's trustees, and held since 1908 by the Rev. Harold Broadbent Moore M.A. of Brasenose College, Oxford. A parish room was erected near the church in 1896, at a cost of £450. The charities consist of Ackerley's charity of £1 1s. annually, Hodgkinson's of £11 and the Consolidated Charities, amounting to £31 yearly. Of the latter one half is claimed by the County Council as due to educational purposes, and the remainder is devoted to providing prizes in the day school and the relief of the poor. The churchwardens also distribute a small charity (Gerrard's) of about £2 10s. annually to the poor. Mrs. Park Yates, of Ince Hall, Chester, who is lady of the manor, Charles Gamon esq. of Parkgate, and the trustees of the late Joseph Pover esq. Ivyhurst, Newton-by-Chester, are the chief landowners. The soil is mostly sandy loam (it is a flat country), but the higher parts are clay or marl. The chief crops are oats and potatoes, most of the land being in pasture. The area of the township is 1,225 acres of land and 7 of water; rateable value, £2,027; the population of the township in 1901 was 130, ecclesiastical parish, 410.

TILSTONE FEARNALL is a township and parish formed in 1837 from the parish of Bunbury, to which was added in 1901 the townships of Alpraham and Tiverton, 1½ miles north-east from Beeston Castle station on the Crewe and Chester section of the London and North Western railway, and 12 south-east from Chester, in the Eddisbury division of the county, hundred and petty sessional division of Eddisbury, Tarvin union, Nantwich county court district, rural deanery of Malpas and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The Shropshire Union canal passes through the township. The church of St. Jude, erected about 1836, at a cost of £1,800, by Lord Tollemache of Helmingham, is an edifice of stone in the Lancet style, consisting of a nave only and an open western turret containing one bell: there are two large mural monuments in memory of the Tollemache families: the organ was given by the late Sir Gilbert Greenall 1st bart. (d. 1894) in 1892: in 1905 a carved oak reredos and altar were added, chancel floor relaid and interior of church decorated at a cost of £450: there are 250 sittings. The living was constituted a vicarage in accordance with Act 19 and 20 Vict. ch. 104 sec. 12 on the voidance of the Benefice of Bunbury in 1907, net yearly value £194, with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1908 by the Rev. Herbert Russell Sherwen M.A. of Pembroke College, Cambridge. A Parish Room was erected in 1893 at a cost of £150, raised by subscription. Tilstone Lodge, the residence of Cyril Dewhurst esq. is a mansion pleasantly seated in a small but beautiful park, on the south side of which is a large sheet of water. Tilstone House is the residence of Capt. Fredk. Howard Wingfield Fetherstonhaugh. Lord Tollemache is lord of the manor and principal landowner. The area of the township is 869 acres of land and 20 of water; rateable value, £2,633; the population in 1901 was, of the parish, 1,190; township, 184.

TIMPERLEY is a scattered village and township, formed into a parish in 1852 from the parish of Bowdon; it is on the old road from Altrincham to Stockport, 7½ miles south from Manchester, 8½ north-north-east from Knutsford, 13 from Northwich, 1½ north from Altrincham, 1 mile south from Timperley station on the Manchester,

South Junction and Altrincham railway, and half a mile from Baguley station on the Stockport and Warrington section of the Cheshire Lines railway; there is also a station in the parish on the latter line called West Timperley. The parish is in the Altrincham division of the county, east division of Bucklow hundred and union, Altrincham county court district, rural deanery of Bowdon, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The Bridgewater canal runs through a part of the township. Christ Church, erected on a site given by John Barratt esq. consecrated and opened 27 Sept. 1849, and enlarged in 1864, is an edifice of Runcorn freestone in mixed styles, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, transept, south porch and a western tower with spire containing one bell: a vestry was built in 1900 and an organ provided at a cost of £800, defrayed by the parishioners: the church affords 750 sittings. The register dates from the year 1849. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £345, with residence, in the gift of trustees, and held since 1905 by the Rev. George Daniel Wray M.A. of Jesus College, Cambridge. Here is a Wesleyan Methodist chapel, built in 1846. St. Andrew's school, in Deansgate lane, is used as a mission church, and is licensed for baptisms and Holy Communion; it will seat about 200. A recreation ground, consisting of 3½ acres, and provided with gymnasium and swings &c. was opened, at a cost of £600, in 1898. Pickering Lodge is the residence of William H. Clarke esq. and Timperley Lodge, of George Hartley esq. Oak Mount is the residence of Sir Bosdin Thomas Leech J.P. Timperley Hall is now occupied by the Timperley Golf Club. Riddings Hall, now a farmhouse, is an ancient building, approached through a stone archway and surrounded by a moat, but a great portion of the house has been modernized. Fir Tree Farmhouse is another ancient dwelling of timber and plaster with projecting gables, and has over the doorway the date 1676. The trustees of the Earl of Stamford, who is a minor, are lords of the manor. The representatives of the late Samuel Brooks esq. the trustees of J. Taylor esq. John Newton esq. of Altrincham, and George Hardy, A. Attenbury, Sydney L. Keymer, of Moatfield House, George and Duncan Stelfox, and Robert Preston Gill esqrs. and Miss Clarke are the chief landowners. The soil is clayey, and the subsoil marl. Market gardening is carried on to a great extent, and very large quantities of strawberries are grown here. The area of the parish is 1,631 acres of land and 7 of water; rateable value, £27,507; the population in 1901 was 3,215 in the civil, and 3,733 in the ecclesiastical parish.

TINTWISTLE is a parish on a long narrow peninsula, in the extreme north-easterly portion of the county, bounded by Yorkshire on the north and Derbyshire on the south, on a bold acclivity commanding a fine view of a great part of Longdendale and of the Derbyshire Peak, on the road from Stockport to Penistone, Yorks, 13 miles east from Manchester, 5 north-east from Hyde and a mile north-west from Hadfield station on the Great Central railway, Hyde division of the county, Macclesfield hundred, Glossop county court district, Dukinfield petty sessional division, Ashton-under-Lyne union, rural deanery of Mottram, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The houses are built of stone, obtained from the neighbouring quarries, and below the village runs the Etherow stream. Christ Church is an ecclesiastical parish formed in 1838. The church, erected 1837, at a cost of £2,000, is a plain edifice of local stone in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, nave, north and south porches and a western tower containing a clock and one bell: there are 800 sittings. The register dates from the year 1838. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £280, with residence, in the gift of trustees, and held since 1898 by the Rev. John William Fairhurst B.A. of Oriel College, Oxford, and B.D. of London University. There is a Congregational chapel seating 800 persons, and a Wesleyan chapel, erected in 1830, with 250 sittings. Tintwistle Hall, formerly a timber-framed mansion, but rebuilt of stone in 1653, was anciently the seat of the De Burgh family, then lords of this manor. The principal landowner is Lord Tollemache, who is also lord of the manor. The area is 11,527 acres of land and 326 of water; rateable value, £22,677, including Woodhead; the population in 1901 was 1,622 in the civil and 3,644 in the ecclesiastical parish.

UPTON (or Overchurch), near Birkenhead, is a township, parish and village with a station, about half a mile distant on the Great Central railway, 1½ miles south from Moreton station on the Wirral railway and 4 miles south-west from Birkenhead, in the Wirral division of the county, lower division of the hundred, petty sessional division and union of Wirral, county court district of Birkenhead, rural deanery, archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The church of St. Mary, erected in 1869 in place of an earlier structure, at a cost of about £5,000, is a building of stone in the Norman style, from designs by Mr. John Cunningham, architect, and consists of chancel, nave, south porch and an embattled tower on the north-west, with pinnacles and containing 5 bells: in the chancel are seven stained windows, presented by Mrs. Forbes, of Southport, as memorials to her husband, the late William Forbes esq. of The Salacres: the stained west window was given by the late William Inman esq. J.P. and one in the nave by Mrs. De Wolf, in memory of her husband, James Ratchford De Wolf esq. of The Salacres: the alabaster pulpit was the gift of the family of James R. De Wolf esq.: the church affords 320 sittings. The register dates from the year 1650. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £245, with residence, in the gift of Simeon's trustees, and held since 1909 by the Rev. George Ellis Aickin M.A. of St. John's College, Cambridge. The lay impropriator of the rectorial tithes is Col. C. H. Webster, of Bath. Here is a Presbyterian Church of England, founded in 1898, with 200 sittings. Upton Hall, now the Convent Boarding School of the Faithful Companions of Jesus, is a plain stone building, standing in 17 acres of ground. Upton Manor House, the property of Ralph Watts Leyland esq. but now (1910) unoccupied, is a large mansion of stone in the Classic style, enlarged in 1858, from designs by Mr. John Cunningham, architect: the home farm covers an area of 120 statute acres and is tenanted by Joseph Taylor. George Webster esq. of Overchurch, the Rev. Edward Mercer Webster M.A. of 11 Tollemache road, Claughton, and the Upton Land Co. Limited, are the principal landowners. The soil is sandy; subsoil, rocky. The chief crops are meadow land, corn and turnips. The area is 943 acres; rateable value, £5,984; the population in 1901 was 788.

UPTON, near Chester, is a township and consolidated chapelry, formed Dec. 8, 1882, from portions of the parishes of St. Mary-on-the-Hill and St. Oswald, Chester, 2 miles north from Chester, in the Eddisbury division of the county, lower division of the hundred of Broxton, petty sessional division of Chester Castle, Chester union and county court district, and in the rural deanery, archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The London and North Western and Great Western joint railway passes through the township. The church of the Holy Ascension, erected in 1854, is a building of local red sandstone in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel, nave, south porch and a western tower with octagonal spire containing one bell: there are 273 sittings. The register dates from the year 1855. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £170, with residence, in the gift of the Duke of Westminster, and held since 1883 by the Rev. Wilfred Sparling M.A. of Trinity College, Cambridge. There is a new Congregational chapel, built in 1900 in the Gothic style, at a cost of £2,000, with sittings for 300 persons. Sir Philip Henry Brian Grey-Egerton bart. who is lord of the manor, and the trustees of the late Charles William Potts esq. of Chester (d. 1890), are the principal landowners. The soil is loam and sand; subsoil, clay and sandstone. The land is chiefly in pasture. The area is 1,154 acres; rateable value, £11,484; the population in 1901 was 1,769, including 141 officials and their families and 971 inmates in the County Lunatic Asylum.

WALLASEY is a township, situated on an elevated ridge, with two stations on the Wirral railway, 2 and 3 miles north from Birkenhead, and another in the parish at Leasowe, on the same line, 4 miles from Birkenhead station: Wallasey is bounded on the south-east by a branch of the river Mersey, called Wallasey Pool, and on the north-west by the Irish Sea, and is in the Wirral division of the county, lower division of the hundred and petty sessional division of Wirral, union and county court district of Birkenhead, rural deanery of Birkenhead, archdeaconry and diocese of Chester.

Wallasey, with the township of Poulton-cum-Seacombe and Liscard, which together form the Urban District of Wallasey, were at the time of going to press governed by an Urban District Council, but a charter of incorporation has been granted, which comes into operation Nov. 9th, 1910. In March, 1892, the number of wards in the District was increased from 8 to 10, viz.: New Brighton, Upper Brighton, North Liscard, South Liscard, North Egremont, South Egremont, North Seacombe, South Seacombe, Poulton and Wallasey. The offices of the Urban District Council are at Egremont, where full particulars of the members and officials will be found. Wallasey is lighted with gas, and supplied with water from works at Poulton-cum-Seacombe, the property of the Urban District Council. In 1903 the Council entered into an agreement with the Liverpool Corporation to be supplied with water from Lake Vyrnwy.

The parish church of St. Hilary, originally erected in the 10th century, and rebuilt, with the exception of the tower, in 1759, was almost entirely destroyed by fire on Sunday, 1 Feb. 1857, the tower and outer walls alone remaining; the latter, being much injured, were taken down, and in 1858-9 a new church was erected near the old site in the Early English style, at a cost of £8,000, from designs by Messrs. W. and J. Hays, architects, of Liverpool; it consists of chancel, clerestoried nave, aisles, transepts, north-east and south-west porches, and an embattled central tower containing a clock and 6 bells: the organ was in 1903 enlarged and reconstructed in memory of W. T. Best esq. the celebrated organist: the old tower, the lower stage of which dates from the 13th century, has been restored at an estimated cost of £300, and is now used as a mortuary: there are sittings for 900 persons. The register dates from the year 1584. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £340, with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1896 by the Rev. William Henry Lawrence Cogswell M.A. of Wadham College, Oxford, D.D. of the University of Windsor, Nova Scotia, rural dean of Birkenhead, chaplain to the Bishop of Chester, and surrogate. The Church Hall, in Wallasey Village, costing about £2,500, raised by public subscription, and seating 700 persons, is a red brick building in the Queen Anne style. Here is a Wesleyan chapel. The Wallasey Cottage Hospital, in Clare Mount road, was established in 1866: the present hospital, erected in 1885, at a cost of £2,000, on a site given by R. C. de G. Vyner esq. is a structure of brick, from designs by Mr. John Clarke, architect, of Liverpool, and contains 21 beds. The Liverpool Summer Camp for Girls, in Leasowe road, is a structure of brick, erected at the cost of James Samuelson esq. and available for 44 girls; it was opened in May, 1895, and is supported by public subscriptions. The Wallasey Working Men's Institute, in St. George's road, was established in 1876: the building, erected at the cost of George H. Peers esq. of Wallasey, is of red brick, and has a small library attached, and there are reading and billiard rooms, a concert room and committee room: the members at present number 56 and the management is entrusted to a committee of 12 persons. Several golf clubs have their head quarters on the Sand hills. The charities amount to about £8 10s. yearly. Wallasey Pool, which has been utilized for the docks at Birkenhead, covers the remains of an ancient forest. Stumps of trees embedded in peat are numerous, and are found covered over with blue clay or silt. In this deposit the horns of the Red Deer (Cervus elephas) have been met with, as well as skulls and horns of 2 species of wild ox—Bos primigenus and Bos longifrons; in the year 1864 a human skeleton, the bones of which were encrusted with marine creatures—zoophytes and barnacles—was discovered, and sent to the museum of the Royal College of Surgeons in London as being probably the remains of a prehistoric man. Leasowe Castle, now a convalescent home for railwaymen, and once known as "Mockbeggar Hall," is supposed to have been built by the Earls of Derby, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, for the purpose of witnessing the races which were anciently held here, and in considerable repute until about 1760; it was at these races that the Duke of Monmouth, son of Charles II. rode his own horse, and won the plate, which he presented to his godchild, the daughter of the Mayor of Chester: in the house is a very curious old picture of a horse race in which King James I. and his Queen are introduced: the castle, situated on the shore of the Irish Sea, is built in an octagonal form, with turrets on the alternate faces, and affords excellent views; the carved oak fittings of the famous Star Chamber, abolished by Act of Parliament in July, 1641, were removed here from the old palace of Westminster, and the staircase is decorated with a record of the victories of England, naval and military, between Blenheim and Waterloo: in consequence of the encroachment of the sea the land here has been embanked. In Breck road is a monument to Mrs. Boode, of Leasowe Castle, who was killed by a fall from her pony carriage, April 21st, 1826. There are no manorial rights. Robert Charles de Grey Vyner esq. of Gautby, Lincolnshire, Frederick James Harrison esq. of Maer, Staffordshire, and Heath Harrison esq. of Lecourt, Hampshire, are the principal landowners. The area of the parish is 1,546 acres of land, 8 of inland water and 563 of foreshore; rateable value, £61,767; the population of the civil parish in 1901 was 4,169; ecclesiastical parish, 5,274; urban district, 53,579.

The area of the Urban District is:—Wallasey, 1,554 acres; Liscard, 961 acres; Poulton-cum-Seacombe, 834 acres; total, 3,349 acres. The population in 1901 was: Wallasey, 4,169; Liscard, 28,661; Poulton-cum-Seacombe, 20,749; total, 53,579.

The population of the Urban District wards:—Egremont, 8,877; Liscard, 9,299; New Brighton, 5,760; North Seacombe, 6,796; Poulton, 5,931; South Seacombe, 7,334; Upper Brighton, 5,413; Wallasey, 4,169.

Since the publication of the 1901 census the Urban District has been redivided into ten wards.

WALTON is a village and parish, formed in May, 1885, and consisting of the townships of Walton Superior, Walton Inferior and Acton Grange (formerly included in the parishes of Daresbury and Stockton Heath), in the Knutsford division of the county, Bucklow hundred, Daresbury petty sessional division, Runcorn union and Warrington county court district, and in the rural deanery of Frodsham, and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The village is on the high road from Warrington to Runcorn, and is about 1½ miles north from Daresbury station on the London and North Western and Great Western joint railway and 2½ south-west from Warrington. The church of St. John the Evangelist, erected by the late Sir Gilbert Greenall bart. M.P. at a cost of about £17,000, and consecrated in May, 1885, is an edifice of Runcorn red sandstone in the Decorated and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel (with vestry), nave, dwarf transepts, south porch and a fine central tower with spire: the roof is handsomely painted, the reredos of carved oak displays in the centre the Crucifixion, and on either side figures of the Evangelists: the organ cost £1,200: there are 290 sittings: at the entrance to churchyard is a lych gate. The register dates from 1879, and contains entries made during the existence of the previous "Peel district." The living is a vicarage endowed with £150 yearly, net annual value £295, with residence, in the gift of Sir Gilbert Greenall bart. and held since 1885 by the Rev. Leicester John Theodore Darwall B.D. of New College, Oxford. The parish room, erected in 1885 by Sir Gilbert Greenall bart. is used as a reading room and for the boys' Sunday school. There is a small charity, the rent of two fields, given by an unknown benefactor, and amounting to about £3 yearly, which is distributed by trustees. Walton Hall, the seat of Sir Gilbert Greenall bart. is a handsome mansion of brick, in the Elizabethan style, in an extensive park. Walton Lea is the residence of Col. Harry Ramsden Armitage. Sir Gilbert Greenall bart. is the chief landowner. The soil is clay; the subsoil, clay and sand. The chief crops are wheat, oats and potatoes. The area of Walton Superior township is 427 acres of land and 11 of water; rateable value, £2,183; the population in 1901 was 215, and of Walton ecclesiastical parish, 429.

ACTON GRANGE is a township and small scattered village, 2½ miles south-west from Warrington. The London and North Western railway and the joint railway of that company and the Great Western, as well as the Bridgewater undertaking of the Manchester Ship Canal Co. intersect this township. The Elms, the seat of Henry Charles Burder esq. J.P. is a handsome edifice, standing on an eminence, and commanding fine views. Sir Gilbert Greenall bart. is lord of the manor and chief landowner. The soil is clay; subsoil, sand and clay. The chief crops are wheat. The area is 960 acres of land, 20 of water, 21 of tidal water and 20 of foreshore; rateable value, £4,398; the population in 1901 was 145.

WARBURTON is a township and parish on the south bank of the Mersey, here crossed by an iron bridge of one arch, erected in 1864-5 to connect this place with the adjoining county of Lancaster, and now the property of the Manchester Ship Canal Co. The township is 12 miles from Manchester, 9 from Knutsford, 7 north-east from Warrington, 5 west from Altrincham, three-quarters of a mile from Hollins Green Ferry across the Mersey, and 1 mile from Heatley and Warburton station on the Stockport and Warrington section of the London and North Western railway, in the Altrincham division of the county, hundred and union of Bucklow, Altrincham petty sessional division and county court district, and in the rural deanery of Bowdon, archdeaconry of Macclesfield, and diocese of Chester; the river Bollin passes through the parish and separates the township from Lymm on the south-west. The church of St. Werburgh, now used only for weekday and funeral services, is an ancient timber-framed structure, repaired with stone in the 17th century, and consists of chancel, nave of four bays, aisles, separated from the nave by wooden pillars, south transept, and an eastern tower of brick, containing one bell; the east window is stained, and on the south wall is a brass placed there in 1877, and bearing the date 1645, formerly cut in this wall. The interior of the church was completely restored in 1894, at a cost of £70, raised by the parishioners. A stone coffin and several ancient slabs have been found. In the churchyard are a number of handsome tombs and headstones.

The new church of St. Werburgh, erected at the sole expense of the late R. E. Egerton-Warburton esq. amounting to £9,000, and consecrated in 1885, is a building of Runcorn stone in the Early Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel, nave, north aisle, south-west porch, and a north-east embattled tower, containing 8 bells: the east window is stained, and there are 300 sittings. The register of baptisms dates from 1611; burials, 1538; and marriages, 1676. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £260, with residence, in the gift of Piers Egerton-Warburton esq. and held since 1872 by the Rev. Geoffrey Egerton-Warburton B.A. of St. Mary Hall, Oxford. The parish room, erected in 1889, is close to the new church.

Drinkwater's, Leigh's and Laurenson's charities provide about £5 yearly for clothing. The base of the ancient Market Cross, consisting of four steps, still remains, but no part of the shaft is now left. Here is an extensive flour mill, worked by the river Bollin, which flows into the Mersey. Piers Egerton-Warburton esq. of Arley hall, is lord of the manor and sole landowner. The soil is sandy loam and black bog; the subsoil, various, running into sandstone rock. The land is chiefly occupied in growing for the Manchester market. The population in 1901 was 403; the area is 1,849 acres of land and 23 of water; rateable value, £4,777.

Moss Brow is a place here.

WARMINGHAM is a parish and township on the river Wheelock, 4 miles west from Sandbach and 2½ west from Sandbach station (in Elworth parish) on the Crewe and Manchester section of the London and North Western railway. The township is in the Eddisbury division of the county, hundred of Northwich, petty sessional division of Middlewich, union and county court district of Nantwich, rural deanery of Congleton, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The church of St. Leonard, originally of timber, was rebuilt in 1870 (with the exception of the tower, erected 1715, but modernized in 1899), and is now an edifice of stone in the Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel, nave of three bays, transepts, aisles, north porch and a western tower with eight pinnacles and containing a clock and 6 bells: on the west wall is a mural painting representing the four Evangelists: four of the windows are stained, and there are 320 sittings. The register dates from the year 1538. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £394, with residence, in the gift of the Earl of Crewe K.G., P.C. and held since 1903 by the Rev. Talbot Monckton Milnes Griffiths M.A. of Keble College, Oxford. The charities for distribution amount to £8 6s. yearly. The Earl of Crewe K.G., P.C. is lord of the manor and principal landowner. The soil is clay, alternating with sand in places. The greater part of the land is used for grazing purposes. The area of the township is 2,108 acres of land and 13 of water; rateable value, £4,017; the population of the entire parish in 1901 was 567; township, 218.

WAVERTON is a parish, township and village, with a station on the Chester and Crewe section of the London and North Western railway, 4 miles south-east-by-east from Chester, in the lower division of the Broxton hundred, Eddisbury division of the county, Tarvin union, Chester county court district, petty sessional division of Broxton and rural deanery, archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The parish is intersected by the Shropshire Union canal. The church of St. Peter, given by Hugh de Abrincis, surnamed "Lupus," 1st Palatine Earl of Chester, to the abbey of St. Werburg, at Chester, is an ancient edifice of stone, rebuilt probably in the reign of Henry VII. and now in the Perpendicular style; it consists of chancel, south-eastern chapel, clerestoried nave of three bays and aisles, and has a lofty embattled western tower containing a clock and 6 bells, the largest of which bears the date and initials 1615 C.L and on the fourth is the inscription, "JHESUS BE OUR SPEED;" the bells were rehung in 1908 and two new ones added, the gift of Mrs. Spibey, of The Mount: there are mural monuments to the Rev. Joseph Bower, rector here for 40 years, d. 1844; to the Rev. John Prescot M.A. d. 1767, and others, and a brass to Peter Dutton esq. J.P. of Hatton, ob. 1669: on the wall underneath the belfry is a quaint old table of tithes payable to the minister of Waverton: the church was repaired in 1845, and in 1888 was thoroughly restored and a chancel screen of carved oak erected, at a total cost of about £2,000, entirely defrayed by the 1st Duke of Westminster K.G., P.C. (d. 1899), in whose memory a new pulpit was provided in 1903: there are 250 sittings. The register dates from the year 1582. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £240, including 33 acres of glebe, with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1901 by the Rev. Francis Willoughby Jones M.A. of Lincoln College, Oxford. There are Presbyterian and Wesleyan chapels near Egg Bridge. The charities amount to £15 1s. 10d. yearly, of which sum the poor of Waverton receive £10 6s. 10d. and those of Hatton and Huxley £2 7s. 6d. each. Here is a stone quarry, belonging to the Duke of Westminster, and there is also a steam flour mill. The Duke of Westminster G.C.V.O. is lord of the manor and chief landowner. The land is mostly in pasture for dairy purposes, and the locality is celebrated for its cheese. The soil is mostly clay; subsoil, sandstone. The area of the township is 1,174 acres of land and 12 of water; rateable value, £3,860; the population in 1901 was, township, 384; ecclesiastical parish, 518.

By Local Government Board Order No. 22,404 a farm house at Egg bridge, in Christleton township, was in 1888 added to Waverton.

Parish Clerk, John Walker.

HATTON is a small township, consisting of scattered farmhouses and a few cottages, on the road from Whitchurch to Chester, 1¼ miles south of Waverton station on the Crewe and Chester section of the London and North Western railway, and 5¼ miles south-east from Chester. George Vere Hugh Cholmondeley esq. of Leigham, Plympton, Devon, is lord of the manor and chief landowner: the manor of Hatton appears to have originally formed part of that of Waverton, and during the 11th century was for some time held by a family calling themselves "de Hatton"; the old hall, not now existing, was a fine example of the half-timber and plaster mansions common to this county, similar in design to that of Little Moreton, and, like it, surrounded by a moat crossed by a drawbridge and overshadowed by magnificent oak trees of great age and girth, one of which, existing in 1864, measured 26 feet round at the base. The area is 1,451 acres of land, chiefly grass land, and 14 of water; rateable value, £2,235; the population in 1901 was 134.

Post Office, Hatton Heath.—William Hall, sub-postmaster. Letters through Chester arrive 6 a.m.; dispatched 7.55 p.m.; sundays, arrive 6 a.m.; dispatched 10.55 a.m. Tattenhall is the nearest money order & telegraph office, 2½ miles distant

WEAVERHAM is a parish comprising the townships of Acton, Cuddington, Wallerscote, and the township and lordship of Weaverham, in the Northwich division of the county, second division of Eddisbury hundred, petty sessional division of Eddisbury, union and county court district of Northwich, rural deanery of Middlewich and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. Weaverham is a township and considerable village near the navigable river Weaver, in the parishes of Weaverham and Whitegate, a mile east from Acton Bridge station on the London and North Western, and 2½ miles north-west from Hartford station on the London and North Western and Great Central railways, 2½ north from Cuddington station, on the Northwich and Altrincham section of the Cheshire Lines railway, 3½ north-west from Northwich, 9 north-west from Middlewich and 15 north-east from Chester. The small hamlet of Milton is included in the township, but the lordship includes also the hamlets of Gorstage and Sandiway. The townships of Weaverham and Acton are supplied with water from works at Weaverham, erected in 1891, at a cost of about £2,000, the water being obtained from a deep well. The church of St. Mary, supposed to occupy the site of the church which existed here at the date of the Doomsday Survey, is a building of stone in the Late Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel, nave of five bays, aisles, with the Grange and Crowton chapels at the east end of the north and south aisles respectively, south porch and an embattled western tower containing a clock and 6 bells, rehung in 1878: the stained east window was erected by subscription in 1869: in the north aisle is a memorial window to the Rev. Charles Spencer Stanhope, a former vicar, who died Oct. 29th, 1874; one in the Crowton chapel, the gift in 1869 of the late G. F. Wilbraham esq. J.P. of Delamere House; one in the Grange chapel, presented by the late R. Heath esq. of Hefferston Grange, in 1868; and one in the south aisle, the gift of J. Douglas esq. of Chester, in memory of his father, John Douglas, who died April, 1862, and his mother and sisters; the stained west window was given by A. Johnson esq. of Weaverham Grange, in 1877: there are marble tablets to George Wilbraham esq. of Delamere House, and Lady Ann (Fortescue) his wife, d. 1864; and another to Colonel Mompesson, governor of the Isle of Wight in 1768, who died 3rd Oct. 1768: the church was partially restored in 1855 and 1877, at a cost of about £2,000, and affords 640 sittings. The register dates from the year 1576. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £371, with 10 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1895 by the Rev. Francis Long M.A. of University College, Oxford. There are in the township two Wesleyan Methodist and Baptist and Primitive Methodist chapels. The charities for distribution in bread, clothing and money amount to about £63 yearly, of which sum £4 11s. is paid to the vicar of Crowton, derived in part from the school and poor's land of 25 acres: there are also charities of £2 17s. for the clergy, for two annual sermons. Hefferston Grange, the seat of Isidor Frankenburg esq. about a mile from the village, is a fine brick mansion, in extensive pleasure grounds. Weaverham Grange, a modern mansion of brick, is the seat of Alfred Johnson esq. Pettypool Hall, erected in 1908, and pleasantly situated in a park, is the seat of Viscount Cole. Sandiway House is the seat of John Fowler Leece Brunner esq. M.P., J.P. Lord Barrymore P.C.(Irel.), of Fota Island, Queenstown, Ireland, who is lord of the manor, the trustees of the late Robert Heath esq. Lord Delamere and J. B. Littledale esq. of Brookdale, Bunbury, are the principal landowners. The soil is chiefly a sandy loam, with a subsoil of sand and clay. The chief crops are wheat, oats, potatoes and turnips. The area of the township is 3,599 acres of land and 24 of water; rateable, £18,570; the population in 1901 was: parish, 2,723; township, 1,882.

Gorstage is a mile south; Sandiway, 2 miles south-south-east; these are in Weaverham lordship.

The church of St. John the Evangelist, SANDIWAY, was opened in 1903, and consists of chancel and nave, and erected at a total cost of between £6,000 and £7,000: the chancel and east stained window were given by the architect, John Douglas esq. of Chester, and the west window erected by subscription in memory of Park Yates esq. of Sandiway. The services are under the direction of the vicar of Weaverham.

Milton is a hamlet in Weaverham township.

Parish Clerk and Sexton, Charles E. Bebbington.

WESTON BY RUNCORN is a township and village at the confluence of the rivers Mersey and Weaver, 2½ miles south-west from Runcorn, the nearest railway station on the London and North Western railway, in the Northwich division of the county, parish, petty sessional division, union and county court district of Runcorn. The village is lighted with gas by the Runcorn Gas Company. The church of St. John the Evangelist, attached to the parish church of Runcorn, and erected in 1898 at a cost of £5,000, is a building of stone in the Early English style, with north porch and a western tower containing one bell: the east window is stained: the three manual organ was presented by the late Thomas Spencer esq.: the church contains a carved stone pulpit, many brasses and carvings, and affords 400 sittings. This church is well known as the "Choir Boys' Church," for the reason that about 5,000 choir boys, from different parts of the county, subscribed to the building. There is a Wesleyan Methodist chapel, built in 1851, and seating 420 persons. A day and Sunday school was built in 1873 at a cost of £2,675. The Village Cross—an old preaching cross—which stands at the extremity of the Green, was restored in commemoration of the Diamond Jubilee (1897) of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, at the expense of Major J. C. Orred. Here are some of the largest freestone quarries in the county, the stone from which is conveyed by tramway to the neighbouring rivers and canals. Adjoining, on the banks of the river Weaver, are large chemical works, carried on by the United Alkali Company Limited. The trustees of the late Major John Cavendish Orred, of Lavant House, Chichester, and the trustees of the late William Bankes esq. who are joint lords of the manor, Thomas Bankes, the trustees of the late John Barwise Dutton, of Chester, the trustees of the late Philip Whiteway esq. and the Weaver Navigation trustees and others are the chief landowners. The soil is rocky; the subsoil is rock and freestone. The area is 885 acres of land, 140 of water, 37 of tidal water and 266 foreshore; the population in 1901, including Weston Point, was 2,115; rateable value, £14,013.

Post & M. O. Office.—William Atherton, sub-postmaster. Letters from Runcorn arrive at 7 a.m. & 5.30 p.m. & dispatched at 9 a.m. & 7.55 p.m.; sundays, 7.30 p.m. Weston Point is the nearest telegraph office, 1 mile distant

WESTON POINT is a village on the Mersey, half a mile west from Weston and 1½ from Runcorn, in Weston township, and in the parish of Runcorn, rural deanery of Frodsham and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The Manchester Ship canal closely follows at this point the outward bend of the Cheshire shore, and is separated from the estuary of the Mersey by a massive training wall, constructed on piles driven into the bed of the river, which thus from Runcorn bridge also forms the bed of the Ship canal: in that part of the training wall which crosses the mouth of the Weaver, are the Weaver sluices, ten in number, constructed for the purpose of allowing the waters of the Mersey to flow in and out of the Weaver with the tide: the sluices, 44 feet in height, are built of brick, faced with red sandstone, and rest on a foundation of solid concrete, deeply laid in the bed of the river: each of the ten openings is fitted with huge iron gates, which are raised or lowered by means of hydraulic machinery. At Weston Point are the docks of the Weaver Navigation, constructed by the trustees in 1869, and connected both with the Ship canal and with the Weaver canal, cut in 1807 in order that the Weaver Navigation might be independent of tidal influences, and which has also a branch connecting it with Runcorn, and has communication with the Ship canal through a lock 229 feet long and 42 feet wide. About a mile higher up the Weaver is the Weston Marsh lock, which gives entrance to the Weaver canal, and is constructed to admit the largest vessels likely to navigate it, and by means of gates can be converted into 4 locks for the passage of smaller craft. There is a lighthouse at Weston Point and another at Hayle Point, on the Lancashire side of the Mersey. There is a line of railway from Weston Point to Runcorn, for goods traffic only. Christ Church, erected in 1841, is a building of red sandstone, in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel, nave, transept, south porch, and a western tower with octagonal spire containing a clock and one bell: the church affords 250 sittings. The register dates from the year 1842.

The living is a perpetual curacy, net yearly value £150, with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and is at present (1910) vacant. Here is a Wesleyan Methodist chapel, erected in 1872, at the cost of £1,100, defrayed by Thomas Hazlehurst esq. and seating 280 persons: a school was built in 1900 at a cost of £800. The Weaver Navigation trustees are the chief landowners. The soil is sandy; the subsoil, rock.

Post, M. O. & T. Office.—John Dunbavin, sub-postmaster. Letters from Runcorn arrive at 7.30 a.m. & 6 p.m.; dispatched at 8 & 9.40 a.m. & 7.30 p.m

WETTENHALL (or Wetenhall) is a township and scattered village, on the road from Nantwich to Warrington, and was formed into a parish from the parish of Over, about 3 miles north-east from Calveley station on the Crewe and Chester section of the London and North Western railway, 5½ east from Tarporley and 7 north-west from Nantwich, in the Eddisbury division of the county, first division of the hundred of Eddisbury, petty sessional division of Eddisbury, union and county court district of Nantwich, rural deanery of Middlewich and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The church of St. David, erected in 1870, is a plain edifice of red brick, consisting of chancel, nave, transept and a western turret containing one bell: the church affords 150 sittings. The register dates from the year 1820. The benefice is a perpetual curacy, net yearly value £150. including 41 acres of glebe, in the gift of the vicar of Over, and held since 1889 by the Rev. Edgar Stockdale, who is also curate in charge of Calveley, and resides at St. David's Parsonage, Alpraham, Tarporley. There is a Primitive Methodist chapel, erected in 1861, and a Wesleyan Methodist chapel, built in 1901. Wettenhall Hall, erected in 1635, and for some time the seat of the family of that name, is a gabled structure with long windows, the property of William Henry Verdin esq. and is now occupied as a farmhouse. At the time of the Domesday Survey, Wettenhall formed part of the estates of Gilbert de Venables, Baron of Kinderton: in the time of Henry I. it gave its name to a family, one of whom, Adam de Wetenhall, was appointed in 1219 governor of Carnarvon Castle; John de Wetenhall, in the reign of Edward II. had six daughters, who were co-heiresses; of these, two died without issue; two others divided the share which their father possessed of the barony of Wich Milbank (Nantwich); and the remaining two, Margaret and Elizabeth, brought their moieties of Wettenhall in marriage to Sir Adam Bostock and Sir Richard de Manley. Subsequently the Brerетons became possessed of the manor, and held it till the reign of Charles I. when Richard Brereton died seised of one-half of Wettenhall, with messuages in Chester, and the advowson of the church of St. Mary in that city. About the middle of the 17th century the estate was purchased from John Brereton esq. by Roger Wilbraham esq. of Dodford Hall. William Henry Verdin esq. of Darnhall Hall, who is now lord of the manor, and Lord Tollemache are the chief landowners, and there are, besides, a few smaller proprietors. The area is 1,976 acres; rateable value, £3,066; the population in 1901 was 214.

Woodside is a hamlet of two farmhouses.

Letters through Winsford arrive at 8.20 a.m.; no delivery of letters on sundays. The nearest money order & telegraph office is at Over, 3 miles distant

WHALEY BRIDGE (the more generally accepted name of Yeardsley-cum-Whaley), a parish and village in the ecclesiastical parish of Taxal and on the high road to Buxton, with a station on the Manchester and Buxton branch of the London and North Western railway, 8 north-east from Macclesfield and 10½ miles south-east from Stockport, in the Knutsford division of the county, petty sessional division of Stockport, hundred and union of Macclesfield and county court district of Chapel-en-le-Frith (Derbyshire); the river Goyt is here crossed by a bridge connecting the counties of Cheshire and Derbyshire; and the Peak Forest canal passes through.

Under the provisions of the "Local Government Act, 1894" (56 and 57 Vict. c. 73), the parish is governed by an Urban District Council.

There is a Congregational chapel, erected in 1869, with 220 sittings, a Baptist chapel, an iron Mission room at Bridgemont, and a United Methodist chapel at Furness Vale; the Catholic chapel, a building of white stone, was erected in 1902. The Mechanics' Institute, erected in 1876, is a fine building of stone with a reading room and library. There are adjacent coal mines of considerable extent, but these are not now being worked. Col. Edward Thomas Davenant Cotton-Jodrell C.B. of Reaseheath Hall, is lord of the manor and chief landowner. The soil is clay; the subsoil, chiefly rock. The area of Yeardsley-cum-Whaley civil parish and Urban District is 1,295 acres of land and 32 of water; rateable value, £9,543; the population in 1901 was 1,487.

FURNESS VALE is partly in this parish and partly in Disley.

WHEELOCK (in Domesday Queloc) is a township and parish formed in 1840 from the parish of Sandbach; it is on the road from Sandbach to Crewe, with a station on the Sandbach branch of the North Staffordshire railway, and is 1 mile south from Sandbach, 5 from Crewe, 6 from Middlewich and 2 from Sandbach station, in Elworth parish, on the London and North Western line of railway and in the Crewe division of the county, Northwich hundred, Sandbach petty sessional division, Congleton union and county court district, rural deanery of Congleton, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The North Staffordshire railway has a branch line to this place for the conveyance of salt and goods, and the Trent and Mersey canal and the small river Wheelock, which falls into the Dane below Middlewich, both pass through the parish. Christ Church, a short distance from the town, and erected about 1838 at a cost of about £1,000, is an edifice of red brick in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel, nave, eastern porch and an open eastern turret containing one bell: the chancel was added in 1903 at a cost of £1,600: there are 250 sittings. The register dates from the year 1838. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value, £197, with residence, in the gift of the vicar of Sandbach, and held since 1908 by the Rev. Reginald John Milward M.A. of Pembroke College, Cambridge. There are Wesleyan Methodist, Primitive Methodist, Baptist and Congregational chapels here. Salt is made in considerable quantities, the works at Wheelock and Malkin's Bank being upon an extensive scale. George Herbert Shakerley-Ackers is lord of the manor and the principal landowner. The soil is sandy; subsoil, sand and clay. The chief crops are potatoes, wheat and oats. Cheese is made here to a considerable extent. The area of the township is 690 acres; rateable value, £2,501: the population in 1901 was—township, 685; parish, 2,119.

WHITEGATE (or Newchurch) and part of Over and Weaverham, with the township of Marton, constitute an ecclesiastical parish on the west bank of the river Weaver, 2½ miles south from Hartford station on the Crewe and Runcorn section of the London and North Western railway, and 1 mile east from Whitegate station on the Winsford and Over branch of the Cheshire Lines railway, and 5 south-south-west from Northwich, in the Northwich division of the county, first division of Eddisbury hundred, petty sessional division of Winsford, Northwich union, rural deanery of Middlewich, and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The church of St. Mary, erected in 1726 on the site of an earlier structure, and restored in 1875, chiefly by the 2nd Lord Delamere (d. 1887), is an edifice of brick, consisting of chancel, nave of six bays, south porch and aisles, and a small western tower with octagonal shingled spire containing eight bells: there is a beautiful reredos of Caen stone, and the pulpit is of carved oak: the church affords 320 sittings. The parish register dates from the year 1565. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £278, with residence, in the gift of Lord Delamere, and held since 1877 by the Rev. Henry George Youard. The vicarage house, situated near the church, was erected in 1878, at the expense of the 2nd Lord Delamere. Vale Royal, the property of Lord Delamere, and in the occupation of Robert Dempster esq. is on a gentle elevation near the banks of the river Weaver, and occupies part of the site of the Abbey, some portions of the ancient building being retained in the basement; the mansion, built of red sandstone, consists of a centre with two wings; in the centre of the front is a fine porch, leading to an ante-room, hung round with ancient implements of war, horns of deer &c.; the windows of this room and the corridor are enriched with a profusion of stained glass, chiefly heraldic, which formerly ornamented the Hall at Utkinton; the great hall is a noble apartment 70 feet long, with a roof supported by ribs of carved oak, and is hung round with family and other portraits, and includes some painted by Rubens, Lely, Gainsborough, Kneller &c.: the mansion was considerably altered and improved by the late Lord Delamere. The Old Hall of Vale Royal suffered considerably during the Civil War, and was plundered by the troops of General Lambert. Vale Royal became the site, in 1277, of the Cistercian monastery of St. Mary and SS. Nicasius and Nicholas, translated here from Dernhall, where it was originally founded by Edward I. in 1266; the several granges of Hefferston, Earnslow, Merton, Bradford, Conwardsley and Knights were included amongst the possessions of the Abbey, the church and buildings of which were completed in 1330, at a cost of £32,000: on the surrender of this house there were 16 monks, and revenues valued at £518. The old and new parks, of about 850 acres, are beautifully wooded and undulating, and the scenery around is very picturesque; in the former is a piece of water, called "Rookery Pool," 5 acres in extent, and the latter contains a beautiful sheet of water of 29 acres, called "Petty Pool." Lord Delamere is lord of the manor and sole landowner. The population of the ecclesiastical parish in 1901 was 1,502; area, 4,384 acres.

MARTON (or Merton) township and scattered village is 3 miles south from the Hartford station on the Crewe and Warrington section of the London and North Western railway. Here is a Wesleyan chapel, erected in 1878 at a cost of £340. The manor was given by Randle Blundeville to Randle de Merton, "forestario fideli meo," and either he or his son gave it in 1305 to the Abbey of Vale Royal, in exchange for Gayton-in-Wirral and Lach-on-Rudheath: this exchange took place at the instance of King Edward I. and for his compliance Randle de Merton was rewarded with a grant by patent of the Earl's Eye, in Chester, and the bailiwick of the hundred of Caldey, then valued at five marks yearly. Gilbert Glegg, marrying Johanna, eldest daughter and co-heiress of Stephen de Merton, possessed Gayton, Caldey and the Earl's Eye in right of his wife, and the whole of his property afterwards passed to John Baskervylle Glegg esq. of Gayton. The manor of Merton was held by the monks of Vale Royal until the Dissolution, at which period Sir Thomas Holcroft sold Merton Grange to the Mainwarings of Merton, in which family it remained till 1690, when Charles Mainwaring esq. sold it to Thomas Fleetwood bart. whose widow, the Countess de Front, disposed of it to Thomas Cholmondeley esq. of Vale Royal. Marton Hall was taken down in 1848, and the site is now occupied by a farmhouse, bearing the same name. Dale Fords is the seat of Harry Dewhurst esq. J.P. Abbots Moss, an ancient mansion pleasantly situated on the borders of a wood, is now occupied by the Hon. Mrs. Cholmondeley. Cassia Lodge is the residence of Arthur Reiss esq. Lord Delamere is lord of the manor and sole landowner. The area of Marton township is 2,743 acres of land and 8 of water, chiefly applied to pasture, grain and potatoes; rateable value, £4,713; the population in 1901 was 549.

WILLASTON is a township and parish, formed May 19, 1865, from the parish of Great Neston, with a station called "Hadlow Road" on the Hooton and West Kirby branch of the North Western and Great Western joint railway, 1½ miles west from Hooton station on the same line, 9 north-west from Chester and 8 south from Birkenhead, in the Wirral division of the county, union and hundred of Wirral, Birkenhead county court district, petty sessional division and rural deanery of Wirral and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The parish consists of Willaston, part of Great Neston and part of Raby. Christ Church, erected in 1854, at a cost of £2,000, is a building of red sandstone in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel, nave, south porch, and a western turret containing one bell: the stained west window, erected by the late D. Graham esq. J.P. of Lydiate House is a memorial to his son, Walter Graham, d. 8 Jan. 1890, and there is another to Duncan Graham esq.: the brass lectern was presented in 1892 in memory of the Rev. Charles Henry Barlow M.A. vicar 1865-88: the church affords 200 sittings, of which 160 are free. The register dates from the year 1865. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £210, with 2 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of the trustees of the late D. Graham esq. and held since 1888 by the Rev. Walsham Postance M.A. of St. Mary Hall, Oxford, and surrogate. The Primitive Methodist chapel, built in 1889, is of red brick with stone dressings and will seat 200 persons. Willaston Literary Institute, Reading Room and Library, erected and furnished in 1891 for the use of the village, by the late D. Graham esq. is a building in the early timbered style; amusements are provided and there is a library of about 400 volumes; entertainments are given during the winter season. Hopes' Estates Limited are the chief landowners. The soil is clay and sand; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, oats and beans. The area is 1,992 acres of land and 2 of water; rateable value of the township, £6,852; the population in 1901 was 808 in the ecclesiastical parish; township, 597.

WILMSLOW is a town and very large parish, on the river Bollin and the high road from Congleton to Stockport and Manchester, with a station on the Crewe and Manchester section of the London and North Western railway, which crosses the vale of the Bollin by a viaduct of eleven arches; it is 176½ miles from London, 19 north from Crewe, 7 east from Knutsford, 40 north-east from Chester, 14½ north from Sandbach, 12 south from Manchester, 6 by rail and 7 by road south-west from Stockport, 12 by rail and 7 by road north-west from Macclesfield, and 7 by road south-east from Altrincham, in the Knutsford division of the county, Macclesfield hundred, Prestbury petty sessional division, Bucklow union, Altrincham county court district, rural deanery of Stockport, and archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The parish since 1891 has largely increased and is becoming a favourite place of residence.

The town was from 1878 under the control of a Local Board, but under the provisions of the "Local Government Act, 1894" (56 and 57 Vict. c. 73), it is now governed by an Urban District Council, and is divided into four wards.

By Order of the County Council, June 28, 1894, confirmed by Local Government Board Order No. 31,606, Sept. 30, 1894, Pownall Fee township and the parts of Bollin Fee and Fulshaw townships comprised in the old Local Board area have been constituted the parish of Wilmslow. The remaining parts of Bollin Fee and Fulshaw townships now comprise the reconstituted township of Bollin Fee and is included in Alderley Edge or Chorley Urban District.

Wilmslow is lighted with electricity supplied by the Alderley and Wilmslow Electric Supply Limited. The church of St. Bartholomew is an ancient edifice of stone in the Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel with north and south chapels and vestry, transepts, clerestoried nave of five bays, aisles, south and west porches, and an embattled western tower with pinnacles, containing a clock and 6 bells: the belfry stage has been entirely rebuilt since 1872, under the direction of Mr. J. S. Crowther, architect, of Manchester, at a cost of about £700, defrayed by R. B. M. Lingard-Monk esq. of Fulshaw Hall; the bells were at the same time rehung on iron frames and the clock renovated at a cost of £250, raised by subscription. The chancel is separated from the nave by a stone arch, erected in 1863, and the ancient rood screen of oak, carefully restored, has been set within it; the stained east window was presented in 1858 by the Rev. William Brownlow M.A. rector 1829-72, as a memorial to his daughter; the chancel has an oak roof, the carved bosses of which bear the initials of Henry Trafford, rector 1516-37; on the floor is an inscribed slab to Peter Ledsham, rector, ob. 22 July, 1678, and there is a tablet to the Rev. Croxton Johnson, rector, d. 30 Jan. 1814: below the chancel is a crypt, with sedilia, probably part of an earlier church. In the Jesus chapel, north of the chancel, are two canopied altar-tombs with recumbent effigies, one of an ecclesiastic and the other of a female, with her head resting on a garb; another altar-tomb here has a similar tonsured effigy, and a marginal inscription to Henry Trefort (Trafford) S.T.P. rector here and chancellor of York minster, ob. 1 Aug. 1537: here also are now placed the brasses, with effigies, of Sir Robert del Bothe, of Dunham Massey and Bollyn, ob. 16 Sept. 1459, and Dulcie or Douce (Venables), his wife, ob. 22 Sept. 1453: the figure of the knight is in plate armour, with his feet resting on a greyhound, and his hand and his wife's conjoined: in this chapel is a memorial window to Gertrude Dorothy Rivaz, d. 21 Dec. 1861, and there is also a very singular oak chest, hewn out of a solid block, and strongly bound with iron; it is 4 feet 2½ inches long, 2 feet 10 inches wide, and about 2 feet deep, and the sides and ends are of extraordinary thickness. On the south side of the chancel is the Bolyn or Booth chapel, which has a memorial window to John Clarke Prescott, d. 16 May, 1863, erected in 1866 by his son John Barrow Prescott. The north transept now serves as an organ chamber, and adjoining it on the east is the vestry, built in 1878 at a cost of £700: the south transept, or Hawthorn chapel, was erected by the Leigh family, formerly resident at Hawthorn Hall, and their arms are displayed in the windows; at an earlier period it was known as Ryle's chapel. At the west end are memorial windows to George Bower, of London and Borstal, Kent, d. 15 June, 1865; and to Joshua Bower, surgeon, d. 7 Sept. 1875; and in the south aisle another, placed by Edmund Ashton esq. of Hatfield, in memory of his wife, d. 17 Feb. 1884: the church also contains a large number of monuments and tablets to the Booth, Brownlow, Davenport, Finney, Newton, Roylance and Trafford families. The church was extensively restored and enlarged in 1862-3, at a cost of £4,000, and re-opened in Sept. of the latter year; and about 1878, in addition to the rebuilding of the tower and vestry mentioned above, the south porch was rebuilt at a cost of £300, the whole work being carried out under the direction of Mr. J. S. Crowther, architect, and the church now affords 700 sittings: the churchyard was enlarged at the time of the restoration. The register dates from the year 1558. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £742, chiefly derived from tithe rent-charge, with 80 acres of glebe, and residence, in the gift of Sir John Holder for three turns, then the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1903 by the Rev. John St. Clair Mayne M.A. of Brasenose College, Oxford, and surrogate. The Memorial mission church, erected in 1876 at the sole expense of George Fox esq. Elmhurst Hall, near Lichfield, at a cost of £2,200, and dedicated by the Bishop of Chester, Jan. 17, 1891, is an edifice of brick, in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel, nave, transept, vestry and organ chamber, and was formerly used for the double purposes of a church and school; divine service is held on Sunday morning and evening by the clergy of Wilmslow. The Congregational chapel, erected in 1846-7, is of freestone, in the Gothic style, and was greatly enlarged in 1864. The Baptist chapel, in Brook lane, erected in August, 1890, at a cost of about £500, is a plain structure of brick, and will seat 300 persons. The Cemetery, in the Manchester road, was formed in 1907 and comprises 6½ acres of land; it is under the control of the Urban District Council. An open market is held every Saturday in the Market place, Church street, and was opened July 2nd, 1910. Fairs are held half-yearly—third Monday in April and third Monday in October The local lodge of Odd Fellows holds its courts at the Railway hotel; the Foresters meet at the Old George inn. The charities for distribution in bread and money amount to £20 yearly; Lindow workhouse charity of £348 16s. 11d. yearly, arising from cottages and 99a. 3op. of land, is devoted to the alleviation of poor's rate, and there is also a sum of £4 16s. for education. Thomas Hall's charity, net value £23 9s. is distributed in money and clothing on St. Thomas' day by the rector; Bower's charity consists of the proceeds of £1,000, left by the late Miss Bower to the rector of Wilmslow, for distribution to the sick-poor of the parish in the months October, November, January and February in each year: the Organ Fund consists of the proceeds of £425 for the payment of the organist of the parish church: the Oak Estate charity of about £3 a year, reconstituted by the Charity Commissioners about 1890; Dame Booth's charity of £1 16s. 5d. yearly, is given in bread on Sundays in the parish church, and there are other small charities. Fulshaw Hall, an ancient gabled mansion of brick, with stone dressings and bay windows, occupies the site of a yet more ancient one, and has been recently enlarged and partially rebuilt. Courts leet and baron are held annually in May and November at the "Swan," by the devisees in trust of the late John Barrow Prescott esq. The Drill Hall, Church street, is also used for entertainments. Sir Humphrey Francis de Trafford bart. J.P. of Hill Crest, Market Harborough, Leicestershire, is lord of the manor and chief landowner. The soil is sandy; subsoil, gravel. The chief crops are corn, potatoes and pasture land. The area of the parish of Wilmslow civil parish and Urban District is 5,070 acres of land and 20 of water; rateable value, £53,312; the population in 1901 was 7,361. The area of the ecclesiastical parish is 8,029 acres and the population in 1901 was 7,952.

The population of the Urban District Wards in 1901 was:—Dean Row, 2,237; Fulshaw, 1,540; Hough, 1,733; Morley, 1,851.

FULSHAW forms a ward in the Urban District and consists principally of gentlemen's residences.

DEAN ROW hamlet has a few scattered farmhouses, and is a ward in Wilmslow Urban District. The Unitarian chapel, an ancient and picturesque structure, covered with ivy and other creepers, was originally erected for the Independent Nonconformists in 1692, in place of the licensed houses previously in use; it is two storeys in height, with porches and external staircases leading to the galleries, and has a gable bell-cote at one end. In 1845, it was restored at a cost of £300, and a portion of one end converted into schoolrooms, the uppermost of which now serves as an organ gallery, and the lower as a vestry, which contains some portraits of ministers, and a library belonging to the chapel. Attached is a burial ground, in which are tombs with inscriptions to the Rev. Hugh Worthington, who succeeded his father as minister here in 1735, and died 1 Oct. 1773, and to Mr. James Wood, of Woodford, d. 24 Aug. 1796. The chapel has been Unitarian since 1748, and since 1845 the pastorate has been held jointly with that of the Unitarian chapel at Styal. There is also a Wesleyan chapel, built in 1849.

Public Elementary School (mixed), erected in 1860, by the late Samuel Robinson esq. of Wilmslow, with mistress's residence attached, for 119 children; average attendance, 56; Mrs. Sarah Alice Schofield, mistress church and Wesleyan chapel, and forms a ward of Wilmslow Urban District.

HOUGH hamlet consists of several farmhouses and substantially built family residences, and has a Mission

MORLEY (which extends 2 miles west from Wilmslow) is a scattered hamlet, containing several gentlemen's residences and many cottage houses, on the verge of Lindow Common, and now forms a ward of the Wilmslow Urban District. The Catholic church, dedicated to St. Teresa, in Alma lane, and erected in 1875, will seat 120 persons. The Wesleyan chapel, Water lane, erected in 1884 at a cost of £2,000, is an edifice of stone in the Gothic style, from designs by Mr. Beaumont, architect, of Manchester, and consists of chancel, nave and aisles, with a gallery; in the chancel are choir stalls, and behind an organ chamber: the organ was built in 1885, at a cost of £400: there are several memorial windows, and sittings for 400 persons: annexed is a Sunday school, built in 1890, at a cost of £1,300, for 300 scholars, with 6 separate class rooms. The old chapel, erected in 1798, is now disused. The meeting house of the Society of Friends here is half a mile from Wilmslow. Pownall Hall was the seat of a family of that name, from the time of Edward I. to Edward III. (1328), and was subsequently held by the Fitton, Newton and Mainwaring families: in 1817 it was purchased by Mr. John Worrall, and next became the property of James Pownall esq. of Liverpool, by whom it was rebuilt; in 1878 it belonged to the late Thomas Hobson esq. but is now the property of Henry Boddington esq. J.P. and at present (1910) in the occupation of Joseph Dickinson Lees esq.; both the house and estate have been greatly renovated and improved. The soil is sandy; subsoil, gravel.

STYAL is a scattered hamlet, consisting principally of farmhouses, with a station on the London and North Western railway, Manchester to Wilmslow new line. Under the provisions of the "Local Government Act, 1894," it has been created a township from the Rural part of Pownall Fee civil parish. The chapel of ease here, in Hollin lane, erected in 1835-6, was demolished in 1907 and a corrugated iron building erected in its place on a site given by George Harry, Earl of Stamford and Warrington. There is a small building, also in Hollin lane, used as a church Sunday school. The Norcliffe chapel (Unitarian) stands in grounds given by the late Edward Hyde Greg esq. D.L., J.P. and the pastorate is held conjointly with that at Dean Row. There is also a Wesleyan chapel. The Cottage Homes here, erected in 1898 by the Chorlton Board of Guardians, for the reception of 600 children, comprise 23 red brick cottages, with a hospital, administration block, workshop, swimming bath, board-room, kindergarten school and superintendent's house. The school, erected at the same time for the senior children, is a building of red brick, and will hold 500; average attendance, 370; Ralph Blackwell, head master. A large room used occasionally for entertainments serves as a chapel, in which divine service is held every Sunday; and it is also open to the village folk. Rev. Hugh W. Jones B.A. is the chaplain. Norcliffe Hall, the property and residence of Col. Ernest William Greg J.P. is a mansion in the Elizabethan style, built about 1840 by Robert Hyde Greg esq. some time M.P. for Manchester; it is beautifully situated in extensive grounds, surrounded by picturesque woods and ravines. Quarry Bank House was enlarged by Mr. Samuel Greg about 1790; it is occupied by Capt. Robert Alexander Greg J.P. Quarry Bank cotton mill, on the river Bollin, is one of the earliest mills of this kind in the country, having been started in 1784 by Mr. S. Greg, and for half a century it was worked by water power only. The wheel until recently used has been replaced by turbines worked by water; steam power is fitted for emergency purposes in this mill, which has been in continuous work for over a century under four generations of the same family. The spinning part is now closed. The soil is of a heavy clayey nature. The area is 1,510 acres of land and 13 of water; the rateable value is £6,943; the population in 1891 was 835, and in 1901, 1,153, including 304 inmates and 37 officials in the Chorlton Union Workhouse cottage homes.

Post & M. O. Office.—Tom Taylor, sub-postmaster. Letters through Manchester, via Handforth, arrive at 8.20 a.m. & 4.30 p.m.; dispatched at 8.30 a.m. & 6.30 p.m. week days only. Handforth is the nearest telegraph office

Letter Boxes.—Cross Roads, cleared 9 a.m. & 6.15 p.m. week days only; Woodsend, cleared 9.45 a.m. & 6.45 p.m. week days only; & at Blacksmith's, cleared 9.35 a.m. & 6.35 p.m. week days only

County Constabulary, John Ashpital, in charge

Public Elementary School (mixed), for 200 children; average attendance, 80; Philip Bracegirdle, master; Miss Ethel Taylor, infants' mistress

Railway Station, James Henthorne, station master

STANILANDS is a hamlet consisting of a few farmhouses and one or two gentlemen's residences.

BOLLIN FEE is a township, east of the town, reconstituted by Local Government Board Orders No. 31,606 and 31,659, Sept. 30, 1894. The United Methodist chapel, in Hawthorn street, erected in 1870, is of brick, and will seat 500 persons; attached is a Sunday school, built in 1881, and holding 300 children. The Salvation Army have also a meeting place here. Bollin Hall was demolished on the construction, about 1842, of the Manchester and Crewe section of the London and North Western railway, the viaduct of which now occupies its site. The area is 112 acres; rateable value, £2,605; the population in 1891 was 277, and in 1901 was 633.

WINCHAM (formerly called Wymundsham, or Wymincham) is a township and village, in the ecclesiastical parish of Lostock Gralam, a mile and a half north-east-by-east from Northwich station on the Manchester and Chester section of the Cheshire Lines railway and about 6 miles south-west from Knutsford, in the parish of Great Budworth, Northwich division of the county, hundred of Bucklow, Northwich union and county court district and petty sessional division of Northwich. The township is intersected by the Trent and Mersey canal. St. Andrew's Mission church, erected in 1896, at a cost of about £900, will seat 200 persons. Here is a Free Methodist chapel, erected in 1875; the old chapel adjoining is now used as a Sunday school. Legh's charity of £1 12s. 8d. yearly is for clothing. Here are several rock salt mines and salt manufactories. Wincham Hall, now used as a boarding school for girls, is pleasantly situated on a hill, at the foot of which runs the brook called the Peover Eye. The manor anciently belonged to the Venables family, as a portion of the barony of Kinderton; and about the year 1200 it passed in marriage with Maud Venables to the Elet family; but some few years after it was re-purchased by its previous owners, and was subsequently transferred by marriage to the Wastneys, whose co-heiresses brought it to the families of Lee and Cholmondeley. William Harcourt, a descendant of Sir Richard Harcourt kt. of Wytham, Berks, having become possessed in 1563 of one of the moieties by marriage with the daughter of Richard Leftwich esq. took up his residence at Wincham, where his posterity remained till 1668; the estate afterwards came into the possession of Robert Venables, of Antrobus, this being the third time that the manor had been so vested, and upon the death of Robert Venables, the last male heir, in 1687, the manor passed to his sister Frances, wife of Thomas Lee esq. and was held by their son Robert, whose son, of the same name, left two daughters and co-heiresses: Hester, who married Charles Legh, of Adlington, became eventually the sole possessor, and, dying without issue, devised this estate to Edward Townshend esq. of Chester, from whom it passed into the family of Leycester-Warren, Barons de Tabley, a title now extinct. The Hon. Lady Leighton-Warren, of Tabley House, Knutsford, daughter of George, 2nd baron de Tabley, and widow of Sir Baldwin Leighton bart. is the present lady of the manor. The Hon. Lady Leighton-Warren and Edward Lee Townshend esq. of Gorstage Hall, are the principal landowners. The township of Wincham contains 1,205 acres of land and 41 of water; rateable value, £6,242; the population in 1901 was 1,054.

By Local Government Board Order No. 22,879, a detached part of Marston was in 1889 transferred to Wincham.

Infants' School, erected in 1896, & affiliated to the Elementary schools, Lostock Gralam, for 130 children; average attendance, 56; Mrs. Helen Peebles, mistress

WINCLE (or Winkel), is a parish, consisting principally of a number of small farms, scattered over a mountainous district, stretching to the verge of the county adjoining Staffordshire, from which it is separated by the Dane, the valley of which and the surrounding hillsides, being thickly wooded, afford some of the most picturesque scenery in the county; it is about 3 miles north-east from Bosley station on the Churnet Valley section of the North Staffordshire railway and 6 miles south-east from Macclesfield, in the Macclesfield division of the county, petty sessional division of Prestbury, hundred, union and county court district of Macclesfield, and was formed into an ecclesiastical parish 10 Aug. 1869, in Macclesfield rural deanery and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The church of St. Michael, dating from 1647, is a plain fabric of stone, consisting only of nave, erected in 1882 on the site of an older structure, the embattled western tower of which is still standing, and contains one bell: in the belfry are traces of a window probably removed from the ancient chancel: the present stained east window is a memorial to the Rev. Archibald Davy M.A. vicar of this parish 1888-90: an organ was presented in 1902 as a memorial to Miss Marion Brocklehurst, of the Bagstones; over the main entrance and the entrance to the vestry are two stones from the old church bearing the inscription "Doe Here O Lord Sure Plant Thy Word:" there are 170 sittings. The registers date from 1805, prior to which entries were made in the registers of Prestbury, and in those of St. Michael's, Macclesfield. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £155, with 73 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of the vicar of Prestbury, and held since 1904 by the Rev. Francis Foster Collin B.A. of University College, Durham. Clowes's charity of £1 is for the preaching of a New Year's sermon. There is a Wesleyan chapel at Allgreave. Bagstones, the residence of Miss Booth, is a large and old-fashioned building of stone, and contains many Egyptian curiosities. Lady Brocklehurst, of Swythamley Park, John Plant Shufflebotham esq. and William Whiston esq. of Langley, are the chief landowners, and there are several other small proprietors. The township contains 2,819 acres of land, which is mostly copyhold, and is within the manor and forest of Macclesfield. The soil is clay; subsoil, rocky. The area is 2,769 acres of land and 23 of water; rateable value, £3,108; in 1901 the population was 261 in the civil and 270 in the ecclesiastical parish. By Local Government Board Order No. 22,378 a detached part of Wincle township was in 1888 annexed to Wildboarclough.

Post, M. O. & T. Office.—Mrs. Florence Clowes, sub-postmistress. Letters through Macclesfield, via Rushton, arrive at 9 a.m. & dispatched 4.30 p.m.; no sunday delivery

Council School (mixed), erected, with residence for the master, in 1866, for 99 children; average attendance, 54; James Potter, master: the school was built by Mrs. James Daintry, of North Rode, & endowed with £500, which now produces £14 10s. yearly; this amount is devoted to religious education in the school

WINSFORD

WINSFORD is a small market town, and the head of a petty sessional division, on the west bank of the river Weaver, with a station on the Cheshire Lines railway, and 1¼ miles and 2 miles respectively from the Over and Wharton and the Winsford stations on the North Western railway, 4¼ miles west from Middlewich, 10 north from Nantwich through Wettenhall, 9 by way of Church Minshull, and 15 east from Chester, in the Northwich division of the county, first division of the hundred of Eddisbury, Northwich union and county court district, rural deanery of Middlewich and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester.

Winsford is governed by an Urban District Council, established under the provisions of the "Local Government Act, 1894" (56 & 57 Vict. c. 73). The district comprises the parishes of Over and Wharton, and is divided into four wards, with three members for each ward. A gold chain and robes were presented by W. H. Verdin esq. for the use of the chairman of the Urban District Council.

Over consists chiefly of one long irregularly built street, called "Delamere" street, and High street, which crosses it at right angles and extends down to Winsford Bridge. The township is partly in the parish of Whitegate.

The town, called in ancient records "the borough of Over," was from a very early period under the government of a mayor, annually chosen at the court leet and baron of the lord of the manor of Over, held in October, but under the "Unreformed Corporations Act, 1883" (46 and 47 Vict. c. 18), the jurisdiction of the mayor in respect to criminal, licensing or any other magisterial functions was abolished, and no mayor has since been elected, but in the event of any such election, two juries are empanelled, one for the borough, called the "Grand Jury," and the other for the subordinate townships, called the "County Jury;" the former return six inhabitants of the lordship of Over to the lord of the manor, by whom at an adjourned court, held fourteen days afterwards, one of them is nominated mayor for the ensuing year. The municipal insignia now consist only of a silver mace 2 feet 10½ inches in length, which is in the possession of Lord Delamere, at Vale Royal, and is lent by him on the occasion of the election of a mayor and on festive occasions; the shaft is divided into three lengths by ornamented knops, that at the base exhibiting a shield of arms of three ducks (?) and for a crest a swan; the mace-head, supported by four simple scrolled brackets, is adorned in four compartments with the arms of Cholmondeley: a shield bearing three bars wavy and in chief two fleurs-de-lis and a rose and fleur-de-lis crowned; on the flat plate at the top are the royal arms of William and Mary, with supporters &c.: a circlet of fleurs-de-lis and crosses surrounds the head, and from this springs an open arched crown surmounted by an orb and cross. The townships of Over and Wharton are governed by the Winsford Urban Council, and supplied with gas from works in Weaver street, owned by the Urban Council, and with water by the Council from springs at Little Budworth, and works off Delamere street, but the water flows to the greater portion of the town by gravitation.

The church of St. Chad, standing almost hidden in a valley, is an ancient edifice in various styles, partly rebuilt in 1543 by Hugh Starkey esq. usher to King Henry VIII. and consists of chancel, nave of five bays, aisles, south porch and an embattled western tower, dating from King Stephen, and containing 5 bells: over the porch is a parvise or priest's chamber: in the chancel is an altar tomb with effigy in brass and an inscription to Hugh Starkey, of Oulton esq. gentleman usher to King Henry VIII. and son of Hugh Starkey, of Olton esq. ob. 1555: the stained east window is a memorial to the Rev. John Jackson, vicar of Over from 1821, and who died in 1863, and there is another presented by W. H. Verdin esq. D.L. of Darnhall; several of the other windows are also stained: in 1870 the church was thoroughly restored at a cost of £3,000: in 1904 the north aisle was built at a cost of £2,000: a legacy of £2,000 has been left to the church by the late Miss Walker, of Nantwich: the church affords 830 sittings. The registers date from the year 1558. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £300, including 54 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1901 by the Rev. William Herbert Stables M.A. of Victoria University, and surrogate. Christ Church, in High street, originally erected in 1844 by the trustees of the Weaver Navigation Co. was taken down in 1880 on account of the subsidence of the land, and a new church erected on the same site in 1882: this building is of wood and brick, consisting of chancel, nave and a western tower with octagonal spire, containing one bell: there are 300 sittings. The register dates from the year 1844. The benefice is a perpetual curacy, net yearly value £150, with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1909 by the Rev. Robert Hall Main, of St. Aidan's. The parsonage is in Weaver street, at a short distance from the church. St. John the Evangelist's is an ecclesiastical parish, formed Jan. 13, 1863, from the parishes of Over and Whitegate: the church, erected at a cost of about £5,000, and consecrated in June, 1863, was built as a memorial to Lady Sarah (Hay), wife of the late Lord Delamere; she died 17 Feb. 1859; Lord Delamere, who gave the site and endowed the church, died 1 Aug. 1887: it is an edifice of Runcorn stone in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel with north chapel and vestry, nave of four bays with clerestory, aisles, and an embattled tower at the south-west angle with spire and containing a clock and one bell: the pulpit and font are of Grimsell stone, with marble shafts, the panels having carved emblems: the east and west windows are stained: in 1887 a clock with three dials was placed in the tower, at a cost of £140, by public subscription: there are 550 sittings, 460 being free. The register dates from the year 1863. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £140, with residence, in the gift of Lord Delamere, and held since 1863 by the Rev. Edward Woodyatt M.A. of Christ Church, Oxford. The Congregational chapel, erected in 1814, is an edifice of brick and stone, with a burial ground, and adjoining is a residence for the minister. The Wesleyan Methodist chapel, in Swanlow lane, was erected in 1861, and there is another Wesleyan chapel in High street, erected in 1883. The United Methodist chapel, in High street, rebuilt in 1877, is of brick. There are Primitive Methodist chapels, in High street, built in 1869, and in Chester road, built in 1876. The Verdin Technical School and Gymnasium, in High street, was erected in 1895, under a scheme of the Charity Commissioners, dated 2 April, 1892, and framed in pursuance of a deed executed 24 Sept. 1890, by Sir Joseph Verdin bart. and in which a sum of £26,388 was placed in trust for the above object and for specified charitable purposes. The building was erected at a cost, including furnishing, of £8,000, from designs by Messrs. Woodhouse and Willoughby, architects, of Manchester. The Winsford and Middlewich Administrative Sub-Committee is the governing body, and there are on the premises (a) a day school, carried on under the Board of Education's regulations for higher elementary schools, and (b) evening classes in science, art and commercial subjects, carried on under the corresponding Government regulations for evening schools. Special attention is given to physical training. There are 100 students in attendance at the day school and about 230 in the evening. The Public Library, in High street, erected in 1888 under the provisions of the "Public Libraries Act, 1855" (18 & 19 Vict. c. 70), in commemoration of the Jubilee of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, is a building of red brick with ornamental terra-cotta dressings, and comprises a news and reading room, and a reference library of over 5,000 volumes. The Police Station, in High street, erected in 1884, is a structure of red brick, comprising offices, court room, cells and residences for an inspector and two constables. The Liberal Club, opened in June, 1901, at a cost of over £2,000, is a structure of red brick from the designs of Mr. Roland Stubbs, architect. The Brunner Guildhall is a handsome building of red brick, situated in High street, and presented to the Urban District Council of Winsford by Sir John Tomlinson Brunner bart. for the daily use of Trade and Friendly Societies and for other purposes: it was opened 4th of Nov. 1899. A market and fair were granted by charter of the 10th of Edward I. to the Abbot and Convent of Vale Royal; the market to be held on Wednesday, and the fair on the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross (Sept. 14), including the preceding and following days: the market, which had been discontinued for nearly a century, was re-established and a market house built in 1840; it is now (1910) quite obsolete, but a market is held at Winsford every Saturday evening. The market house, in Delamere street, erected by a company of shareholders in 1840, is a structure of brick, eventually purchased by the late Lord Delamere, and converted into an Elementary school for St. John's parish. Fairs are held on the first Wednesday after May 12th and the first Wednesday after September 20th, and are numerously attended; cattle and sheep in considerable numbers are brought here for sale. A Volunteer Drill Hall was opened here in June, 1901, by Lt.-Gen. the Earl of Dundonald K.C.V.O., C.B. and is now used by a Detachment of D Co. 7th Territorial Force Battalion Cheshire Regiment. The salt trade is extensively carried on by the Salt Union Limited, John Garner and George Hamlett and Sons Limited, and boat building is maintained to some extent. The Recreation Grounds, in High street, comprising 3½ acres, were presented to the town in 1877 by Lord Delamere.

Over was numbered amongst the immediate possessions of the Earldom of Chester till the 54th of Henry III. (1269-70), when it was granted by Prince Edward to the Abbey of Dernhall, translated in 1277 to Vale Royal, and so continued till the Dissolution, when it was granted to Sir Thomas Holcroft kt. in exchange for the manor of Cartmel, for £466 10s. 10d. with a reserved rent of £10 0s. 4d.; by the Holcroft family it was sold to Edmund Perchall, merchant, of London, from whom it was purchased about the middle of the 18th century by the late Thomas Cholmondeley esq. who died 2 June, 1779, and his descendant, Lord Delamere, of Vale Royal, is the present proprietor. Woodford Hall, in this township, now the property of the trustees of the late Mr. John Cookson, is occupied by Mr. Cyrus Slater, farmer. Lord Delamere, William Roylance Court esq. of the Manor House, Middlewich, Hugh Edward Wilbraham esq. of Delamere House, Northwich, William Henry Verdin esq. of Darnhall Hall, and R. N. H. Verdin esq. of Stoke Manor, Nantwich, are the principal landed proprietors. The area of Over township is 4,439 acres of land, which are mostly applied to grain and pasture, and 88 of water; rateable value, £30,621; the population in 1901 was 7,063. The population of the ecclesiastical parishes in 1901 was:—St. Chad, 2,701, and St. John the Evangelist, 3,826.

Swanlow is a hamlet in the township of Over, bounded by the township of Weaver on the east. Here is a Wesleyan chapel. Lord Delamere, W. H. Verdin esq. of Darnhall Hall, and H. E. Wilbraham esq. of Delamere House, Northwich, are the chief landowners.

DARNHALL is a township and small village, formerly in the parish of Whitegate, but now in Over, 5½ miles south-west from Middlewich, in the first division of Eddisbury hundred, Northwich union and county court district. Here was once a Cistercian monastery, founded in 1266 by Edward I. and translated to Vale Royal in 1277. The manor of Dernhall formerly belonged to the Earl of Chester, John Scot, the last of the Palatinate Earls, who was poisoned, as is believed, by his wife Helen, daughter of Llewellin, prince of North Wales, and died here in 1244: on the foundation of Dernhall Abbey the manor was given to the monks, and continued their property until they removed to Vale Royal; and a curious account is given in the Ledger-book of the Abbey, showing the services to be rendered to the abbots, as lords of the manor, by the tenants thereof: at the time of the Dissolution Dernhall became the property of Sir Rowland Hill kt. lord mayor of London (1549), who alienated it to Sir Reginald Corbett kt. a judge of the Queen's Bench in the reign of Elizabeth. In the time of James I. it was sold to Richard Lee esq. from whom it was purchased by the father of the late Thomas Corbett esq. who died in 1808; it then became the property of Edwin Corbett esq. by whose trustees the whole township in 1860 was sold by auction in lots; the Hall and a large portion of the land being purchased by James Haigh esq. of Mayfield, Ashbourne, Derbyshire. W. Wood esq. Nathaniel Tomlinson esq. and others also became purchasers. Mr. Haigh and other owners repaired and greatly improved the appearance of the Hall, made extensive improvements in the land, farm houses and buildings: the Hall and the whole of the township, with the exception of about 123 acres, was purchased in 1875 from Captain Cunliffe by the late Thomas Knowles esq. M.P., J.P.; but in Feb. 1889 it was sold to W. H. Verdin esq. J.P. who is now lord of the manor and sole owner of the township: his seat, Darnhall Hall, is a fine mansion of red brick, pleasantly situated in extensive grounds. The area is 2,664 acres of land, which are chiefly applied to pasture and grain, and 65 of water; the rateable value is £4,631; the population in 1901 was 300.

WEAVER (or Weever), a scattered village, 4½ miles west of Middlewich, on the banks of the river Weaver, in the eastern division of the Eddisbury hundred, originally a township, was in 1892, by Order of the County Council, confirmed by Local Government Board Order No. 28,045, added to Darnhall.

Here is a United Methodist chapel with a burial ground attached. The manor, at an early period attached to the fee of Aldford, was held under the Ardernes by a family who assumed the local name. In 55 Hen. III. (1270-1) Henry de Wever held the township of the fee of Aldford by finding two men to guard the castle there forty days during time of war; it remained vested in the Wevers until the reign of Henry VI. when it passed by marriage with Elizabeth the daughter and eventually sole heiress, of Sir Thomas Wever kt. to Sir John Stanley kt. 3rd son of Thomas, 1st baron Stanley K.G. and ancestor of the Stanleys of Alderley Park, from whom it was purchased by the Wilbrahams, in whose possession it still remains. Weaver Hall, as first built, was a half-timber and plaster mansion of considerable extent, after the style of many other ancient buildings in this county, and was the residence of the Stanley family up to the year 1660; the present hall, which formed part of one of the wings of the old hall, was partly rebuilt in 1847, and is now occupied as a farmhouse. Hugh Edward Wilbraham esq. of Delamere House, is lord of the manor and the principal landowner. The brine used in the salt works at Winsford and neighbourhood is chiefly found in the vale of the Weaver, and in consequence of the gradual drainage, the land on its banks has sunk below the level of the river, submerging a great portion of the township.

WHARTON is a market town, and with the township of Stanthorne was formed into an ecclesiastical parish in 1843 from the parish of Davenham; it is on the eastern bank of the river Weaver; it has a station about a mile distant on the London and North Western railway and another station in the town, called Over and Wharton, which is the terminus of a branch of the same line from Hartford, and is 3 miles west-north-west from Middlewich and 6 south from Northwich: the township is in the Northwich division of the county, hundred, union and county court district of Northwich, in the petty sessional division of Winsford, and in the rural deanery of Middlewich and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The river Weaver is here crossed by a substantial iron girder bridge, erected in 1857, and connecting this township with that of Over, but in consequence of the subsidence of the ground this bridge has had to be three times raised, viz. in 1871, 1876 and 1882: the Weaver is navigable as high as Winsford for vessels of 300 tons burthen and is under the control of a trust. Christ Church, rebuilt in 1849, is an edifice of brick and stone, in the Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel, nave, transepts and an embattled tower on the north-east with figures at the angles, representing the four Evangelists, and containing a clock, presented in 1849 by the late John Dudley esq. of Wharton, in memory of Elizabeth his wife, and 8 tubular bells, given by Mrs. Lea, of Winsford Lodge: the transepts are the remains of a former chapel of ease, erected by James France France esq.: the church affords 530 sittings. The register dates from the year 1843. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £208, with residence, in the gift of the rector of Davenham, and held since 1891 by the Rev. Robert Eden Henley M.A. of St. Mary Hall, Oxford, and surrogate. There is a Wesleyan chapel on Winsford hill, erected in 1884, and a Primitive Methodist chapel in Station road, erected in 1893; in the same road is a United Methodist chapel, built in 1860. Winsford is remarkable for the extensive salt works in this locality on the banks of the Weaver, partly in the township of Wharton and partly in that of Over, on the opposite side of the river: the pans used in the manufacture of salt in the various works number about 620, and give employment to about 2,000 workmen, so that salt forms the staple trade of this district; the brine is found at a depth of from 30 to 60 yards, and in some cases rises to within 12 yards of the surface: it is generally of good quality, producing 42 ounces of salt to the imperial gallon. Several attempts have been made to work rock salt mines in the neighbourhood, but they have generally failed, in consequence of the abundance of brine, which breaks in upon the works: the only rock salt mine now in this district is at Meadow Bank, and is owned and worked by the Salt Union: the "Upper Mine" rock salt, found at a depth of 50 or 60 yards, is about 10 yards in thickness, but of inferior quality; below this runs a seam of bluish stone several yards in depth, called by the workmen "metal;" the lower bed of rock salt extends to the depth of about 110 yards from the surface, and is about 10 yards thick, and is found to be far superior to that found in the upper mine. The white salt, made from brine pumped out of the earth, is conveyed in barges and steamers to Liverpool, and from thence shipped to India and other parts. The rock salt is chiefly dispatched to Lancashire, but is also conveyed to Liverpool, in the same manner as above mentioned, for shipment to Belgium and Prussia. The average tonnage of white salt shipped from Winsford annually is nearly 500,000 tons, a portion of which is chemically pure; a vacuum plant has been laid down and the whole works have been electrified. The land on the banks of the Weaver, above Winsford, has gradually sunk many feet below the level of the river; over 200 acres of land are now (1910) submerged, and the flooded area forms 3 large lakes; this subsidence is caused partly by the gradual melting of the rock salt, but also by the immense cavities occasioned by the constant pumping of brine for the production of salt. Flat and boat building is carried on here; there are also clothing and fustian factories. The Town Hall, which adjoins the bridge, and was built in 1872, is an edifice of wood and plaster work; in 1879 the whole structure was raised 8 feet and the foundations relaid. The Market Hall, erected in 1859, of brick, was partly reconstructed in 1876, when the upper portion was taken down and rebuilt in wood. A general market is held here every Saturday, commencing at four in the afternoon. The police station is a small brick building, and has an attached house for the resident sergeant. The "Verdin" Public Baths, in the Market place, were given to the town in 1887 by Sir Joseph Verdin bart. of the Brockhurst, Northwich, and William Henry Verdin esq. of Darnhall Hall: the building is of wood and brick with an ornamental front, and contains private swimming and medicinal brine baths, which are widely celebrated for their curative properties. The Albert Infirmary, opened in October, 1898, was presented by William Henry Verdin esq. D.L., J.P. of Darnhall Hall, and a new operating theatre has been built and furnished at a total cost of £826 6s. 9d. which was opened on the 8th June, 1910, by the Countess Grosvenor. The public recreation grounds, in Wharton road, comprising 5 acres, were the gift of the late John Knight Armstrong esq. of Wharton Hall. Wharton Hall is the residence of Mrs. Newall. The principal landed proprietors of this township are the trustees of the late John Dudley esq. William Roylance Court esq. of Middlewich, Hugh Edward Wilbraham esq. of Delamere House, W. H. Verdin esq. of Darnhall Hall, Col. C. H. France-Hayhurst, of Bostock Hall, and the Salt Union. The parish of Wharton contained in 1901 a population of 3,319, the greatest part of whom are engaged in the salt works: it comprises 1,220 statute acres, a great part of which are occupied by the numerous salt works; and the agricultural portion is chiefly applied to dairy purposes and the cultivation of grain, and 33 of water; rateable value, £23,800. The area of the ecclesiastical parish is 2,257 acres; the population in 1891 was 3,809.

The area of the Urban District is 5,780 acres, viz.: Wharton civil parish, 1,253 acres; Over civil parish, 4,527; the population in 1901 was 10,382, viz.: Wharton civil parish, 3,319; Over civil parish, 6,835.

The population of the Urban District wards in 1901 was: Gravel, 2,510; Swanlow, 4,936; Vale Royal, 2,127; Wharton, 809.

WISTASTON is a township, parish and village, half a mile from the Willaston station on the Crewe and Shrewsbury section of the London and North Western railway, 2 miles north-east from Nantwich and 2 south-west from Crewe, in the Crewe division of the county, Nantwich petty sessional division, hundred, union and county court district, rural deanery of Nantwich and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. A small portion of this parish was included within the borough of Crewe, Nov. 9, 1892. The church of the Virgin Mary, erected in 1828, is a plain edifice of brick and stone; it consists of chancel with organ chamber, nave, south transept and a western tower, with pinnacles, containing a clock and 4 bells: the chancel was rebuilt and an organ chamber and south transept added in 1884, and in 1888 a carved oak reredos was erected and the floor of the chancel laid in mosaic, in memory of John Hill esq. of the Manor House, d. 11 Feb. 1868, and Sarah, his wife, d. 21 March, 1887: the stained east window is a memorial to Mrs. Edward Delves Broughton, d. 5 July, 1883, and there are others to E. W. D. Walthall, jun. and to Alexander Middlemas: the carved oak screen was erected in memory of Edward Delves Broughton esq. d. 6 Oct. 1889: the pulpit and choir stalls are also of oak and a new organ was provided in 1884: the church affords 350 sittings. The register dates from the year 1572. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £220, with residence and 4 acres of glebe, in the gift of five trustees, and held since 1898 by the Rev. Walter Nathaniel Mayne B.A. of Jesus College, Cambridge. The vestry and parish hall, adjoining the church, was erected in 1905. Wistaston Hall, a handsome building of brick and stone, with a piece of water in front, is the property of Capt. E. C. Walthall R.A. and is occupied by John Baskervyle Glegg esq. J.P. Capt. E. C. Walthall R.A. who is lord of the manor, A. Knowles esq. of Nantwich, James Bayley esq. of Willaston Hall, and Thomas Hancock esq. of Manchester, are the chief landowners. The soil is mostly light sand, and the subsoil clay. The chief crops are corn, turnips and potatoes. The area is 1,432 acres; rateable value, £5,200; the population in 1901 was 494 in the civil and 822 in the ecclesiastical parish.

By Local Government Board Order No. 31,136, Mar. 24, 1894, part of Wistaston civil parish was added to Monks Coppenhall civil parish.

WOODHEAD (or Longdendale) is a hilly district extending from 4 to 6 miles east from Tintwistle, and in 1856 was formed into an ecclesiastical parish from the parish of Mottram-in-Longdendale, and is in the Hyde division of the county, Macclesfield hundred, Hyde county court district and petty sessional division, Ashton-under-Lyne union, rural deanery of Mottram, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The Great Central (late M. S. and L.) railway passes the moors by a tunnel 3 miles long, and has a station in the village. It is about 8 miles north-east from Stalybridge and 13 north-east from Stockport. The church of St. James, erected in the 15th century, under the will of Sir Edmund Shaa or Shaw, kt. lord mayor of London in 1482, is a small and plain building of stone, consisting of nave and a western turret containing one bell: it was repaired about 1870, and again in 1894, and affords 100 sittings. The register dates from the year 1780. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £190, with glebe and residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1905 by the Rev. Samuel Stockton M.A. of Trinity College, Dublin and B.A. of Durham University. Here are the extensive reservoirs of the Manchester Corporation Water Works, the capacities and areas of which are as follow:—The Woodhead reservoir, holding 1,180,000,000 gallons, and 71 feet deep, has an area of 135 acres; Torside reservoir, 84 feet deep, holds 1,474,000,000 gallons, and covers 160 acres; Rhodes Wood reservoir is 68 feet deep, holds 500,000,000 gallons, and extends over 54 acres; the Bottoms, containing 407,000,000 gallons, covers 50 acres and is 48 feet deep; and Vale House reservoir, holding 343,000,000 gallons, covers 63 acres, with a depth of 40 feet; the collective area of the reservoirs in the Vale of Longdendale is 462 acres and their united capacity, 3,904,000,000 gallons; these reservoirs are at an elevation varying from 782 to 486 feet. The great lordship of Longdendale was formerly esteemed the paramount lordship of the whole parish, and with its appendages belonged at an early period to the family of De Burgh, one of whom, Thomas De Burgh, in 1311, gave this lordship to Thomas (Plantagenet) Earl of Lancaster: it is now held by Lord Tollemache, with the exception of portions belonging to the trustees of Tintwistle Chapel, the Earl of Stamford and the Mayor and Corporation of Manchester. The population in 1901 was 159.

WORLESTON is a township on the road from Nantwich to Warrington, 3 miles north from Nantwich and 4 from Crewe, with a station on the Crewe and Chester branch of the London and North Western railway, and was formed into a parish Jan. 17, 1873, out of the parish of Acton, the parish comprising the townships of Aston-juxta-Mondrum, Poole and Cholmondeston, in the Eddisbury division of the county, Nantwich hundred, union, county court district and petty sessional division of Nantwich and in the rural deanery of Nantwich and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The church of St. Oswald, built in 1872 at a cost of £2,500, is a cruciform building of stone in the Early English style, from designs by Mr. C. Lynam, architect, Stoke-on-Trent, consisting of chancel, nave, transepts, south porch and a central turret with spire, containing one bell: the stained east window is a memorial to the Most Rev. G. E. L. Cotton, Bishop of Calcutta (1858-67), and there are several others: a brass screen separates the chancel from the nave: in 1895 the chancel floor was relaid in mosaic, the gift of Mr. J. Hughes, as a memorial to his wife: the church affords 250 sittings. The register dates from the year 1872. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £270, with residence, in the gift of Col. Edward Thomas Davenant Cotton-Jodrell C.B., R.A. and held since 1881 by the Rev. William Yates, of St. Alban Hall, Oxford. The vicarage house, built by Mr. Tomkinson, is of red brick, with mullioned windows. Here is a United Methodist chapel, built in 1891. Reaseheath Hall, the residence of Col. Edward Thomas Davenant Cotton-Jodrell C.B., D.L., J.P. (formerly R.A.), is an ancient gabled mansion of red brick, which was thoroughly restored in 1878 and 1892; it stands in a well-timbered park of about 200 acres, and was purchased by the Tomkinson family from the Windsors about the year 1760. In 1881, the then owner, H. R. Tomkinson esq. barrister-at-law, handed the estate over to his nephew, the present occupier. Rookery Hall, a modern residence of stone, beautifully situated on a commanding eminence in a park of about 170 acres, is the residence of Baron William Henry Von Schröder D.L., J.P. Worleston Grange, a building of brick and stone, with good pleasure grounds, is the residence of Oliver Philip Behrens esq. The principal landowners are Baron Schröder and Col. E. T. D. Cotton-Jodrell. The area is 1,754 acres of land and 18 of water; rateable value, £4,701; the population of the township in 1901 was 485; ecclesiastical parish, 882.

WRENBURY-cum-FRITH is a parish, township and village, with a station on the Crewe and Shrewsbury section of the London and North Western railway, 5 miles south-west from Nantwich, 9 south-west from Crewe, 6 north-east from Whitchurch, 8 east from Malpas, and 160 from London, in the Eddisbury division of the county, Nantwich petty sessional division, union and county court district, Audlem division of the Nantwich hundred, rural deanery of Nantwich and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The river Weaver and the Chester and Ellesmere canal run through the township. The church of St. Margaret, with the exception of the chancel, rebuilt in 1606 and 1806, is a fine building of stone in the Late Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave of five bays, aisles, vestry, south porch and an embattled western tower with pinnacles, containing a clock and 6 bells; in the chancel are mural tablets to members of the Starkey family, and other memorials to members of the Cotton family, from 1702 to 1848, including an elaborate mural monument to Field-Marshal the 1st Viscount Combermere G.C.B., G.C.H. constable of the tower and commander-in-chief in India, d. 21 Feb. 1865. A stained east window was inserted by the Cotton family in 1866; and in 1891 four memorial windows were placed to Mary Woolley (Gibbings), third wife of Field-Marshal 1st Viscount Combermere; she died 13 Aug. 1889. The register dates from the year 1593. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £189, with residence, in the gift of the vicar of Acton, and held since 1908 by the Rev. Henry Waldron Bradley M.A. of St. John's College, Cambridge. There is a small Primitive Methodist chapel at Wrenbury heath, erected in 1848. The old National school, dating from 1603, has an open timbered roof, and is lent by the vicar for public meetings &c. The charities, which are managed by a body of twelve trustees appointed under the "scheme" of the Charity Commissioners of 1897, are as follows:—15a. or. 3p. of land at Wistaston and a tenement and 14 acres of land at Wrenbury-cum-Frith, now producing together £68 annually, for the minister of Wrenbury: a farm of 30a. 3r. at Frith lane, producing £58 yearly, which sum is distributed to the poor of Wrenbury parish: a rentcharge on Wrenbury Wood farm, now yielding £27 10s. yearly, which is distributed by the trustees of the consolidated parochial charities, chiefly on St. Thomas' and St. Mark's days: Richard Podmore's gift of £2, of which £1 is for the poor and £1 for the benefice of Newhall, and Robert Larden's of 7s. 6d. a perpetual rent-charge on a farm on Wrenbury Frith, for the poor of Wrenbury and Chorley: a bond given by the Mersey Dock and Harbour trustees in 1863 produces £23 2s. 4d. annually for apprenticing and distribution amongst the poor of Wrenbury parish: Ralph Buckley's benefaction of £5 12s. 8d. given in 1601 for 300 years, was for the distribution of thirteen 2d. loaves every Sunday to the poor who attended service at the church; it became extinct in 1901: Richard Cartwright's charity of £4 6s. 8d. is similarly for the distribution of ten 2d. loaves. There is £203 6s. 8d. invested in consols for the relief of the rates of Wrenbury township, now in the Nantwich Union, being the gift of the Shropshire Union Canal Company for the right of cutting over Wrenbury Frith. M. Hewitt's gift of £1 2s. 11d. a quarter is divided in equal sums between the Sunday school and 24 poor widows on St. Thomas' day by the vicar. Viscountess Combermere left in 1889 £500, less £10 legacy duty, the interest of which is divided between 25 aged people, one half chosen by the vicar and the other half by the owner of Combermere Abbey from poor persons employed on the estate. The school dole of £11 5s. 6d. and the apprentice dole of £8 12s. 0d. are in the hands of the parish trustees. Wrenbury Hall, a mansion in the Elizabethan style, about three-quarters of a mile north-east, is the residence of Arthur Starkey esq. J.P. A sale for cattle is held on every alternate Monday at the Salamanca hotel. In 1896 the sale yard, which adjoins the station, was enlarged and improved. The Marquess of Cholmondeley, who is lord of the manor, Viscount Combermere and Arthur Starkey esq. J.P. are the chief landowners. The soil is mixed; subsoil, clay and sand. The chief crops are wheat, oats, roots and potatoes, and a good deal of the land is in pasture. The area of the township is 2,171 acres of land and 13 of water; rateable value, £1,393; the population in 1901 was 491 in the township and 1,423 in the ecclesiastical parish.

WYBUNBURY is a parish and township on the road from Nantwich to Newcastle and Woore (Staffordshire), about 3 miles south from Willaston station on the branch of the London and North Western line from Crewe to Nantwich and Shrewsbury, 4½ south from Crewe, and 3½ east from Nantwich, in the Crewe division of the county, Nantwich union, petty sessional division, hundred and county court district, rural deanery of Nantwich and archdeaconry and diocese of Chester. The church of St. Chad, originally Norman, was rebuilt about 1833, at a cost of £4,550, when the tower, which inclined six feet from the perpendicular, was restored to its proper position, and the rest of the fabric taken down and a new church built ten yards south of the previous site, but, owing to the failure of the foundations and the consequent dilapidation of the structure, this church had in turn to be taken down, and an entirely new church rebuilt on the original site, so that the tower now resumes its proper position at the west end of the nave. The present church, consecrated Aug. 3rd, 1893, cost altogether £8,175, and was designed by Mr. James Brooks, architect, of London. A foundation of Portland cement and concrete now underlies the entire fabric. The new building is of stone in the Perpendicular style, and consists of chancel, with vestry and organ chamber on the south side and a chapel on the north, clerestoried nave of six bays, aisles, south porch and the 15th century embattled tower, which is 96 feet in height, with pinnacles, and contains a clock and 6 bells: in the course of the work a fragment of carved stone, bearing the characteristic Norman zig-zag pattern, has been met with: a memorial tablet to the Rev. Charles Alfred Stolterfoth M.A. vicar 1890-1900, was placed in the side chapel in 1901: the old church contained brasses with effigies to Ralf Dellvys, ob. 3 March, 1513, and Katherine his wife, and a canopied altar tomb to Sir Thomas Smith kt. of Hatherton, mayor of Chester 1596, and sheriff of Cheshire 1600, ob. 1614, and to Anne his wife, daughter of Sir William Brereton kt. of Brereton. There are 550 sittings. The register dates from the year 1558. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £255, with residence and 15 acres of glebe, in the gift of the Bishop of Chester, and held since 1900 by the Rev. Henry George Lancaster M.A. of University College, Durham. The Wesleyan chapel, erected in 1817, is a brick building; the new chapel, erected in 1864, is of brick with stone dressings. At the National Girls' School is a free circulating library of over 2,000 volumes, given by the late W. R. Johnson esq. of The Cliffe, and maintained from the interest of £1,000 left by the donor; the library is open one evening a week. Consolidated charities: Robert Latham, by will bearing date 1733, gave £10 yearly for the benefit of the poor in the township of Walgherton for ever. Thomas Vernon, by will, in 1709, left £10 for the poor of Wybunbury. Ralph Latham, by will dated 22 Jan. 1726, left £20, interest of which was to be distributed amongst the poor of Walgherton. John Wright, in 1709, bequeathed £10 to the churchwardens, for distribution amongst the poor of Rope township, on St. Thomas' Day. Richard Lindop, in 1719, left £30, the interest to be employed for the use of the Free school in the parish of Wybunbury. Sarah Withenhall, in 1714, gave £20, the interest thereof to be expended in the purchase of bibles and prayer books for distribution amongst the poor children of the parish. Ralph Wilbraham, by will bequeathed £50 to the poor of the parish of Wybunbury, but this charity is now lost. John Slade left £20, the interest to be given to the poor of the parish, which is probably included in the consolidated charities. John Hayward, or Heaward, by deed dated the 28th July, 1710, conveyed certain lands in the township of Shavington, upon trust, the rents and profits thereof to be applied to the education of 20 poor boys resident in the parish; and in case of there being any residue after paying the schooling of the said boys, the trustees are directed to distribute yearly the said residue amongst the poor of the township of Hunsterson on Christmas Day; the income of this charity, now £4 1s. 0d. is included in the consolidated charities, and is assigned to the girls' school at Wybunbury. The aggregate interest of the charities for distribution in kind and money is about £20 yearly. Charities not consolidated: W. R. Johnson, in 1873, left £1,000, the interest to be distributed to the poor in the purchase of coals and clothing. John Whittingham, in 1846, left £1,000, in trust, the interest to be distributed in bread and clothing to the poor of the parish in the months of November, December and January. Sir Thomas Delves, in 1727, directed his trustees to raise, within 16 years after his decease, the sum of £1,000 from certain lands &c. and that the same should be invested in the purchase of land, the profits and rents arising out of which to be applied to the education of poor children of the parish of Wybunbury and of Hunsterson in Doddington parish; this charity now produces £273 yearly; the County Council have part of this sum for education purposes. There are several other charities bequeathed to the township of Wybunbury, producing £27 yearly, which sums are distributed in kind and money to the poor. Sir Delves Louis Broughton bart. is lord of the manor and principal landowner. The soil is loamy; subsoil, marl; and is chiefly in pasture; wheat, barley, oats and turnips are also cultivated.
